Supervisors Want Re-study of Proposed Route of Norfolk Freeway Highway

Planning Director Mason Gamage told the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday that the county's planning commission was unable to recommend the route of the proposed Norfolk Freeway. The board agreed to suggest that the planned route be "re-studied."

One of the principal objections was that apparently no consideration had been given the heavy north-south traffic that will flow through the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel. Gamage suggested that the freeway route be relocated a few miles to the east of the proposed route.

In other actions, the board of supervisors named Horace A. Culpepper of Barretts Corner to the post of civil defense coordinator.

He will take office on July 1.

The supervisors approved a re-wording of its contracts with Norfolk hospitals dealing with the payment of hospital bills for medically indigent persons.

Previously the county's policy has been to pay hospital bills for those persons "on the welfare rolls."

A plea on the behalf of De Paul Hospital, presented to the board by Norfolk Judge Walter A. Page and Corporation Court Clerk William L. Prieur Jr., resulted in striking the words "on the welfare rolls" from the county's contracts with the hospitals.

Henceforth the county welfare board will investigate each claim by persons who ask free hospitalization on the grounds that they are medically indigent. The welfare board will certify the claim for payment or disapprove the application.

Each Monday the supervisors meet with county farmers and representatives of the Soil Conservation Service after which they approved SCS drainage projects in the Oakum Creek, Millidam Creek and Seaside Neck sections.

Approval was granted the director of public works to sign a renewal of the county's lease on Pungo Airfield.

A board spokesman said later that the county hoped to obtain title to 15 acres on the former Naval air facility within 60 days.

The facility has been declared surplus to the Navy's needs, the spokesman said.

Richard J. Weston, executive secretary to the board of supervisors, presented a report of a recent county jail inspection by the State Department of Welfare and Institutions.

"The jail was approved both as to its condition and method of operation," he said.

Ames Accuses GOP Administration Neglect of Farmer and Waste

State Senator E. Almer Ames told an enthusiastic Jefferson Day luncheon audience here Tuesday that the present administration in Washington has "delivered the worst blows to constitutional government and the rights of states in the 180 years of our history."

Senator Ames, representing the First District, was the principal speaker at the luncheon sponsored by the Women's Democratic Club of Princess Anne and Virginia Beach. The luncheon was held at the Princess Anne Country Club.

Ames attacked the present Republican administration in Washington for its failure to maintain our national defense and its utter disregard for the farmer and his problem. He pointed out that the present national administration sends rock-and-roll singers abroad at salaries sometimes higher than that of the President of the United States while supporting the reduction in veterans' benefits.

He predicted that a Democrat will be elected in 1960. The luncheon was attended by more than 200 Democrats.

Among the guests at the luncheon were Thomas M. Downing, candidate for the First District Congressional seat; Sidney S. Kellam, First District Democratic chairman; Harry B. Davis, delegate to the Virginia General Assembly from Princess Anne; and officers of Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach.

Civil Defense Post Filled by County Board

Princess Anne County will have a full-time assistant director of civilian defense after July 1.

The county's Board of Supervisors, meeting Monday, employed Horace A. Culpepper, a former special game warden, in that capacity. His appointment becomes effective July 1.

The board fixed the new official's salary at $4,200 per year with an expense allowance of $500 per year.

He will serve as an assistant to Ivan D. Mapp, who has directed civilian defense activities in the county in addition to his duties as Commissioner of Revenue.

Culpepper lives on Indian River road in the Kempsville Magisterial District.

Elected

Joe Crosswhite, Jr., above, who has been elected president of the Young Democratic Club of Princess Anne and Virginia Beach, Crosswhite is on the staff of the Princess Anne County of the Commissioner of the Revenue.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS mental illness is no longer hopeless, as evidenced by the increased rates of improvement and recovery in mental hospitals, and

WHEREAS recovery from mental illness is depended on early and proper treatment, and

WHEREAS many mental hospital patients are being denied the chance for recovery because mental hospitals lack adequate staff, equipment and medical supplies to provide all their patients with early and proper treatment, and

WHEREAS mental disorders can be checked in their early stages, and

WHEREAS the failure to provide early care, through mental health clinics, guidance services and mental health programs in schools and industry, results in severe illness and hospitalization for many, and

WHEREAS these conditions can be remedied by concerted action of the citizens of our city,

THEREFORE, I, Frank A Dusch, Mayor of City of Virginia Beach do hereby proclaim the week of April 27 to May 3 as Mental Health Week, and furthermore call upon the citizens of our city to help the mentally ill by working together with the local mental health association for improved care and treatment of mental hospital patients and for the creation of community mental health services for the prevention and early treatment of mental disorders.

Done under my hand and seal this 26 day of April, 1958.

Food Fair to Observe 38th Anniversary

Strikes Confidence Note With Plans for $60 Million Expansion Program.

Philadelphia—Food Fair Stores, Inc., launching a month-long observance today of its 38th anniversary in food retailing, disclosed that it was planning to invest approximately $60 million dollars in the next two years for the construction of between 90 and 100 large supermarkets.

Louis Stein, president of the retail food chain, said that the stepped-up expansion program reflects the company's strong confidence in the sound economic future of the nation. In its past fiscal year, which closed April 30, Food Fair opened 34 new markets, bringing the total to 309 units.

"We are convinced," Mr. Stein said in a message to Food Fair's 18,300 employes, "that the basic forces underlying our nation's constant growth are as impelling as ever. The temporary economic set-back has not altered nor diminished these forces."

Food Fair, Mr. Stein said, will continue its efforts to bring about even more efficient operations to keep the cost of food distribution down in the face of rising costs. These efforts, he said, are being reflected in still better merchandise values for consumers and in greater shopping convenience, services, and comfort.

The company was founded in 1928 by Samuel Friedland, now board chairman. In 1936, in the depths of the depression, Food Fair opened its pioneering supermarket with an investment of $150,000.

Today, Food Fair operates 206 supermarkets in eight states from Connecticut to Florida. It is the sixth largest supermarket chain in the nation.

Owens Elected President of Beach Jaycees

Cornelius B. Owens, an insurance company representative, has been elected president of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Owens, who was chosen as the leader of the local Jaycees for the next year, succeeds Rhae W. Adams, a local automobile dealer.

Other officers elected at a meeting held here Tuesday night include the following:

Edwin E. Spain Jr. and Edward T. Caton III, vice presidents; Jim W. Griffith, secretary; John S. Brock, treasurer, and J. T. Cheswhite Jr., Monroe Farmer, Ayler Holland, William L. McCoy and William P. Brothers, directors.

The newly elected officers will take office following an installation banquet June 7.

Adams, the retiring president of the local chapter, currently is a candidate for the presidency of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce. That office will be filled at the state-wide convention to be held in Roanoke May 30-June 1.

'Buck McIntosh' Comedy Role in Confederacy

Audiences from all parts of the country and of all ages will renew acquaintanceship with a real "old pro" of the American stage when they view Ned Crane's performance in the comic role of "Buck McIntosh" in the symphonic historical drama "The Confederacy," which opens in its own amphitheatre near Virginia Beach on July 1.

Theatre-goers everywhere have enjoyed Ned Crane performances since the years just preceding World War 1, when he first appeared on the New York stage and in the early-blooming movies, as a child actor. Since that time, Crane's contributions to the theatre have run the gamut from acting in every conceivable type of role, through direction and stage management, to stage design and play production.

He is remembered for appearances with such stars as Phil Silvers, Reza Bagland, Robert Alda, Abbott and Costello and Lou Leligen, former leading man for Sarah Bernhardt.

It is of interest to Tidewater theatre-goers that Ned Crane appeared on the local scene 18 years ago as an emergency fill-in at the Gaiety Theatre, famous Norfolk burlesque landmark, after having been the late Billy Minsky's stage manager on the metropolitan circuit for several seasons. Although

County Seeking Change in Care Of Ill Patients

A new policy for handling medically indigent county people in Norfolk hospitals will be undertaken by Princess Anne County.

The switch in policy resulted from a conference between the count's Board of Supervisors and a group of Norfolk hospital trustees and administrators Monday.

For the last several years, the county has refused to pay hospitalization for persons other than those on welfare relief rolls.

William L. Prieur, clerk of Corporation Court of Norfolk who headed the delegation, advised the board that such a policy was contrary to state law. A medically indigent person and one entitled to state hospital aid might not necessarily be indigent in the true sense of the word according to the statute's definition, Prieur said.

He urged the board to review its restrictions and to amend the policy to comform with the law.

Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab Jr. agreed with Prieur on the interpretation of the law, and recommended a change of policy.

As a result Mrs. Daniel Beasley, superintendent of the welfare department and administrator of state hospitalization for the county, was asked to screen individual cases and to use her judgment as to which should receive state aid.

Prieur said the Norfolk hospitals now have $14,000 in unpaid bills from Princess Anne County accumulated during the past three months, he added.

Educational Test Set for May 15

The General Educational Development Test which was due to have been given April 24 has been changed to Thursday, May 15 at 9 a.m. at the school board office. The testing date was postponed due to the fact there were so few applicants.

Anyone desiring to take this test should contact the School Board Office, fill out the blank and if found eligible, will be given the test on the above date.

Applicants who successfully complete this test will be given a certificate.

This certificate is in lieu of a high school diploma. Some colleges and industry accept this certificate in place of the high school diploma.

In order to take the examination the applicants must satisfy certain requirements which will be shown the applicant when he fills out the blank.

The School Board Office must secure the examination from the State Board of Education in Richmond. Therefore it is very necessary that you fill out blanks at once so that examination may be secured.

Final Plans for Pacific Ave. Improvement Are Approved

The last bottleneck in the revised plans for the improvement program for Pacific avenue, the interchange at the Cavalier Hotel property, has been cleared and bids on the work may be asked very shortly, according to Virginia Beach City Manager W. Russell Hatchett.

Word was received Wednesday, according to Hatchett, that the revised plans for the interchange have been tentatively approved by [illegible] Corporation has also agreed to the revised plans.

Hatchett stated Wednesday that upon receipt of the letter from the State Highway Department Wednesday he contacted members of the City Council, who unanimously approved the plans.

The City Manager felt that the work could be advertised for bids within a matter of weeks and that finally all obstacles to the improvement of Pacific avenue have been overcome. Hatchett was elated that the revised plans had been approved.

Young Democrats Give Support To Smith, Phillips and McChesney

The Young Democratic Club of Princess Anne and Virginia Beach has endorsed the candidacies of United States Senator Harry F. Byrd and the three incumbent city constitutional officers for the City of Virginia Beach, it was announced this week.

Along with the endorsement of Senator Byrd the group endorsed Lewis E. Smith for city treasurer; William H. Phillips for city commissioner of the revenue, and R.R. "Buddy" McChesney for city sergeant. All are candidates in the July 15 Democratic primary election.

The Young Democratic Club made its endorsement through a resolution which reads as follows:

WHEREAS, Senator Harry F. Byrd is unopposed in the Democratic Primary and will be the Democratic nominee for United States Senator at the November election, and,

WHEREAS, Lewis E. Smith, City Treasurer, William H. Phillips, City Commissioner of the Revenue and R. R. (Buddy) McChesney, City Sergeant, by the reason of the fact of being unopposed in the Democratic Primary and have been declared the Democratic nominees, and,

WHEREAS, because of the outstanding record of service to their community and to their State, we believe they are entitled to the support of not only the Democrats, but of all citizens interested in progressive and sound government.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the Young Democratic Club of Princess Anne-Virginia Beach heartily endorses these candidates in the November election.

The club also elected new officers that include Joe T. Crosswhite Jr., president; E. A. Culverhouse, first vice president; Horace A. Culpepper, second vice president; Donald Fantone, secretary, and A. M. Randolph, treasurer.

Pre-School Clinic At Oceana Tuesday

Oceana Elementary School will have its pre-school clinic for prospective first graders on Tuesday, May 6th at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium. Vaccination for small pox and D F T Booster shots will be available for those children who need them. Children may register for first grade at this time if they will reach their sixth birthday on or before October 1st, 1952. Birth certificates must be presented to verify birth date.

YOUNG GROUP TO WORK FOR THEIR ELECTION

Administration-Backed Candidates Get Strong Approval

A young men's group in Virginia Beach announced this week that they would support and work for the election of the city-administration backed City Council ticket in the forthcoming election for the Virginia Beach City Council to be held on June 10.

The group announced their intention to support and actively campaign for the election of Frank D. Tarrall Jr., Edward T. "Ned" Caton and John E. Fitzgerald Jr. in the form of a resolution adopted at a meeting of the group [illegible] several days ago.

The three city-administration backed candidates are being opposed by a slate of anti-administration aspirants to the City Council. The anti-administration ticket is made up of W. W. McClanan Jr., W. C. Everett and James E. Fridley.

The latest public announcement of the administration candidates by a group is the second such endorsement since the candidates announced that they would seek election.

[illegible] Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald for the announcement made by the three unopposed incumbent constitutional officers of the City of Virginia Beach.

City Treasurer Lewis E. [illegible] Commissioner of the Revenue William H. Phillips and City Sergeant R. R. McChesney stated in their announcement last week that they would support Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald for the Virginia Beach City Council seats at stake in the June 10 election.

The resolution adopted by the young voters group supporting Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald was signed by Alfred Smith, chairman; Robert Derring, vice chairman, and W. B. Hall Jr., secretary.

The resolution reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, there will be held in the City of Virginia Beach on June 10, 1958, an election, at which election three members of the City Council are to be elected, and,

WHEREAS, we, a group of young men of the City of Virginia Beach, have considered the qualification of all of the candidates and,

WHEREAS, over a period of years Frank D. Tarrall Jr. and John E. Fitzgerald Jr., two of the candidates for City Council, have fostered and supported the interest and welfare of the young people of the City of Virginia Beach in many, many ways, and,

WHEREAS, they have running on the ticket with them a young attorney of our City, Edward T. Caton III, who naturally has the interest of young people at heart, and,

WHEREAS, these candidates are ticket supported by the City Administration, under which administration young men have played an active part and a large number have been employed in the City government,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we a group of young men of the City of Virginia Beach do organize ourselves together for the purpose of visiting the people of the City of Virginia Beach about these three candidates and the wonderful work which they have done in the administration, young men believing it to be the best interest of all of the people of the City of Virginia Beach to support them in the coming election."

Purchasing Agents Holds State Meet In Richmond

Robert E. Shillady, of Boston, president of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, was the principal speaker at the spring meeting of the Old Dominion Purchasing Agents Association, Inc., held in Richmond, April 18 and 19.

Shillady, who is general purchasing agent of New England Electric System Companies, Boston, spoke following a banquet at 7:30 p.m. at Hotel John Marshall on Friday, April 18. He discussed the "Search for Values" and the objectives and activities of the National Association of Purchasing Agents (NAPA) of which the Virginia association is an affiliate.

Following registration in the lobby of Hotel John Marshall on the Friday morning, April 18, Robert Wier III, of the Hercules Powder Company, Inc., Wilmington, Del., spoke on "NAPA Organization." His talk was followed by a tour of the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company plant, election of officers for 1958-59, and committee meetings.

Saturday's program included a business meeting beginning at 9:30 a.m.; an address by Hal Jones Jr., of the General Electric Company's Industrial control department, Roanoke, on "Value Analysis and Value Control"; and an open discussion for which Douglas W. Laird, of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, Richmond, was the moderator. A meeting of new and outgoing officers and directors concluded the meeting.

The newly elected officers are: M. E. Robinett, Bristol Steel and Iron Works, Inc., Bristol, Virginia, president; E. C. Johnston, James Lees and Sons Company, Glasgow, Virginia, first vice president; Frank M. Butler, Albemarle Paper Company, Richmond, Virginia, second vice president; Miss Gladys M. Atkins, State-Planters Bank of Commerce and Trusts, Richmond, Virginia, treasurer; T. W. Noel, James McGraw, Inc., Richmond, Virginia, secretary; R. E. Misfeldt, Celanese Corporation of America, Narrows, Virginia, national director.

Life Magazine Publishes Work by M. H. Ferrell Jr.

"The Collegiate Spring Spree" in this week's issue of "Life Magazine" is by none other than Mallory H. Ferrell Jr., of Virginia Beach.

Mallory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mallory H. Ferrell Sr., of 1208 Pinewood road, Linkhorn Park, Virginia Beach.

He graduated form Cradock High School in June, 1953, and entered VPI in the fall of 1954. After a year at VPI he entered the University of Miami in order to concentrate his studies in the field of radio, television production and journalism.

He is no stranger in this field as his many friends will remember several of his featured articles in the local papers. During his high school years he free-lanced in photography and journalism and during his college vacations he served as staff photographer with the Virginian-Pilot.

This year promises to be his busiest, as he is now a senior at the University, is on the Dean's list, is a member of the Air Force ROTC with rank of captain in the Cadet Corps and he has been one of six cadet officers to have received flight instruction and is now completing his training for a private license.

Among his extra curricula activities he is treasurer of his fraternity, picture editor of Temple Magazine, one of the Nation's top college publications, and for the past several weeks has been producing a television show over one of the local Miami stations and has recently completed a television show over the Southern States on the CBS Network.

Prior to his work for pictures in Life Magazine, he has had numerous pictures published by the Associated Press and other world-wide publications. He has been offered some very nice positions with a number of magazines but has declined in order to further his education.

He has been instructed to report on April 28, 1958, with the rank of Lieutenant for regular Air Force duties as a pilot.

Agrifables

By H. H. BRANNEN

Once there was a mischievous bull. In the words of the old hen who hatched out the chicken hawk, "He was a bad egg." He loved such boisterous games as "bulldozer" in which he disrespected fences and tromped gloriously over cornfields.

A farmer who had suffered one of the bull's depredations swore out a warrant and the beast was arrested for juvenile delinquency. Hailed before a prudent magistrate, who remembered the bull's kinsmen and their sloppy browsing habits in china shops, the trial was held outside and the indignant bull tied to a tree. There was a full scale tilt replete with judge, jury, lawyers and witnesses, lasting all day. The bull, found guilty and fined, proved to be financially broke. The problem of how he would pay his fine was resolved by butchering the animal and using the meat as settlement. A barbecue in behalf of and including the bull ensued to delight the appetites of judge, jury, lawyers and general public.

The famous bull trial was argued, however, for years, as many felt the trial was not fair since the judge neglected to appoint an interpreter for the bull. Nevertheless, this is a good case, tried and true, of the law stepping in, about 50 years ago, and disposing of one surplus bull.

More surplus bulls were to come later, in 1953 and 1956 to be more exact, when cattle playfully stampeded the market, cutting their own colective pribe throats. Each time, price supports were courted in the parlor while old lady controls peeped expectantly at the romance through the portieres from the secret confines of the kitchen. However, the cattle industry did not marry into the control family and missed the price-support honeymoon and accompanying mother-in-law. By intensive sales promotion and emergency measures, markets were expanded and prices recovered. Just goes to show you can be self-supporting without marrying till death do you part.

This year began with nearly three million less cattle than the peak of 1956 and about a half million below 1957. Prices are expected to be well sustained for several years. The livestock industry, in keeping with the do-it-yourself trend, has taken steps to get its house in order.

Moral? A man who can walk should not lean upon a cane, lest the cane become a crutch, the crutch a bed, the bed a casket.

Young Men Make a Choice

A group of young men of this community this week took a look at the local political picture in general and the forthcoming city council election in particular and announced in the form of a resolution that they would support the city administration-backed council ticket of Frank D. Tarrall, Jr. Edward T. (Ned) Caton, III and John E. Fitzgerald, Jr. The young men's group not only pledged their support to these candidates, but stated that they would work for their election.

The young men of this group have "no ax to grind" and therefore their unqualified support of the administration-backed ticket of Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald takes on an added significance. It is a wholesome expression from the younger voters in this community that they approve of the progressive administration of the city's affairs that has been carried forward by the civic leaders who are now supporting Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald for the three council seats at stake in the June 10 election.

The group organized for the purpose of working for the election of the administration-backed council ticket and it is the second public endorsement of the Tarrall-Caton-Fitzgerald ticket in the current campaign. The first public expression of support for these candidates came from the incumbent consitutional officers for the City of Virginia Beach, who have no opposition for their respective offices in the July 15 primary election. The three officers, City Treasurer Lewis E. Smith, City Commissioner of the Revenue William H. Phillips and City Sergeant R. R. "Buddy" McChesney, stated when they announced last month that they would seek re-election that they would support the candidacies of Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald.

Endorsement of these candidates by the Young Men's group would indicate that this group possesses a deep appreciation of the candidates and the fact that they are business men who also appreciate young man's views. It is well known by some that Frank Tarrall has devoted much time to the program of the Virginia Beach High School and served as head of the stadium committee there. He has also sponsored the high school band in the annual Oyster Bowl parade and football game for the past two years.

Many citizens here are well aware of the work that John Fitzgerald has done for the youth of this community. It is probably less known that Fitzgerald has provided the means for many youngsters to further their education when without his aid their education would have stopped.

Ned Caton is a graduate of the lifeguard patrol here at Virginia Beach and is a "beach boy" at heart. He is an energetic 30-year old attorney today and knows the views of the young men of this community.

Some of these facts no doubt prompted the Young Men's group to organize for the election of Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald. The candidates can be proud of this support and we, as a community, can be thankful that we have an opportunity to elect men of this type to conduct the affairs of our city.

The Tide Is Turning, But . . .

Recent news about the fight against mental illness has been encouraging indeed. More mentally ill patients are recovering. More research into the cause, prevention and cure of mental illness is getting underway. More communities are providing facilities for early detection, early treatment and rehabilitation.

We can safely say that the tide is beginning to turn in the fight against mental illness. But, as we rejoice, let us also remember that there is no massive breakthrough yet. The gains are real, but they are small. Mental illness still remains the nation's number 1 health problem.

There are still 750,000 patients in our mental hospitals, with thousands more coming all the time. There are still 16,000,000 other Americans suffering from some form of mental disorder and in need of psychiatric care. There are still tens of thousands of recovered mental patients in danger of breaking down again because they cannot get a welcome, a home and a job.

Fortunately for the people of this state, and of the entire nation, 700 affiliates of the National Association for Mental Health are on the job, carrying on a continued assault against mental illness and work to relieve the plight of the mentally ill.

During Mental Health Week, April 27th to May 3rd, the National Association for Mental Health is attempting to mobilize citizen interest and action in behalf of the mentally ill who have been neglected so long. If there is a mental health association in your community get in touch with it to find out what you can do. If your community does not have a local mental health association, we strongly recommend that you make "mental illness" the subject of the next meeting of the organization to which you belong, and that your organization go on record in behalf of a fair break for the mentally ill. Remember, with your help, the mentally ill can come back.

One Way to Avoid a Gas Tax Hike

The federal-aid highway bill promises to produce a great deal of confusion in Virginia's road construction program. So much federal money will be forthcoming that the State will have difficulty matching the grants with its present road revenue.

A proposal for a 1-cent increase in the 6-cent gasoline tax has found support in some quarters. Governor Almond expects the real pinch to come in the second year of the 1958-60 biennium. In the meantime, he said, there is "no reason for getting panicky." He would "weigh the situation" carefully before even thinking of a special session of the Legislature to consider a hike in the gasoline tax.

Without a tax increase it is feared that Virginia will be forced to make a choice between loss of federal allocations for its interstate road projects and neglecting its primary and secondary highway needs.

One possible method of avoiding such a dilemma seems to have received scant attention. This has to do with an array of diversions and charges upon the road fund to support services having, in some cases, little relation to road building.

It is estimated that a 1-cent boost in the gasoline tax would yield an additional $12,000,000 a year in revenue. That is roughly equivalent to the amount of diversions, depletions, etc., which the highway fund is required to bear. Some of these depletions can be justified as having a connection with roads. Others cannot be excused on that score, being properly chargeable to general revenues of the State.

Before loading additional taxes on the already burdened highway user, the Legislature ought to give serious attention to stopping raids on the highway fund. This is something the lawmakers have always righteously deplored without doing anything to halt it.

After the Wedding

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Albin R. Mailhes,
Virginia Beach Sun-News,
Virginia Beach, Va.
Dear Mr. Mailhes:

Mrs. Tompkins has asked me to write and thank you so much for the very nice editorial on cancer that you did for last week's paper. So few people realize the importance of research in fighting this dread disease.

We always appreciate any publicity in the Sun-News, since newspapers seem to reach more people than any other medium.

Thanks again for the article.

Sincerely yours,
Clark Brown,
Executive Secretary

Confederacy

Ned arrived for this impromptu appearance without even a suitcase, he has been a permanent part of the Norfolk scene ever since. Currently self-styled straight man, light comedian and jack-of-all-trades at the Gaiety Theatre, Crane has been a familiar figure to nearly two decades of servicemen stationed in the shoreside area, both on permanent and temporary status.

Others are familiar with Ned Crane's work in many leading roles with the Theatre-Go-Round at Virginia Beach during the past two seasons. It is noteworthy that, while press notices of Theatre-Go-Round productions have not always been enthusiastic, one can come these reviews without finding anything less than "rave" criticisms of Crane's performances. He will be particularly remembered for his brilliant work in "Mr. Roberts," "The Loud Red Patrick," "The Solid Gold Cadillac" and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter."

Ned Crane was born in Brooklyn, New York, on the spot which has been patrolled by Big League left fielders for these many years in Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers until this season. The small twinkling man whose appearance belies his forty years in the American Theatre, makes his home at 9219 Hickory Street in Norfolk and also operates a studio for Murals and Interior Decorating at 304 Browning Street in the same city.

War Vets Claims Service Officer Here Thursday

On Thursday, May 8, 1958, there will be a service officer available at Community House, 18th and Arctic avenue for vets and their survivors, between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. As usual, this trip is made by T. A. Moore on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays monthly.

Moore handles claims and problems as an agent for the Virginia State Division of War Veterans' Claims. Aid is free and by a trained and informed representative.

The division is under Harry F. Carper Jr., located in VA building in Roanoke; operating under Attorney General Albertis S. Harrison Jr., Virginia Dept. of Law.

Moore's office in Norfolk is at McKevitt Building, 203 City Hall avenue—phone MAdison 2-9671.

TELLURIAN PASADISE

An Individual's Impression of Virginia Beach

By G. CAMPBELL CHASE

Certainly everyone, at one time or another has wondered if a town or city could exist that had the charm and fascination of a large metropolis and yet could, at the same time, boast the warmth, character, and simple amenity of a small town.

Such a place is Virginia Beach! In two years of living as "the person" I realized the extent and variety of its character, the depth and warmth of its personality; for indeed it has both a character and a personality all of its own.

In my vocation I met, at one time or another, a representative of every walk of life and noticed how each, regardless of station, played an integral, contributive role in the beach's pattern of living. Quite early I noticed the small, compounded stereotypers that prevail and was impressed by its perennial unsophistication. Women of all ages frequent the stores and shops in the dead of winter clad in sweaters and bermuda shorts not in open contempt for convention and properness, but rather in a mutual endeavor to enjoy casual and unhurried living. Such informality would be unheard of in many downtown districts, a point we shall go into later.

It would be, somehow, almost disheartening to try and impress the resort with the beach's numerous wealthy and financially prominent residents as such for their contributive value to its society lies not in their social status although the monetary medium can confer its own esteem as individuals and personalities. I discovered quite the beautiful homes found in Sandbank Point, North Alanton, Linkhorn Park, Linkhorn Bay Colony—and the other areas which are considered among the finer—are inhabited by some of the most sanguine, ingenuous people I have ever met. They are neither unfriendly nor aloof, yet they possess a dignity and poise that cannot be denied. There can be no disputing the contagion of gracious, hospitable, Southern living; for while a lot of new permanent residents of the Beach are from other parts of the country (some even Yankees) they have adopted the mode of living that is peculiar to this interesting little town as their own and can be detected only by the phonetical characteristics of their speech.

Geographically the area considered part of the "Beach" (while technically not in its city limits) is quite vast. From the gates of Fort Story at the northern end of the Beach to the virtually undeveloped stretch of sand known as Croatan Beach at its southern extremity is a good five miles—quite an extensive parcel of sand—all of it ideal for bathing.

The folks that live on Great Neck Road and in the various settlements that have sprung up along its meandering course: Great Neck Manor, Great Neck Estates, Woodhurst Homes, and North Alanton, proudly consider themselves residents of the Beach albeit their mail is processed through the London Bridge Post Office. Some consider the western boundary of the Beach to reach even beyond this point. As a matter of fact, Virginia Beach's telephone exchange reaches just east of Pine Tree Inn on Virginia Beach Boulevard, and all the way to the Lynnhaven or Lesner Bridge on Shore Drive. So there is roughly 30 square miles of beautiful country to be reckoned with by an uninformed observer who flippantly refers to the Beach as "a mere dot on the map."

Both the topographic and atmospheric character of this formidable hunk of Tidewater varies. From the hotel studded boardwalk on the ocean front, where four months out of twelve one can revel in the boisterous cacophony of rolling combers, merry making vacationists, and traffic laden Atlantic Avenue to the pine-peppered shores of quiescent Linkhorn Bay—where after dark the splash of a jumping mullet or the hooting of an owl can be heard for a quarter of a mile in any season—is just a few minutes drive and these extremes of atmosphere are indicative of many to be found at Virginia Beach.

The stately Cavalier Hotel and its Beach Club just across the street have traditionally for many years been favored haunts of epicurean vacationists—yet amid the most obstreperous clamor of an August weekend's beach party, any festivities, quiet living in the sedate dwellings on Cavalier, Pocahontas and Raleigh Drives (in the very shadow of the hotel) remains unperturbed.

Another point of intrigue is the existence of the Princess Anne Country Club in a location so close to the ocean front that the sight and sound of the breakers play a part in the Club's atmosphere. From its hilltop site just a few hundred yards from the ocean one can look toward the waterfront and the activity of the main thoroughfare with a genuine feeling of detachment. For environed in this elegant establishment with its spacious grounds, excellent golf course, new swimming pool, and well-kept tennis courts; one feels a spell tantamount to that of a rustic mountain lodge and finds the rumble of the heavy surf a pleasant paradox.

As a city country club with Bermudian overtones as to name as well as the many of its members by its location and various activities it is truly a unique institution. Although it is relatively young as clubs go, it has already established a reputation for fine food and entertainment. Many a night during the summer months one can see the parking area filled with cars from all over the state as well as Virginia Beach's own residents who have come to dine and dance to the music of one of the many name bands that play there.

As a matter of fact, the Princess Anne Country Club is a many splendored thing. Its golf course is a challenge to the skill of the most proficient golfer, yet it is not so difficult that the duffer cannot enjoy a round of golf. Its tennis courts are always in use, and its swimming pool is a favorite rendezvous for the younger set. Its dining room is the scene of many a delightful luncheon or dinner party, and its cocktail lounge is a favorite beach resort for many of the local residents as well as visitors from other localities.

Many of the permanent residents of the Beach are retired military personnel who have chosen the Beach as their home simply because it appeals to them as a place to live. Many people journey to Norfolk and Portsmouth and other points 30 to 40 miles distant to their places of work and relinquish the hour or so commuting time each day gladly, accepting it as a meager price to pay for the privilege of living in a mundane Utopia where the privacy of country living is seasoned with the convenience of city life. For despite its diminutive proportions the Beach boasts many modern shops and stores and makes a trip "to the city" only an occasional necessity. Banks, department stores, super markets, and businesses of all sorts found in Norfolk have branch establishments in this bustling little city by the sea which offers the same accommodating services as their parent enterprises.

Because of its geographic location, the Beach is not visited by anyone unless they specifically want to go there. It is not a crossroads town,—is not on the way or en route to any place hence it is not, like other cities, plagued by the curse of vagrant transients "just passing through" who sometimes remain for days—even weeks—and lower the general moral and social standard of a town.

I have never heard incredulity expressed by even a short term vacation visitor to the Beach when I explained that when the hotels close their doors, the umbrellas are stored away, the chaotic clamor of traffic assumes some semblance of normalcy and the population shrinks by two thirds, one can lie on the beach sans benefit of the classic sun reader undergo a quiet transition to a quieter more purposeful tempo that has even more room for that unimpeded feeling of relaxation that nature made so much for granted by the vacationist—the ocean.

Even one with the remotest of financial interests will quickly sense the magnitude part the ocean plays in the Co. season atmosphere of the Beach. For though the water never becomes uncomfortably cold even in winter, [illegible] and solitude. Anyone who has visited the beach during a midwinter [illegible] will easily attest to the truth of this statement. Many persons make it a point to walk the boardwalk and bi-the-sea-shore which gives an opportunity to breathe deeply the clear ozone and iodine from the waves and to watch the [illegible] as it varies [illegible] by many [illegible] from the [illegible] to the [illegible] and [illegible] Many [illegible] have [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

BAYSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH SOUTHERN CONVENTION

Mrs. D. B. Smith Jr., counselor for the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Bayside Christian Church accompanied two delegates from the church, Billy Brooks and Erma Jean Brickhouse, to the Southern Convention of Pilgrim Fellowships which met at Mooneion Conference Center of Congregational-Christian Churches, located at Elon College, N.C.

Each Congregational-Christian Church was allowed two delegates and one counselor.

The convention opened with registration Friday night, April 18, at 7:00 p.m. and adjourned Sunday afternoon the 20th. The theme of the convention was "I Will Search My Soul."

The workshop were conducted by Mrs. Jack Akin—head of Missions and Miss Ruth Dunn—projects.

During the business sessions evaluation of the past years work was given and future plans were made. Reports were given from all conventions and election of new officers for the coming year was held.

Saturday night the group went to Elon College to hear the "Pilgrims Fellowship choir" from Manhasset, N.Y. with sixty-five voices. This choir will tour parts of Europe in the summer, giving concerts.

Sunday following the morning worship service installation of new officers was held.

Some of the speakers for the convention were:

Dr. W. T. Scott, superintendent of the Southern Convention; Rev. W. J. Andes, chairman of Christian Education, Southern Convention; Rev. John S. Groves, director Mooneion Summer Conference and professor at Elon College.

Louis Wilkins, Elon College senior, had charge of all the Vesper Services following his graduation in June he will go to Turkey as a missionary preacher.

Also present at the convention were delegates from the Evangical-Reformed Church, who have just in the past six months merged with the Congregational-Christians. Altogether 167 delegates from Virginia and North Carolina attended the convention.

According to Mrs. Smith, she and her group from Bayside visited the Congregational-Christian Church Orphanage at Elon. There are three large buildings in the Orphanage composed of small children, teenagers and one building for the boys. The Orphanage is located on a large farm and they raise all their own food. The Bayside group was very much impressed with the work which is going on here and it was a new experience for some of them.

BAYSIDE PILGRIM'S FELLOWSHIP STARTS NEW PROJECT

Mrs. D. B. Smith Jr., adult counselor for the Pilgrim's Fellowship of the Bayside Christian Church reports that her group are starting a new project Sunday night, May 4.

Their project will be to "make things with their hands." These handmade articles will be sold in the fall at the regular church bazaar.

Among the handmade items will be all sizes of woven baskets, place mats, etc. This project will be held in connection with their regular Sunday night meetings.

Tuesday night, April 29, the Southern Convention will meet at the Christian Temple, Norfolk. Along with the Pilgrim Fellowship will be the Laymen's Fellowship and the Woman's Fellowship.

The youth will hold their banquet at the Knox Presbyterian Church and will then go back to the Christian Temple for the business session where all of the fellowships will meet together. Fifteen members from the Bayside Christian Church will attend this meeting.

The following officers were elected and installed at the April meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club held at the Pine Tree Inn on April 14:

President, Mrs. Flo White; first vice president, Mrs. Agnes Mabry; second vice president, Mrs Mary Kane; recording secretary, Miss Margaret Yeoman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Julia Rust; treasurer, Mrs. Rosalie Wohlfarth.

Mrs. White, a charter member of the club, has served as first vice president and program chairman for the past two years. She was for several years cafeteria manager at Virginia Beach High School, which position she resigned, to accept a secretarial position at Oceana Naval Air Station.

Mrs. White is the wife of Mr. Mark White, 36th street, Virginia Beach, and the mother of Miss Judy White, a senior at Virginia Beach High, and Mr. Mark White Jr., a student at VPI.

Preceeding the installation, Miss Ruth Newell, the retiring president, was presented a past president's pin and a silver tray in recognition of her two years service to the club.

NOBODY MADE A NICKEL
Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.
But painted it was!
That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!
But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable . . .
You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The National Outlook

By Ralph Robby

There will be a tax bill in this session of Congress, otherwise the corporation tax drops from 52 per cent to 47 per cent and various of the war time excise taxes rates decline. There is not a chance that this will be permitted. The question is whether tax action will be limited to these extensions or include some other badly needed changes and rate reforms.

The Administration, or at least certain important members, have cooled off substantially on tax reform in the past two or three weeks. Members of Congress, while home for Easter recess, found less public demand for tax action than had been anticipated. This does not mean that there can not be tax rate reform in this session of Congress, but it does mean that such reform can no longer be taken for granted.

Cooling off by members of the Administration results from the hope and belief that the current recession is beginning to 'bottom out', plus the insistence that more time is needed to see results of action already taken. Evidence of a 'bottoming out' is hard to come by and not too conclusive. It includes:

1. Unemployment in March increased by only 25,000 and employment was up by 325,000. To the optimists these were encouraging figures. To the pessimists, however, they revealed further trouble, since March normally shows not only an increase in employment but also a decrease in unemployment.

2. Retail sales declined but the decline was not as large as many had feared. Specifically March sales were only one per cent below February, which is a smaller decline than that from January to February. Department store sales for the week ending April 5 were 11 per cent above the comparable week a year earlier.

3. Personal incomes, on an annual basis, fell $300 million in March, which is smaller than the $1.9 billion drop for the month before.

4. Government spending is on the way up and the increase will be substantial in terms of dollars. The effects of this have not yet worked their way into the business trend and it is felt to be the better part of wisdom to give them time. Also there are two large spending bills on the President's desk—a Rivers and Harbors bill and an increased Road Expenditure bill. Put all this on top of a rising trend in state and local spending and it is felt that if government spending will turn the economy around this should be sufficient.

Whether these facts, and various other less important ones, justify holding back on positive action on the tax front is a matter for debate. The AFL-CIO, Senator Paul Douglas, the National Planning Association, and various others are firmly of the opinion that the economy still is on the downgrade and that there should be a tax reduction limited to increasing the buying power of those in lower income brackets.

President Eisenhower, in contrast, sees "no need for emergency action now." In this view he is joined by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Treasury Anderson. Members of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors are inclined to take somewhat the same position, but members of the President's Council of Economic Advisors are a bit more inclined to look with favor upon early tax action, on the ground that the danger of inflation is too small, at least at the moment, to justify much delay.

My personal view is that the Council of Economic Advisors is most nearly correct in its appraisal. If it will take the final step and say that what we need is income tax rate reform it will be on completely firm ground. By this we mean that while there is some evidence the rate of business decline is slowing down, there still is so much evidence of an unfavorable character, and income tax rate reform is so badly needed, that there can be no real justification for delay. Further, what we need is action, not to increase buying power, but to increase savings and the incentive to invest.

The only argument against such a program is that we have been on a capital expenditure boom and have carried our productive capacity to the point where in almost all our major industries today there is the ability to turn out more goods than can be sold at current prices. The trouble with that argument is that the principal reason we have unused capacity today is that, as a result of wages having been increased so much faster than productivity, costs of production have been driven so high that prices have to be above what the public wants to pay.

The cure for this situation is more investment, for the fact is that, in spite of the enormous amounts which have been invested in plant and equipment, we have scarcely made a start on what can be done through machinery to bring down costs. By income tax rate reform, and holding wages, we can turn the economy around and get back to a sustainable upward trend, and we can do this without inflation.

PHONE GYpsy 7-1168

THE GARDEN CLUB WILL MEET

The regular meeting of the Garden Club of Aragona Village will be held on Tuesday, May 6, 1:00 p.m. at Dellhaven Gardens. Mrs. Edna Tate, program chairman, announces that there will be a Sarah Coventry jewelry and fashion show.

Officers for the coming year will be elected. Mrs. Bernice McCarthy, chairman of the nominating committee, will submit the following slate for consideration by the club:

For president, Mrs. Edna Tate; first vice president, Mrs. Peggy Womble; second vice president, Mrs. Marianne Sneed; recording secretary, Mrs. Betty Norton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mildred Krohne, and treasurer, Mrs. Stephie Davis.

Mrs. Richard Weavrand and her committee will serve refreshments. Presiding at the meeting will be the president, Mrs. John J. Finn.

THE CIVIC LEAGUE

On Wednesday, April 23 a board meeting of the Civic League of Aragona Village was held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Lunt. Mr. Ernest Sommer, president, presided. Final plans were made for the banquet which will be held on May 17 for members of the league. Mrs. Chris Wright, chairman of the membership committee, reported on the progress her committee is making in distributing a welcome pamphlet prepared by the league for new members of the community. It was also decided that with the May issue of "The Village News" a spring clean-up drive would be initiated.

The board authorized an expenditure for a Pack Flag for Cub Pack 379 which is sponsored by the Civic League.

Also on April 23 a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Virginia Karaska on Trots Lane of all participants in the Jolie Talent Revue.

CHRIST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Mr. Yorke Phaar announces that on Sunday, May 4 a Holy Communion Service will be held at 11:00 a.m.

It was also announced that Christ Presbyterian Church will hold a church school clinic on May 9th, 10th and 11th at the church. This will be an educational study of Sunday School led by clinical consultant, Miss Nancy E. Matthias of Richmond, Va. She is assistant to the regional director of religious education in the Presbyterian Church for the Synod of Virginia.

Plans have been made for the summer vacation Bible School and the departmental superintendents will be as follows:

Kindergarten, Mrs. Robert A. Moody; primary department, Mrs. Ray R. Rowley; junior department, Mrs. Ira B. Dwyer; pioneers, Mrs. Rexford Evans

These superintendents have attended church school clinics sponsored by the Norfolk Presbytery which gives special training in the various departments.

Newcomers welcomed into the church are Mr. and Mrs. Louis [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hemmins and Buddy Boslon.

The women of the church will hold their regular board meeting on May 1, 10:00 a.m. A meeting of Circle Three will be held on Thursday, May 8, 10:00 a.m. at the home of Mrs. John Scalon, 3084 Adams road. Discussion leader will be Mrs. Charles Myers.

GIRL SCOUTS OF THE VILLAGE

Brownies of Troop 561, under the leadership of Mrs. E. O. Fraser, have welcomed a new scout, JoAnne Spain.

The Girls of Scout Troop 583 recently enjoyed a visit to St. Mary's Infant Home in Norfolk. They were accompanied by their Troop Leader, Mrs. Glen Perkins, Mrs. Ray Doucette and Mrs. G. G. Walker.

The girls also visited the Portsmouth Naval Hospital to take Easter presents and a little cheer to the wards. However, it proved a very happy turn-out for the girls.

The sellers gave the girls a party with Easter baskets, an egg hunt and prizes!

Lt. Commander Earl Hansen escorted the girls.

Mrs. Glen Perkins and Mrs. Velma Dwyer, leader of Troop 476 spent the week end of April 26 at Camp Matoaka which completes their basic training course for Brownie leaders.

BOY SCOUT CAMP OUT

Twenty members of Boy Scout Troop 379 enjoyed a camp out at Camp Waters, near Jamestown, Va. The boys left on Saturday morning accompanied by Assistant Scoutmaster Chastain and Woody, and committeeman Goasman. Commander Blake Moranville, also an assistant scoutmaster, joined the group on Saturday.

The boys visited the Jamestown Festival area. The purpose of the trip was for advancement in scouting skills according to Mr. James Vaughan, committee chairman. According to the boys, it was for the good fun they had, too!

ARAGONA SCHOOL NEWS

Bill Liles reports that Mrs. Anne West's fifth grade class enjoyed a field trip to the Norfolk Museum on Tuesday, April 22 where they inspected the exhibit of Children's Art.

They also took a guided tour of the College of William and Mary. Accompanying the class were:

Mrs. Earl Hansen, Mrs. R. J. Doucette, Mrs. L. R. Sapp, Mrs. K. R. Allen and Mrs. G. G. Walker.

The next trip planned for this fifth grade will be on May 14 when they travel to Gloucester, Va., to visit the Virginia Fisheries. Mrs. West has also planned a Language Arts Contest for her class.

Compositions will be written on the rules of certain competitive games such as soft ball or kickball, and the writer of the winning composition will be the new physical education group leader for the room.

Winner of the fifth grade spelling bee was Richard Sisley, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Sisley, 1125 Sirine avenue. Four classes competed and Richard, the winner, is a member of Mrs. West's fifth grade.

ARAGONA P-TA HOLDS MEETING

The regular meeting of the Aragona Parent-Teacher Association; held on Tuesday, April 22 was opened with a ceremony conducted by Scout Troop 379. Mr. J. O. Stancil, president, presided and gave an extensive report on the District meeting which he and several others had attended the previous week. Mr. Eliot Land, principal, announced that a pre-school clinic will be held on May 16, 1:00 p.m. at the school and parents with birth certificates will be needed that day.

Mr. Stancil appointed two new committees:

Mr. George Stoneham will serve as chairman of the auditing committee with Mr. Lord and Mr. Lombardo helping him. Members of the nominating committee will be Mrs. George Jenson, Mrs. George Stoneham, Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. T. A. Moran, chairman.

Tickets were drawn to determine winners in the association's fund raising rafle and two members of the community were among the winners: Mrs. J. W. Plasimmons, 1136 Tyson road and Mrs. D. McCleeky, 1001 Kenneth road.

A safety film entitled Chain Reaction was shown as part of the overall safety program which will be carried on more extensively next year under a special committee.

The winner of the attendance pennant was Mrs. Yorke Phaar's sixth grade.

ST. GREGORY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Women's Club of St. Gregory's will meet on Tuesday, May 6, 8:00 p.m. in the Aragona School. Guest speaker for the meeting will be Mr. Frederick Stark, a local attorney, who will speak on the Responsibility of the Lay People and the Catholic Family. President of the Club is Mrs. J. M. Scarborough.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. N. A. Castruccio, Mrs. J. Klemewesch, Mrs. J. C. Langpery, Mrs. P. I. Lavurdure and Mrs. Scarborough.

The club has also planned a game party to be held on May 13 at Baxter's Barn in Kempsville.

CUB PACK 379 MEETS

The Pack meeting for April was held on Friday the 25th in the Aragona School under the leadership of Mr. Carl Tignor, cubmaster.

Police officer Smith was guest speaker for the evening and talked to the boys about highway safety and the proper handling of a gun.

The conclusion was that the safe way for a boy to handle a gun is never.

After a skit by Den 4 awards were received by the following scouts:

James Baumeister received a denner stripe and William Peele Jr., an assistant denner stripe. A bear badge, one gold arrow point and one silver point were awarded Allen Martin.

Warren Smith won his wolf badge, one gold and one silver arrow point. Two silver and one gold arrow point for the wolf badge were awarded to Ronald Lastowski. A one-year service pin was won by David Lewis.

Mr. Tignor led the group in scout songs and asked each Den to prepare a short talk on "Why I Became a Scout?" The winner of the contest was to have the honor of being the first Den to be served refreshments! However, the judges claimed a tie since all the reasons were so good! The next meeting of the Pack will be held on May 16 at the school. This will be the running of the Pinewood Derby.

Two members joined the Pack committee. Mr. Bricker will become the Webelos Den leader and Mrs. W. E. Kieth, 1133 Tyson road will now serve as secretary and membership chairman.

BALL TEAM FORMED

After several meetings and practice play two teams were formed for the Little League activity for the coming season. There will be one Midget team and one junior team in play. The other boys who appeared for tryouts or who are interested in playing ball this summer will form the Cub League and as many teams is necessary will be chosen to insure a place for everyone. These teams will compete among themselves for teh final championship play. Anyone seeking information may call Mr. Carl Tygnor, GY 7-1746.

Also organized is a men's soft ball team and plans for a girls' team are being laid. So anyone who thrills to the cry "Play Ball" will be able to participate in the Village ball games this summer!

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wall, 3120 Teets Lane, on the birth of a daughter at the Norfolk General Hospital.

Boardwalk Art Show Names Co-Chairmen

Mrs J. Douglas Hubard and Miss Ruth Epperson have been appointed co-chairmen of the Third Annual Boardwalk Art Show, according to Mrs. Bradon Vandevanter, president of the sponsoring organization, the Virginia Beach Art Association.

At an organizational meeting held in the home of Mrs. Hubard, the warmth of summer sun and balmy breezes from the blue Atlantic were reflected in the enthusiasm of the following committee chairmen:

Secretary, Mrs. J. Wilcox Dunn Jr.; publicity director, Mrs. Gretchen Hanger; Mrs. Charles Wertz and Mrs. William R. Kane, newspapers; Mrs. Leo Hoarty, Mr. Lon Beckman, and Mrs. T. P. James for television and radio; Mrs. Laura Lamb, national publicity; Mrs. Gordon Atwell, public relations; special events, Mrs. W. Carey Pennington and Mrs. James D Hubard Jr.; ways and means, Mr. Kenneth Seay and Mr. Wm. H. Ridgwell; sales and treasurer, Mrs. John R. Anderson and Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tilbrook; staging, Mr. Robert Singleton and Mr. George Garvin; signs and decorations, Mrs. J. Frank East III and Mrs. Donald Jefferson; judging, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Price Jr.; registration, Mrs. Arthur J. Winder and Mrs. William Martin; hostess, Mrs. John H. Doyle Jr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Walker; telephone, Mrs. James Alexander; ballot box, Mrs. Bradon Vandevanter; social, Mrs. H. E. Humphreys; and historian, Mrs. Robert Peabody.

Art Show, 164 artists from six states exhibited more than 2,000 works of art, and sold one out of every ten pieces offered for sale for a four day total of $2,716. Artists in all fields of creative media will be welcomed to this event on the Boardwalk at Virginia Beach in July. Inquiries may be addressed to Virginia Beach Art Association, Virginia Beach, Va.

Another meeting of the Boardwalk Art Show committee will be held on May 6, 1958 at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. Douglas Hubard, 214 87th street, Virginia Beach, after which further plans will be announced.

Club Meets

The Cavalier Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting on April 16th at the Princess Anne Country Club with Mrs. C. G. Baughman, president, presiding.

Mrs. Walton Saunders, horticulture chairman ,gave a report on Azaleas and Roses and stressed the point that roses should not be cut with too long a stem, as this practice discourages repeated bloom.

The nominating committee presented a new slate of officers for the next year which was unanimously approved and accepted For president, Mrs. Robert P. Maul; first vice president, Mrs. Carl M. Rau; recording secretary, Mrs. Eldridge Whitehurst, treasurer, Mrs. Roy Twine; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. Webb Brown and directors Mrs. Gilmore L. Tilbrook and Mrs. L. O Branch.

Ribbons in arrangement classes were awarded to Mrs. Kermit Land and Mrs. L. O. Clark Jr., blue—and to Miss Ida May Esmond, red. In the horticulture division blue ribbons went to Mrs. Starr Cromwell, Mrs. J. W. Wood and Mrs. Walton G. Saunders. Red ribbons awarded to Mrs. Patrick Allen, Miss Ida May Esmond and Mrs. Starr Cromwell. Yellow to Mrs. Patrick Allen and Mrs J. D. W. Cassada.

Now we are in our 70th year of financial service to tidewater

Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association has completed its 69th year of growth with Tidewater, Virginia. We are in our 70th year and looking forward to new opportunities to be of service to the area we serve. Through two decades we have been recognized as the largest Savings and Loan Association in the state of Virginia.

In this, our seventh decade, our thoughts are for the future — and the future of the community we serve. In a growing, thriving metropolitan area such as Tidewater, Virginia, strong, dependable financial institutions are essential to continued progress. Mutual Federal dedicates its resources to the progress of Tidewater — to serve, as we have in the past, as an avenue to building, buying and home improvement. Your investment at Mutual Federal not only earns liberal dividends with insured safety—it also provides the means through which your community will continue to grow.

Harkins-Curtis Nuptial Rites Are Celebrated

The marriage of Miss Rosemary Frances Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean Curtis of Cavalier Park, Virginia Beach, to Benjamin James Harkins, of Trenton, N.J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison A. A. Harkins of Browns Mills, N.J., took place Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in the Star of the Sea Catholic Church, Virginia Beach.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Nicholas J. Habets, pastor of the church.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a street length dress of pale ice blue Alencon lace over taffeta designed with a scoop neckline, flared skirt and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a cap of draped chiffon that matched the cummerbund and drapery of her dress. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink Briercliff roses, violets and English ivy.

Mrs. Paul McLean Gaskill of Norfolk, was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of mauve pink silk organza and a cap of pale pink velvet bows. Her flowers were pink carnations and English ivy.

Daniel Scott of Washington was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride. Later the couple left for a wedding trip and upon their return they will reside in Trenton.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

Three-In-One-Cookies

Vanilla bowtie, chocolate cookie, orange cookie—all from one basic recipe for refrigerator dough. Let Three-In-One Cookies ease kitchen chore for you.

Lemonade-time requires a full cookie jar. Three-In-One Cookies will easily fill your summer cookie jar needs. From just one basic recipe, you can make cookies in three flavors—popular vanilla, rich chocolate, and flavorful orange.

The basic dough requires only five ingredients. A real time-saver is the self-rising flour. It already contains salt and baking powder, so there's no need to measure those two items, or to do the usual "sifting together of dry ingredients."

This recipe makes about 6 dozen small cookies.

You can bake the cookies all at one time. Or, if you prefer, leave the rolls of dough in the refrigerator and bake as needed. Perhaps you can dove-tail your cookie baking with some other oven-baking to keep your kitchen as cool as possible.

You'll appreciate the convenience of Three-In-One Cookies. And your family will appreciate you for catering to their "sweet-tooth."

THREE-IN-ONE COOKIES

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon shredded orange or lemon rind

Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add flour to creamed mixture and mix well. Divide dough into thirds. To one third add chocolate, mixing it in thoroughly. To another third add orange or lemon rind, mixing well. Leave remaining third plain. Shape each third into a roll. Wrap in waxed paper. Chill until very firm. Slice ¼ inch thick and bake on ungreased baking sheets in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 10 minutes. Remove cookies from baking sheet (to cooling rack) immediately.

May Day — "the day when spring comes to stay"—was celebrated in 13th century New England by dances 'round 100-foot tall Maypoles in village squares. And in Tudor, England, the King's subjects, high and low, went "a-Maying" to gather blossomed boughs in the forests. (Henry VIII once took his wife of the moment, Catherine of Aragon, on such an expedition.)

The modern American family can't build tall Maypoles, or take off to the wild woods, but it can enjoy the gladsome mood of May Day with a beautiful, delicious-tasting Maypole cake.

The homemaker who creates this happy treat for her family will make the basis of its design of lovely white vanilla-cake covered with liberal lathing of eye-tempting, mouth-melting, snowy white vanilla frosting, delicately tanged with fresh lemon juice. The "pole" will be a spiral-striped lemon or peppermint candy stick and the posie-colored ribbon streamers will lead to a gay parading circle of cooky animals, or maybe cooky ducklings.

Vanilla is, of course, the traditional favorite flavoring for white cake, frostings and cookies. As a matter of fact, vanilla became the best loved flavoring for all sweets not too many years after Henry VIII's "a-Maying" days. The vanilla bean was introduced by a court apothecary to the kitchen of Henry's daughter, Elizabeth I, where it became an immediate hit. From London its popularity spread to all the capitals of Europe.

Master cooks of the past had to distill the exquisite flavor essence of the vanilla bean. Today's culinary artist achieves the same effect by merely measuring from a handy bottle of pure vanilla extract.

VANILLA MAYPOLE CAKE

2½ cups sifted all purpose flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
¾ cup shortening
3 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup milk
1 Recipe Seven Minute Frosting
1 7-inch stick peppermint candy
Streamers of ribbon, ¼-inch wide
Vanilla Animal Cookies.

Sift together first 3 ingredients and set aside. Gradually mix sugar with shortening until fluffy. Blend in pure vanilla extract. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Beat batter ½ minute. Turn into 2 well-greased, lightly floured, round 9-inch cake pans. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes or until done. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire racks to finish cooling. Put layers together and frost top and sides with Seven Minute Frosting. Make a hole in the center of cake the diameter of candy stick into which insert the candy. Loop streamers of ribbon over the maypole and attach the other ends to Vanilla Animal Cookies mounted in frosting and placed around the cake.

YIELD: 12 to 16 servings.

VANILLA ANIMAL COOKIES

1 cup shortening
¾ cup granulated sugar
¾ cup light brown sugar
1 egg
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon milk
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
Ornamental Frosting.

Cream shortening, granulated and brown sugars together until fluffy. Add egg, pure vanilla extract, grated lemon rind and milk. Mix well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to creamed mixture, blending well. Roll out on cooky sheets, ⅛-inch thick. Shape with animal cooky cutters. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 10 to 12 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Cool. Frost edges with Ornamental Frosting put through a pastry tube. To make bases on which to mount the animals, cut 3½x1-inch rectangles from some of the cooky dough. Bake as for animal cookies. Cool and attach animals to bases with some of the Ornamental Frosting.

ORNAMENTAL FROSTING

2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 egg whites, unbeaten
¾ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Combine sugar, egg whites and lemon juice and beat with a wire whip or in an electric mixer for about 3 minutes. Add pure vanilla extract. Continue beating until frosting is stiff enough to stand in peaks.

YIELD: Sufficient frosting for 4½ dozen cookies and stands.

VANILLA TIPS

QUICK CHOCOLATE SAUCE

Ice cream, topped with chocolate sauce, brings smiles at dessert time. Melt a 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate bits over hot water. Add ⅓ cup boiling water, ¼ cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract and a few drops mint extract. Cook and stir until sauce comes to a boil. Cool.

YIELD: About 1¼ cups.

VANILLA-JELLY FROSTING

Light as air and quick-as-a-flash to make is this fluffy cake frosting: Combine an 8-ounce jar jelly (mint, strawberry or currant), 1 unbeaten egg white and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Beat with a rotary or electric beater till soft peaks are formed.

YIELD: Sufficient frosting for 2 eight-inch cake layers.

BROILED ORANGE SLICES

Cut two fresh oranges into ½-inch slices. Place in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle them with a mixture of 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Broil till lightly brown.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Happy May Day—Bye now.

Keeping Up-To-Date To Handle Your Freight

All switches and signals on a 238-mile stretch of railroad in three states from Roanoke, Va. to Hagerstown, Md. are controlled by these two men at this Centralized Traffic Control board in Roanoke. The top panel is a miniature, ever-changing picture of the entire Shenandoah line which shows by lights the exact position of every train on the road.

Extension and improvement of Centralized Traffic Control is one of the many forward steps the N&W is taking to provide increased safety and efficiency in the operation of trains.

Last year, the Norfolk and Western plowed back into its business $70.1 million for improvements and additions to its modern railroad plant—an average of $192,000 per day for continually better service to shippers.

Producing better railroad service is a job that's never finished. It calls for endless research, planning and preparing for "the best job possible today and a better job tomorrow."

The Norfolk and Western's policy of preparing today for tomorrow is not new to this railroad. For example, since World War II, the N&W has spent $380,000,000 in a continuous program to make this one of the most efficiently operated railroads. Tracks have been relocated with grades and curves improved; bridges built and tunnels bored. Yards have been extended, new seaport facilities have been added, and new engine terminals and office buildings have gone up. Signals have been extended and improved. Millions of dollars worth of new freight cars (most of which were built in the road's Roanoke, Va. shops) and diesel locomotives have been put into service. (Today, the N&W has more freight cars per mile of track than any other American railroad more than 250 miles in length).

The work goes on and on. The $70.1 million spent last year for improvements like those listed at the right — is concrete evidence of the N&W's faith in the future of the great territory it serves . . . evidence of determination to provide shippers with the most efficient rail transportation available anywhere.

Last year, the Norfolk and Western . . .

- Placed in operation 120 new diesel locomotive units and installed diesel servicing facilities.
- Acquired 3,782 seventy-ton hopper coal cars, 300 fifty-ton gondolas, 25 fifty-foot boxcars with special equipment to reduce damage, and 28 covered hoppers.
- Completed construction of a new freight car shop at Roanoke, Va., with a productive capacity of 20 cars per day.
- Began construction of a 5.13-mile extension, including boring of an 8,240-foot tunnel, with eight miles of operation tracks, for servicing new coal mining operations in Southwestern Virginia.
- Completed a substantial percentage of a program of Centralized Traffic Control over various sections of the railroad.
- Completed substantial enlargement of Portlock Yard at South Norfolk, Va., providing additional facilities for more efficient handling of water borne grain and coal tonnages, and added new grain handling equipment at the Company's grain elevators at Sewells Point.
- Installed radio equipment on locomotives and in terminals to provide more efficient train operation "on the road" and quicker switching of cars in major yards.
- Installed electronic hot-box detectors and extended use of a new freight car lubricating system to 75% of N&W's rolling stock.
- Completed a large new warehouse, stevedore's gear house and carpenter shop to facilitate handling of export, import, and general cargo traffic at Norfolk.
- Installed switchboards and additional carrier circuits for improved communication between Roanoke and Norfolk, Va., and began a program of communications improvement from Bluefield, W. Va., west.
- Strengthened many bridges, provided better clearances through tunnels and cuts to permit movement of large and special shipments, replaced many miles of track with heavier rail, extended passing sidings, and made scores of other improvements to the property all along the line.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

OLD TIMER GETS DRAFT NOTICE

A Fort Story Master Sergeant who completed 20 years of active Army service 6 days ago, April 18 received a familiar greetings today, but one not too common for a man with his military time and experience.

M/Sgt. Marvin H. Creason received his greetings from the President ordering him to report for the draft on April 60th. The notice was sent by Sergeant Creason's county draft board in Mocksville, North Carolina.

A resident of Norfolk at 1303 South Braden Crescent, Creason is assigned to the non-commissioned officers open mess.

STORY BATTALION HOSTS COSTUME PARTY

Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion was host Friday evening to the officers and wives of the Cape Henry post at a "pool-room" costume party.

The theme "dolls and mells" was carried out in the dress of the ladies present, and men were admitted only if properly armed (cap and water pistols).

OPERATIONS OFFICER TO VISIT STORY APRIL 24, 1958

The new Assistant Chief of Staff G-3 (training and operations) of the Transportation Training Command was given an orientation tour of Fort Story Thursday, April 24.

Colonel Joseph V. Smith arrived from Fort Eustis and was welcomed by Fort Story's Commanding Officer, Colonel George E. Woods Jr., and his staff. After a briefing on the activities of the 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C" by Lt. Col. Jerome K. Hostetler, Col. Smith inspected the training of the two major subordinate commands, the 10th and 14th Transportation Battalions, and was given a demonstration of the BARC amphibious vehicle and the Landing Craft Retriever.

A veteran of both World War II and the Korean Conflict, Colonel Smith first entered the Army in 1936. In civilian life he was Assistant Traffic Manager of the Whiting Corporation of Harvey, Illinois. His last assignment was as commanding officer of the U.S. Army Post at Inchon, Korea.

STORY DUKWs LOSES FOURTH

One win and four losses is the present record of the Fort Story DUKWs in the early part of the baseball season.

The lone victory came in the second game with Little Creek Amphibious Base, Story lost the first. Other losses by Story include Colonial Chevrolet, and two losses at the hands of the Norfolk Naval Station.

Michael Massie, a clerk in the post central files has been made the new coach of the DUKWs.

Home games in the near future are with the Naval Station May first and second and then Fort Lee on May 13th and 13th.

STORY UNIT TOURS NAVY VESSEL APRIL 22, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—Members of Fort Story's 155th Transportation Company got a preview Monday, April 21 of the type vessel that will carry them on a resupply mission to the far north this summer. The vessel was the U.S. Navy's LSD No. 30, the "Fort Snelling," moored at Little Creek Amphibious Base.

The purpose of the tour was to acquaint the men with the ship that will be their home while completing the mission to the DEW-Line starting the latter part of June.

Major Travis Hull, commanding officer of the 155th, accompanied the men on the Navy-guided tour.

STORY PREPARES FOR RESERVE TRAINING APRIL 22, 1958

Fort Story, Va. — Fort Story staff officers are in the midst of preparing for this summer's Army Reserve training program that will bring over 2,000 officers, enlisted men and ROTC cadets to the Cape Henry post.

The office of the Assistant Chief of Staff G-3, headed by Lt. Col. Jerome K. Hostetler, has scheduled the units from the 25th of May through the 31st of August. The Transportation Corps organizations will be coming from several points in the eastern half of the nation including New York, Philadelphia, Rochester and Jacksonville, Florida.

Three hundred twenty five ROTC cadets are slated to spend one of their six weeks of summer training at Fort Story. The cadets, who will receive commissions as Transportation Corps Lieutenants upon graduation from college, will undergo the remainder of their training at Fort Eustis.

The 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C," commanded by Colonel George E. Woods Jr., is responsible for providing the bivouac areas, training aids, and vehicle and logistical support for the reserve units.

NCO's LEAD STORY UNITS IN REVIEW APRIL 24, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—The officers of the 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C" at Fort Story stoood by and watched a garrison parade Wednesday, April 23 as their top non-commissioned officers led their units in an NCO review.

Master Sergeant Cecil D. Ralston, Sergeant Major of Fort Story, acted as commander of troops for the day. The post's two battalions, the 10th and the 14th, were led by their Sergeant Majors M/Sgt. Elmer Stanley and M/Sgt. Carlton R. Twford. Master Sergeant Joe E. Herndon, first sergeant of Headquarters Company was at the head of the unit.

Awards were presented to SFC Cortez O. Robinson, the Soldier of the Month for April, and to the 461st Transportation Company, the winner of the best marching unit at the last garrison review.

The award for the best marching unit in Wednesday's parade went to Headquarters Company.

The boys showing steers of the Angus breed are Gene Smith, Everett Smith, Billy Cirns, Billy Brown and Tommy Chism. Boys showing the steers in the Hereford breed are Alan Spence, Richard Basnight, Al Basnight, Curtis Shirley and Tommy Upton. Boys showing shorthorns are Jamie Buffington, Eddie Mayo, Bobby Barnes, Johnny Joyce, and James Barrett.

Next week we will have the result of the show and sale.

ALFALFA WEEVIL PRESENT NOW

Last week I saw the first signs of the Alfalfa Weevil on alfalfa. At signs of the alfalfa weevil control measurements should be applied at once.

The material to use now is Heptachlor. Heptachlor contains two pounds of actual heptachlor to the gallon. Only one-forth pound of the actual insecticide is required to treat an acre of alfalfa. This means that one pint of heptachlor should be added to enough water to give the proper distribution of the spray.

The alfalfa weevil looks different at different stages of maturity. The adult weevil is about three-sixteenth (3/16) inch long and has a snout. At first the insect is a light brown with a broad, dark stripe extending down the back from the front of the head to more than half the length of the body. As the weevils age, they become uniformly dark brown or almost black. The newly hatched larvae are tiny (1/20) inch long, yellow, and have a shiny black head. As the larvae grow, they become green and have a distinct white stripe running down the middle of the back. When full grown, the black-headed larvae are about three-eights (⅜) inch long.

SUDAN GRASS OR PEARL MILLET FOR SUMMER PASTURE

There is a need for more grazing on most Princess Anne livestock farms during July and August. Sudan grass or Pearl Millet can help you provide additional grazing for your livestock during these critical pasture months because these crops grow best when permanent pastures are likely to be least productive.

A third to one-half acre of Sudan grass or Pearl Millet will usually provide adequate grazing for one animal during the critical period. You can lengthen the productive period of this supplemental pasture by seeding half the acreage early and the remainder a month to six weeks later.

The recommended varieties of Sudan grass for Princess Anne are Sweet Sudan and Piper. Commercial Pearl Millet is the only variety of Pearl Millet recommended at present. Be sure to get Pearl Millet and not Foxtail Millet. Foxtail Millet will not recover after grazing.

Sudan grass and Pearl Millet are adapted to a wide range of soils. However, they do best on a deep fertile soil with high water holding capacity. A good corn soil is a desirable soil for these supplemental pasture crops.

Fertilize well. Broadcast and disc in 500 to 800 pounds per acre of a 10-10-10 fertilizer or the equivalent in other 1-1-1 ratio fertilizer.

Prepare a good seedbed just as you would for corn.

Sow seed at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre. Drilling usually gives the best results. If a drill is not available, the seed may be broadcast and harrowed in.

Soybeans may be seeded with these crops. However, soybeans do not recover well after grazing or cutting. If you use soybeans, sow at the rate of one bushel per acre and reduce the seeding rate of Sudan grass or Pearl Millet to 15 to 20 pounds.

Seed your Sudan grass or Pearl Millet between May 15 and July 1. Either should be ready for grazing 6 to 12 weeks later.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Science finds healing substance that relieves pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® At all drug counters—money back guarantee.*®

NEW COUNTY PRECINCT HEARING SET JUNE 6

C. of C. Dinner Scheduled for Monday, May 26

The semiannual dinner meeting of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening, May 26, at the Cavalier Hotel, it has been announced by Frank D. Terrell Jr., president of the organization.

Featured speaker for the affair will be Playwright Paul Green, who is the author of the new outdoor drama to open here July 1, "The Confederacy."

Tickets for the affair are available now at the Chamber of Commerce office and the price is $4.50 per person. The Chamber of Commerce telephone number is OAden 8-1922.

Local Gift Firm Agent Views New Line at Meeting

The most elaborate assortment of business gifts ever assembled in one collection was inspected by Joseph P. Curran Jr., of 316 81st street, Virginia Beach, local representative for Osborne-Kemper-Thomas, at a meeting held in Greensboro May 5, to introduce the firm's 1958 line of salesmen in this area.

Officials of the Cincinnati advertising specialty manufacturer told [illegible] more products for the business community. It was also predicted that sales of [illegible] merchandise is expected to double in the next two years.

Local Girls' Prize Trip Announced

New York—Plans for the seven-day all-expense holiday in Washington and New York during which Maj.-Gen. Leo McFarlane of 5th Wing Ruddy road, Virginia Beach, Virginia, will be the guest of Seventeen Magazine have been announced by Mrs. Enid A. Haupt, editor and publisher. Miss McIver was awarded the trip, in addition to a fourteen-piece Live Super Electronic housewares [illegible] and a complete spring wardrobe, as grand prize winner in the magazine's fourth annual "Favorite Recipe Contest."

The teenage girl will start the trip, on which she will be accompanied by her mother with two days in Washington, D.C., May 7 and 8.

There she will be honored as a special reception May 8 at the Shoreham Hotel which will be attended by U. S. Government, and Navy officials, leading food authorities and food writers. Highlight of the reception will be the serving of "Tenderloin Shrimp Creole," the entry which won Miss McIver top honors over thousands of teenage contestants from coast to coast.

The reception will climax a day in which Miss McIver, daughter of Captain Dewitt C. McIver, USN, Amphibious Forces, will personally serve a sample of her prize dish to Senator Harry F. Byrd; present a copy of her recipe to the Navy; and see her dish prepared at the Navy Subsistance Office demonstration galley.

Work Planned At Pendleton

Additional rehabilitation work on buildings and structures at Camp Pendleton has been authorized by Major General Shepard Crumpe, adjutant general of Virginia, according to Arthur F. Wirth, post engineer.

The work has been authorized to provide the camp for use by the Virginia National Guard for its summer encampment there from about July 5th through the latter of August.

Camp's office is located in Building T-304.

The Winner

Garden Clubs Award Mower

The Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County awarded a Springfield Riding Lawnmower to Mr. H. D. Patterson, Goodspeed road, Princess Anne Hills, Virginia Beach, one of many civic minded donors to the beautification fund, Little Miss Kathy Cotton selected the winning receipt stub.

Ten dollars will be given to Mrs. Cecil Lancaster, Cardinal road, Virginia Beach, for having secured the winning donation.

Those securing sixty or more donations each were Mrs. J. W. Field Jr., Mrs. G. T. Mullen, and Mrs. J. G. Trafton Jr. The donations received will be used for the continued landscaping of Atlantic avenue Parkway, Laskin road, and the 25th street strip.

The success of this project is proof of the fact that area residents take pride in and look forward to an increasingly beautiful Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

36 Beach High Students Undergo Scholarship Test

Thirty-six juniors at Virginia Beach High School took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test, Mr. James A. Johnson Jr., principal, announced today. The test was administered at the high school at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, April 29.

An estimated $5 million in Merit Scholarships and other awards are at stake in the national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12 million in Merit Scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit Scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three-hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the semifinal when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second, examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship, and extra-curricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the spring of 1959.

The test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors and their class advisors.

The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college

The Virginia Beach High School choral group shown above will take part in the "Spring Festival of Music" to be presented Friday night in the Virginia Beach High School auditorium. The chorus is under the direction of J. William Miller.

Richmond Doctor New Head Of General Practice Group

Dr. W. Linwood Ball of Richmond will be installed as president of the Virginia Academy of General Practice May 10 during the academy's eighth annual Scientific Assembly at the Cavalier, Virginia Beach.

The American Academy of General Practice, of which the Virginia Academy is a component chapter, is unique among medical organizations in its requirement for continued postgraduate education for continued membership. An academy member is dropped from membership on failure to complete 150 hours of study every three years.

The annual scientific assembly of the Virginia Academy is one of the postgraduate educational opportunities given to all physicians, both academy members and non-members.

Nineteen outstanding physicians will present papers during the three-day meeting. Twenty-two scientific exhibits and more than fifty technical exhibits have been arranged.

The Virginia Diabetes Association, meeting in conjunction with the academy will open the program Friday morning, May 9. Dr. Franklin B. Peck Sr., of Indianapolis, will talk on "The Use of Insulin in the Treatment of Diabetes." Dr. C. J. O'Donovan of Kalamazoo, Michigan will present the latest clinical findings on the use of Orinase in the treatment of diabetes. A panel discussion will follow. Panel members will include;

Dr. Thomas S. Edwards, Charlottesville; Dr. William R. Jordan, Richmond; Dr. Jason McClellan, Newport News; and Dr. H. Clarkson Meredith Jr., Norfolk, in addition to Dr. Peck and Dr. O'Donovan.

Friday afternoon's program includes a clinical pathological conference with Dr. Charles M. Caravati of Richmond as clinician and Dr. Arnold Strauss of Norfolk as pathologist. Dr. Edwin I. Smith of Norfolk will speak on "Surgical Aspects of Tumors in Children." He will be followed by Dr. Abraham Stone of New York who will speak on "The Physician as a Marriage Counsellor."

Papers to be presented Saturday, May 10 include "The Diagnosis of Arthritis," by Dr. Oscar Swineford Jr. of the University of Virginia School of Medicine; "Rheumatic Fever — Then and Now—A 30 Year Perspective," Dr. Edward F. Bland, Boston; followed by a panel discussion by Dr. Bland, Dr. Earle Glendy of Roanoke and Dr. Thomas L. Goreuch of Waynesboro; "Methods in the Treatment of the Anxiety Tension Patterns" by Dr. Henry H. Dixon of Portland, Oregon; and "Relationship Between Clinical Gynecology and Gynecological Pathology" by Dr. J. Donald Woodruff

Dr. William Pérson of the University of Virginia School of Medicine opens Sunday morning's program, May 11 with "The Patient Who Gives Up." He will be followed by Dr. Joseph Hughes of Philadelphia on "Emotional Problems of Children"; and by Dr. Louise F. Galvin of the State Department of Health in Richmond who will give a resume of "Resources Available to Chronically Handicapped Children in Virginia."

The Assembly will close Sunday, May 11 at 12:30, following a Religious Service conducted by the Rev. W. Tallaferro Thompson Sr., D.D. of Richmond, Academy Chaplain and retired professor of the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

Other health organizations cooperating with the academy in presenting the outstanding scientific program include the Virginia Council on Health and Medical Care and the Hermann Foundation who are sponsoring Dr. Hughes and Dr. Galvin; the Virginia League for Planned Parenthood, sponsoring Dr. Stone; the Virginia Division, the American Cancer Society, sponsoring Dr. Woodruff; and the Virginia Heart Association sponsoring Dr. Bland, Dr. Glendy and Dr. Goreuch.

Social activities will include a golf tournament May 8 and a dinner dance May 10. The Woman's Auxiliary will have a luncheon May 9 at the Princess Anne Country Club and Coffee Hour on the morning of May 10.

Dr. Malcolm Harris of West Point is president of the state academy; Dr. Harry M. Frieden of Norfolk, general chairman of the 1958 Scientific Assembly; and Dr. James L. Hammer of Mannboro, program chairman.

Mrs. J. B. Kiser of Emporia is president of the Auxiliary to the Academy and will be succeeded by Mrs. R. C. McAllister of Richmond May 9. Mrs. Richard C. Reed of Norfolk is the Auxiliary's Assembly chairman.

Friends School Will Offer Fifth Grade in Fall

By Kay Dengible Sewell

Something new will be added to the rapidly expanding Virginia Beach Friends School in September 1958—a fifth grade for boys and girls. Also new, a kindergarten for four-year-olds.

Applications for all grades are being received now, said Mrs. Robert D. Wilson, member of the board of directors, who announced these new plans this week.

However, no applications need be made for the fifth grade which is already filled to capacity. Though all the classrooms are exceptionally large, each class is limited to a maximum of 20 pupils, in order that each child may receive the teacher's complete attention, said Mrs. Wilson.

"Friends School," said Mrs. Wilson, "believe that each child has his or her own unique worth, and that this special work can be brought out to the fullest."

Parents who are interested are invited to come and visit the school "in action," before closing time in early June. Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Wilson at GA 8-7053 or GA 8-6911.

Virginia Beach Friends School is set on its own eight acres of wooded country land, always with a view to future expansion on the feeder road just off Laskin road.

Many parents are already familiar with the original red brick building, which will be the domain of the kindergartners.

Virginia Beach Man Killed In Accident Tuesday Night

William Emmett Calhoun Jr., a resident of Virginia Beach, was killed instantly Tuesday night on the Virginia Beach boulevard at the intersection of Little Neck road when struck by an automobile driven by an officer in the United States Navy, according to Princess Anne police.

Calhoun, 42, a pedestrian and a salesman for the Tyree Jones Motor Company of Portsmouth, was dead when police arrived at the scene shortly after receiving the call at 10:32 p.m.

The car that struck Calhoun was driven by Lt. (jg) Billy Bradley, who is stationed at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk. Bradley is being charged with manslaughter, according to Princess Anne County Police Chief J. E. Moore.

Calhoun's residence was given as 2406 Pacific avenue, Virginia Beach. He is survived by his wife, one son and mother, Mrs. Dora Walker Calhoun. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lester Ingalls, Fredericksburg, and Mrs. George O. Seymore, Princess Anne County. One brother, Raymond C. Calhoun, Princess Anne County.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at the Maestes Funeral Home, Virginia Beach, with the Rev. George W. Bond, pastor of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church, and the Rev. Arthur H. Ayers, pastor of the Nimmo Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Rosewood Memorial Park Cemetery in Princess Anne County.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, National Hospital Week will commence on May 12, the birthdate of Florence Nightingale, and whereas the Virginia Beach Hospital is joining with more than 8000 hospitals throughout the Nation in observing this week, I, Frank A. Dusch, Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach do hereby proclaim the week beginning May 12th as National Hospital Week in the City of Virginia Beach.

Frank A. Dusch

PETITIONERS SEEK CHANGE FOR BAYSIDE

A hearing on a petition to create a new voting precinct in the Bayside Magisterial District of Princess Anne County had been set for June 6 by Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kellam.

If the court acts favorably on the request, the new polling place would be at the Davis Corner Volunteer Fire Department headquarters.

The request for the rearrangement of the election districts came about as a result of the recent creation of the Bayside Magisterial District.

The Bayside Magisterial District was created when the Kempsville District was divided.

Voters in the Davis Corner area found that they lived in the new Bayside District but would have to vote in the Kempsville District, which would mean that they could not vote on their own representative on the county board of supervisors.

The new election district being sought is bounded by Rudee [illegible]

"Beginning at the point of the people located on the Norfolk Southern Railway [illegible] way where it crosses the Thoroughfare Branch of the Lynnhaven River, and going in a westerly direction along the center line of the Norfolk Southern Railway right-of-way to the intersection of Virginia State Highway 647, [illegible] Virginia State Highway 647 and Virginia State Highway 615, [illegible] a southeasterly direction along the center line of Virginia State Highway 615 to the intersection of [illegible] Virginia State Highway 615 and Virginia State Highway 647; thence in a southeasterly direction along the center line of the said State Highway 647 to the branch or small creek which crosses the said Virginia State Highway 647; thence in an easterly direction along the center line of the said small branch or creek to the center of Thoroughfare Branch; thence in a southerly direction along the center line of Thoroughfare Branch to the point of beginning."

Little Theatre Sets Tryouts

The final production of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre will be presented at the Virginia Beach High School on May 26th and 27th.

The play will be "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" A comedy by Edward Chodorov which had a successful Broadway run with Franchot Tone in the leading role.

Mrs. Arthur Massey is directing the play and is rehearsing an excellent cast. Some of whom are newcomers to the stage.

Leading roles will be taken by Jack Postell and Dolores Rasmussen supported by Don and Vivian Almond, Lou Backman, George Mullen and Anne Henry.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Little Theatre or at the box office on play nights.

NEW CLUB OPENING HERE ABOUT JUNE 1

A new Virginia Beach private club, the Cape Colony Club, is expected to open around June 15 on the oceanside of the old Surf Club property, it has been announced.

The new club has been carved out of some of the old Surf Club building but it has been estimated that $150,000 is being spent on the new club. It will feature a large Olympic-type swimming pool.

The club is expected to feature dancing nightly and throughout the season will stage a variety of social and related activities.

Members of the new club will have approximately 400 feet of beach front with locker rooms and cabanas.

VEGETABLE GROWERS:

Here's a weed-killing "blanket" that can save $20 to $90 an acre on hand-weeding

We call it Vegadex,® and it works a new way. You only have to spray it on once—at planting time. Vegadex forms an invisible chemical blanket over your soil. Annual grasses—and even some tough weeds like purslane and henbit—sprout, touch the blanket, and die.

Your vegetables—like celery, lettuce and cole crops—grow through unharmed, with few or no weeds to fight them for sunlight, water and plant food. And, Vegadex won't "build up" in your soil.

Vegadex practically eliminates costly hand-weeding. Last year, many vegetable growers saved from $20 to $90 an acre on labor costs by spray-weeding with Vegadex.

Before you plant your next crop, stop by your Monsanto Farm Chemicals Dealer—he'll give you an informative new folder on Vegadex.

HERE'S HOW THE VEGADEX "BLANKET" can kill weeds for you! All celery shown here was planted at the same time. But notice the weed-free rows at left which were band sprayed once with Vegadex at planting.

Make sure you're spraying right. Ask your Monsanto Dealer about the special offer on the Spray-Water that accurately measures the amount of spray your rig applies per acre.

Middle Atlantic Growers

VEGADEX KILLS—henbit (blue weed), purslane, annual bluegrass, bull grass (goose grass), crab grass, foxtails, pigweed, barnyard grass, chickweed, lambsquarter.

VEGADEX IS SAFE FOR—spinach, collards, kale, mustard, turnip greens, hanover salad, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, snap beans, lima beans, soybeans, garden beets, celery, lettuce, sweet corn, field corn.

Unique Selling

Hampton Newman, representative of the Rug Shops, is shown making a call at a customer's home from the "Rolling Rug Shop." The unique mobile showroom is a feature of the Rug Shops in Norfolk.

Rug Shops Celebrate 12th Year

The Rug Shops located at 120 West 21st street in Norfolk is currently celebrating it's 12th anniversary, according to the owner, Maurice Unger.

Opened in May of 1946 at 326 West Freemason street the Rug Shop has grown from a two-man staff to its present large store on 21st street.

In 1954 a branch office was opened in Hampton and again in the same year a 10,000 square foot warehouse was leased for the purpose of offering immediate delivery in Tidewater of more than 400 selections in broadloom carpet.

Now today on the 12th anniversary the Rug Shops enjoy 22 persons and operate six trucks, including the Rolling Rug Shops.

The Rolling Rug Shops are van trucks converted to mobile showrooms each containing 500 samples so that the customer may choose her carpet at home under natural light and home conditions.

The modern warehouse has large cutting and serving floors with a full battery of carpet binding serging and sewing machines.

This year, as for the past four years, the Rug Shops have sold more carpet than any other store in Tidewater. The Rug Shops operate under a slogan, "All Sales Are Not Final."

The Rug Shops features names such as Mohawk, James Lees, Alexander-Smith, Wunda Weve and Cape Cod.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A Review of the Record

With the current campaign for the three seats on the Virginia Beach city council in full swing we looked up the record of the so-called "organization" since the last council race here. It is interesting, to say the least.

It was in 1956 that Frank A. Dusch and John W. McCombs were elected to the Virginia Beach City Council as "organization" candidates. At that time the "organization" candidates cited their objectives to the voters. What were these campaign promises and what has transpired since? Here is what we found:

(1.) To provide funds to the Erosion Commission by a continuance of the Special Tax and obtaining all State and Federal aid possible.
(This promise has been Fulfilled.)

(2.) We pledge our efforts and support in co-operating with the Commission who are now trying to provide a bridge tunnel from Cape Charles to Fort Story.
(This pledge has been kept.)

(3) We hope to see Virginia Beach provided with a new health and welfare center and we will continue our endeavors in acquiring State and Federal aid for this purpose.
(The new health and welfare center is the modern building located at the corner of 19th street and Arctic avenue.)

(4) To provide additional funds to the Advertising Committee to broaden the advertising program and telling more people about Virginia Beach.
(The city's advertising budget has been increased each of the past two years.)

(5) Continue our wholehearted effort in obtaining the armory, or convention hall, to be completed at the earliest possible date, and in connection with the above, to set up a Convention Bureau for the purpose of booking conventions upon the completion of the building.
(The new convention center will serve its first convention May 18-20 and Richard B. Keeley is the convention center director.)

(6) To continue our efforts in obtaining State and Federal aid in the construction of a new boulevard for Pacific avenue.
(Final approval for this project has just been obtained and the project is ready for bid advertising.)

(7) To continue the street program in eliminating all dirt streets within the City.
(This is a continuing program and is being carried out.)

(8) To give full support to the Planning Commission.
(This pledge has been fulfilled.)

(9) To continue the recreational program under the direction of a fully qualified person in this field of endeavor, making full use of the high school and athletic field in carrying through with this program.
(This has been accomplished.)

(10) To promote the efforts of all groups in making the 50th Anniversary of the City of Virginia Beach a successful program.
(This was done during Golden Jubilee celebration program.)

(11) To give full cooperation in helping to make the Jamestown Festival of 1957 a success.
(The city cooperated completely in this.)

(12) We shall continue every effort in maintaining the splendid relationship which now exists between the City and Armed Services, and County, State and Federal agencies.
(This relationship has been maintained and even improved since 1956.)

(13) We pledge our continued support and cooperation with all of the Civic and Garden Clubs who have done so much for the Welfare and beautification of our community.
(This pledge has been fully carried out.)

It would appear that the "organization" candidates of 1956 have kept faith with the voters and citizens of this community from a review of the above objectives. Frank Dusch and John McCombs are supporting the "organization" or administration-backed council ticket of Frank D. Tarrall, Edward T. "Ned" Caton and John E. Fitzgerald in the coming June 10th election. From the record it appears that this group carries out its promises to the people and from the accomplishments all around us today in Virginia Beach the city's administration is in sound hands with men of this type. The record speaks for itself.

It Means Children, Too

When we speak about mental illness, we generally think in terms of adults. Few people realize that mental illness affects children too.

The fact is that today there are hundreds of thousands of young children and adolescents suffering from disabling mental disorders. About 4,000 young children and adolescents are admitted to mental hospitals each year with very serious mental illness. Another 200,000 receive out-patient care in mental health clinics. But the great majority receive no treatment at all.

Of the 1,300 mental health clinics in the U.S., most are concentrated in a few states. Most states have only enough clinic service to take care of a few hundred children a year. Most clinics have long waiting lists.

Furthermore, childhood mental illness often goes undetected because few schools have the necessary mental health counslling and guidance services.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Albin R. Mailhes,
Vice President and General Manager
Virginia Beach Sun-News,

Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Al:

I was extremely pleased with the April 24 edition of your fine newspaper with the special telephone section.

The public service rendered is unmeasurable but you may be sure that it was considerable when taking into account the complete change in communication habits of all the people of Virginia Beach and surrounding suburbs.

I am sure that my subscribers and yours join with me in saying "well done."

Very truly yours,
L. P. Patrick, Manager.

Beach Students

and the most appropriate courses to major in. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win have registered for the test, in order to learn more about their individual strength and weaknesses.

Dr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the state, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its top students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many other factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of finalists.

The test results will however, enable students as individuals, to compare their scores with other students across the nation.

The test has been constructed by Science Research Associates of Chicago, and will also be scored and reported by the testing agency.

Each Merit Scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $650 per year. The minimum award in the 1958-59 program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1,500.00 a year.

The names of all program finalists will be sent to colleges and universities and other scholarship organizations throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awarded directly by colleges and other organizations.

Tarrall, Caton, Fitzgerald Issue Platform of Objectives

Platform of Frank D. Tarrall Jr., Edward T. Caton III and John E. Fitzgerald Jr., candidates for Virginia Beach City Council, Election June 10, 1958.

Objectives to be obtained for the continued progress of our City and the welfare of its people.

1st We promise to work with the County, State and Federal officials in devising ways and means of obtaining a high level bridge crossing Rudee Inlet and in conjunction with this project to foster a Marina at Lake Rudee for small fishing and pleasure craft and to devise ways and means of opening and maintaining a channel into Lake Rudee so that deep-sea fishing from Virginia Beach may become a reality.

2nd To work with the Hospital Committee to the end that a General Hospital serving the need of our City and entire area may be obtained.

3rd To extend sewage lines to those heavily populated areas in our City who are not now enjoying this service.

4th We propose to extend water service and give better water pressure in certain sections of the City, thereby giving better fire protection by the laying of larger water lines to replace those that have become inadequate due to the growth of these areas.

5th It is our purpose to increase the scope of our recreation program for the benefit of the youth of our City.

6th We promise to give our full support to the newly formed youth bureau, an adjunct of the Police Department, in an effort to further stimulate the interest of our youth in planned recreational programs and the like.

7th We promise our full cooperation with the Senior and Junior Women's Clubs and with the County of Princess Anne in the building and operation of a Library to serve Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

8th We promise our continued support of the Tidewater Virginia Development Council which means so much to the future of the City of Virginia Beach and the Tidewater area as a whole.

9th We promise our efforts in finding ways and means of installing curb and gutter on a cooperative long-term financed program with the property owners and the City in order to eliminate not only unsightly but unhealthy conditions brought about by open ditches in our City.

10th We promise our continued and whole-hearted support of the "Confederacy" drama which we feel will mean so much to the cultural background and economic welfare of our City and entire area.

11th We promise to do our utmost in maintaining salary and wage schedules commensurate with services performed.

12th We have watched the efforts that have been made by our City's joining with the other areas in promoting the Bridge-Tunnel to Cape Charles. This now seems a reality. But the job has not been easy, and we pledge to continue our efforts until this Bridge-Tunnel has been completed.

13th One of the most important programs to the success of our City is the antipollution program. The leadership for this program has been furnished by City and County officials of this area. This committee has as its chairman, our City Manager. We promise full support in the effort to free our Beach of pollution and to continue to cooperate with other governmental agencies in support of this program.

14th We promise to find ways and means to establish a beautification Program. First by growing seedlings and shrubs at the sewage Disposal Plant for transplanting, in accord with a plan, and the garden clubs collaboration.

We feel the foregoing objectives to be sound and of great need if our City is to continue its progress, and we believe further that by continued economics in government, these improvements can be brought about without any increase in real estate taxes, and we therefore subscribe wholeheartedly to this program.

Friends School

The "New Building" which will house the upper-grade children is less familiar, for it is just visible from the highway, and was only completed in January of this year.

The "New Building" is modern, sunny, of fireproof-brick construction. "It had to be built," said Mrs. Wilson, "to meet the school's growing needs". In two years' time, attendance had more than tripled—and we'd added the third and fourth grades."

Fifth grade teacher will be Mrs. Joseph D. Deal, who this past year has taught third grade at Friends. Educated at Sweetbriar and the College of William and Mary, she first taught at Mrs. W. S. Johns' School, then at Garrison-Williams in Norfolk. For many years she has directed plays for the Children's Theatre in Norfolk, and also for Graham School.

Active in her own denomination (Episcopal), she is a past president of the Virginia Council of Church Women.

Mrs. Nancy Kilmer will continue to teach Friends' five-year-old kindergarteners. She studied at Bates College, Bates, Maine; the University of Caen, Normandy, France; at New York University and at Columbia.

Kindergarten teacher for the four-year-olds will be Mrs. Sandra Sullivan, who after graduating in '54 from LaSalle College in Newton, Mass., taught the nursery school at Nazareth Orphanage in Boston, then served in '56 as assistant registrar at Brandeis University. This past year she has taught a nursery group at Friends.

Virginia Beach Friends School, founded in September, 1956, is one of the youngest of all the Friends Schools in this country. First and oldest—William Penn Charter School in Philadelphia—was established by William Penn himself in 1689.

There are now, in the U. S., 19 elementary schools, 22 elementary and high schools combined (including Moses Brown School in Providence, Baltimore Friends, and Sidwell Friends in Washington), and 11 colleges (including Bryn Mawr, Haverford, and Swarthmore).

Like the rest of these 52 schools and colleges, Virginia Beach Friends receives careful and continuous examinations from the Friends Council of Education whose headquarters are in Philadelphia.

However, only an approximate 20 per cent of the students in all 52 are Quakers, and only five of this past year's total enrollment at Virginia Beach Friends.

Linkhorn Park School Carnival To Be Held Saturday, May 24th

The Linkhorn Park Carnival booths will open Saturday, May 24th at 3 p.m. on the school grounds on Laskin road, to usher in what promises to be the most fun packed, exciting school carnival Virginia Beach has yet seen.

There will be amusement rides, games, a country store, snack booths, movie cartoons and many, many other fun things. A hot dinner will be served from the hours of 5 to 7 p.m. There will be a dance for teenagers from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The public is invited to come and bring the children. General admission price is 10 cents for both children and adults. All proceeds from this event will be used for playground equipment for the school.

Credit for an exceptional job of planning and making possible this most promising school carnival goes to the general co-chairmen:

Mrs. H. L. Snyder, Mrs. G. R. Reynolds and Mrs. R. G. Bosher, Art chairman, Mrs. Norman Sedell; ticket chairman, Mrs. H. S. Schwab; treasurer, Mrs. Ray Fullerton; chairman of both construction, Captain F. L. DuBois; chairman of horticultural booth, Mrs. Spencer Lott, Mrs. William Huck; food chairman, Mrs. Richard Welton, Mrs. J. Peter Holland; safety chairman, Mrs. Charles S. Terry; publicity chairman, Mrs. W. F. Ferrell; chairman for the dinner, Mrs. Marie Wilson.

In 1918 the base pay of Navy nurses was increased to $60.00 per month.

Festival of Music To Be May 9th

The Virginia Beach High School Chorus,' under the direction of J. William Miller, will be present its annual "Spring Festival of Music" on Friday, May 9th, at 8:15 p.m. The festival will be the main highlight of Open House and will be held in the Virginia Beach High School auditorium. Admission will be 75c for adults and 50c for students.

The program will include solos, selections by the Teentones, the boys' quartet, and the entire chorus. Linda Williamson, accompanist, will also appear as piano soloist. Mrs. Willa Walton, flutist, will play the obligato part of Gluck's O Savior, Hear Me, with Miss Faye Coppedge as a vocal soloist.

The second part of the program will include folk tunes, spirituals, novelty numbers and selections from "My Fair Lady" to be sung by the chorus.

Tickets may be purchased from any chorus member or at the ticket office on the evening of the concert.

In 1865, after the siege of Vicksburg, the Navy outfitted a confiscated Confederate steamer as a floating hospital. Nuns of a nursing sisterhood went aboard to care for the patients.

Mike Katsias Heads East Carolina Student Body

Emanuel ("Mike") Katsias, son of Mrs. Despina Katsias of 612 23rd street, Virginia Beach, Virginia, and a rising senior at East Carolina College, Greenville, North Carolina, has recently been elected president of the student government association of that college.

A 1955 graduate of Virginia Beach High School, Mike is the first out-of-state student ever to attain the S.G.A. presidency at East Carolina College.

In addition to this honor, Mike has served also as president of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity, and as president of the Senate of the North Carolina State Student Legislature. He participates in school athletics as well, and is a member of the tennis team.

A Social Studies Major, Mike is interested in attending law school after graduation, or possibly in entering the teaching profession.

When queried in a recent questionnaire concerning the preparation he had received for college at Virginia Beach High School, Mike responded: "I feel that I obtained a well-balanced foundation for college there. My opportunities for knowledge were abundant—not making use of them to the fullest extent was my only regret."

In 1918 the base pay of Navy nurses was increased to $60.00 per month.

Dear Molly,
Dear Molly
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Section 15-10 of the 1950 Code of Virginia, that the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, proposes to enact the following described ordinance adopting "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958", at its meeting to be held at 10:00 A.M. on May 26, 1958, in the Board of Supervisor's Room, Princess Anne County, Virginia (copies of the complete Code are available for public inspection at the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors):

An Ordinance adopting a revision and codification of the Ordinances of the County of Princess Anne County, Virginia, providing for the repeal of certain Ordinances not included therein and containing a descriptive notice of the new revisions in accordance with Section 15-10 of the Code of Virginia, 1950.

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Princess Anne has caused its ordinances of a general and permanent nature to be compiled and revised and has also added certain new regulations, all of which are embodied in a revision and codification known as "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958"; now, therefore

Be it Ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, as follows:

Section 1. That the ordinances of the County of Princess Anne, of a general and permanent nature as codified in the following chapters, namely Chapters 1 to 20, both inclusive, are ordained as general ordinances and are adopted as "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958."

Pursuant to Section 15-10 of the Code of Virginia, 1950, this codification consists of the following chapters: 1. General Provisions; 2. Advertising; 3. Alcoholic Beverages; 4. Animals; 5. Bondsmen; 6. Building Code; 7. Coin-Operated Machines; 8. Electricity; 9. Excavations; 10. Ex-Convicts; 11. Food and Food Establishments; 12. Garbage and Refuse; 13. Junk Yards, Automobile Graveyards and Dumps; 14. Motor Vehicles and Traffic; 15. Offenses—Miscellaneous; 16. Plumbing; 17. Sewage Disposal; 18. Tattooing; 19. Taxicabs and Other Vehicles For Hire; 20. Trailers and Trailer Camps.

Also pursuant to Section 15-10 of the Code of Virginia, 1950, the following chapters are broken down into the following new sections:

Chapter 1. General Provisions.
1-1. How Code designated and Cited.
1-2. Rules of construction.
1-3. Provisions considered as continuations of existing ordinances.
1-4. Severability of parts of Code.
1-5. Catchlines of sections.
1-6. General penalty; continuing violations.
1-7. Fines and costs.

Chapter 15. Offenses—Miscellaneous.
15-1. Aiding and abetting violations of ordinances.
15-11. Disturbing the peace.
15-19. Hawkers, peddlers, solicitors, etc.
15-20. Indecent conduct, etc.
15-21. Indecent or lewd books, pictures, plays, demonstrations, etc.
15-22. Injuring or destroying property belonging to the county.
15-23. Same—Belonging to any person.
15-25. Prostitution, etc.
15-27. Resisting, obstruction, etc., officers in discharge of duties.
15-28. Trespassing.
15-30. Weapons—Discharging.
15-31. Same — Carrying concealed.

Section 2. That all the provisions of "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958," shall be in force and effect on and after the 26th day of June, 1958, and all ordinances of a general and permanent nature adopted by the Board of Supervisors and in force on January 20, 1958, and not contained in "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958," are hereby repealed from and after the 26th day of June, 1958, except as hereinafter provided.

Section 3. That the repeal provided for in the preceding section of this ordinance shall not affect any offense or act committed or done or any penalty or forfeiture incurred or any contract or right established or accuring before the 26th day of June, 1958; nor shall such repeal affect any ordinance or resolution promising or guaranteeing the payment of money for the County or authorising the issue of any bonds of such County or any evidence of such County's indebtedness, or any contract or obligation assumed by such County; nor shall such repeal affect any ordinance or resolution establishing any salary or wage for any County official or employee; nor shall such repeal affect the administrative ordinances or resolutions of the Board of Supervisors not in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Code; nor shall it affect any right or franchise conferred by any ordinance; nor shall it affect any prosecution, suit or other proceeding pending or any judgment rendered on or prior to the 26th day of June, 1958; nor shall it affect any ordinance of the County adopted and becoming effective after the 20th day of January, 1958.

Section 4. That a copy of "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958" be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and be made available to persons desiring to examine the same.

Section 5. That this ordinance be and the same hereby is made effective on and after June 26, 1958.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Shades of Tom Sawyer

Everybody knew Community Hall couldn't go another season without a paint job. So Judge Cunningham asked for volunteers—and about a dozen people raised their hands.

Trouble was most of the volunteers never got around to working. Weeks went by. Last Thursday the Judge got an idea.

He painted the name of each delinquent volunteer—in big letters—across the part of the building the man had agreed to paint. That did it—we'll have a freshly painted Hall by the weekend!

From where I sit, sometimes we have to be reminded of our obligations. Like every so often, I try and point out how important "neighborly respect" is in a community. You may prefer soda pop. I like an occasional cold glass of beer. We ought to respect each other's choice. Excuse me now, I've got to go help paint Community Hall.

Firestone Service Store Opening Today in Oceana

The new Firestone Sales and Service store at Oceana opens this weekend amid an atmosphere of gaiety with gifts and prizes galore.

The new store is located on Virginia Beach Boulevard west of the traffic light in Oceana. The operators of the new Firestone outlet in this area are two young men, C. M. "Chuck" Baylor, Jr., and Roland Hyde.

Grand prize for the opening will be a choice of a Philco TV set, a five horsepower outboard motor, or a 7,000 gallon swimming pool.

There will be many other prizes such as a bicycle, Firestone tires, power lawn mower, clock radio, free plastic rain hoods, zinnia seeds, car wash sponges and free balloons for the kiddies.

The building is a new modern structure constructed by the Gatewood Construction Corporation of London Bridge. The building is of brick and masonry construction and is 80 by 60 feet. It has more than 5,000 square feet of floor space.

A feature of the store's opening will be a broadcast of the "Darlington Rebel 300" stock car race over Radio Station WBOP on Saturday.

The public is invited to the opening of this new store and everyone is urged to register for the prizes. It will not be necessary to be present to win, it was announced.

JUNIOR LEAGUE OF NORFOLK

The Junior League of Norfolk has announced plans for a benefit ball to be held Wednesday night, June 11 at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club.

Proceeds will be used to further the various community projects undertaken by the Junior League.

Tickets will be available from members of the league in Norfolk and Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Robert Beasley is chairman of the ball committee. Working with her are Mrs. William C. Haycox and Mrs. Karl Schwartz III.

Tauya's friends attending the dance were: Jimmy Vaughan, Butch Shaw, Kathy Klein, Laurie Peccia, Jack Pruitt, Charles Handy, Dennis Kalinoski, Janice Hendricks, Shirley Grisom, Martha Ilis, Charles Stoneham, Paul Kelly, Anna Shoffer, Bernard Woody and Barbara Doone.

NORFOLK SYMPHONY GROUP TO GIVE FREE CONCERT

An informal free concert by the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra will lead off the celebration of National Music Week on Mother's Day, Sunday afternoon at 3:30. A large turnout of music lovers is expected to fill the spacious, air conditioned Norfolk Arena.

The concert, which is being held in connection with the current Symphony Membership Drive, will be conducted by Mr. Edgar Schenkman, now in his 10th year with the Norfolk orchestra. The program will include such favorites as excerpts from "My Fair Lady," "Nutcracker Suite" and Schubert's "Marche Militaire."

Mrs. J. H. Van Loon Heads Bay Shore Garden Club

Mrs. J. H. Van Loon was elected president of the Bay Shore Garden Club of Virginia Beach at a meeting held at DelHaven Gardens on Tuesday, April 29th, Mrs. D. B. Boykin, chairman of the nominating committee, presented other officers to serve during the ensuing year—Mrs. J. S. Mathews, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Fretz, secretary and Mrs. T. J. Kenney, treasurer.

Mrs. Van Loon presided at the business meeting.

Recognition was given to Mrs. J. G. Trafton Jr., who has served as president for the past year, for the outstanding work and interest given to the club. Reports for the past year were rendered by the various chairmen.

Mrs. C. G. Baughman spoke on the recent flower show sponsored by the Cavalier Garden Club, of which she is president, and stated that a similar show would be held next year, and that the Bay Shore Garden Club would be invited to enter arrangements.

Nineteen members and guests attended.

A delicious picnic lunch was served, after which a tour of the DelHaven Garden was made.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Tyler Ellis have had as their guests, Mrs. Ellis' son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. W. D. Holland of Washington and Mr. Ellis' sister, Mrs. Ambrose Marye and Miss Pearl Tyler Ellis of Shawville, Va. Next week end they will have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Booker and Mrs. Munford Ellis of Washington.

ARMED FORCES OBSERVANCE TO BE ON MAY 17

"Power for Peace"

The Army's "Nike" surface-to-air guided missile stands ready to be launched to destroy any unidentified aircraft that might approach this area. In conjunction with Armed Forces Day, May 17, the "Nike" will be one of the many static displays at the Oceana Naval Air Station Open House. Plan to attend the Armed Forces Day Open House and witness the static displays which gives us our theme "Power for Peace." (Official U.S. Navy Photo.)

Oceana Air Station Host to Public for Open House

A showing of the latest and fastest Navy and Air Force Jets, static displays of the Army's "Nike" guided missile and the Navy's "Regulus," Jet aircraft engines, Army helicopters, and a Coast Guard Helicopter Rescue Team, are just part of the many events that are planned for the ninth annual Armed Forces Day Open House Program which is to be held at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Oceana.

Other displays will include crash and salvage equipment, survival gear, ordnance equipment, communications equipment, movies, medical and dental displays and guided tours around the station, which will include a tour through the Radar Air Traffic Control Center.

The open house will commence at 9 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 17 and Sunday, May 18th. Saturday's events will highlight the two-day open house. On Sunday, the open house will consist of tours only.

PHOTOGRAPHY PERMITTED

Visitors will be allowed to take pictures of all static displays which will include aircraft on display and unrestricted areas on the station. Visitors may obtain photographers passes from the sentries on the main gate.

SCHEDULED EVENTS

Friends and neighbors of the local community and Tidewater area are in for a varied amount of demonstrations and exhibitions by units from Oceana, Langley Air Force Base, Fort Story and the Coast Guard Air Station from Elizabeth City, N.C.

During the events for Saturday, guests will witness jets taking off and landing while practicing Field Carrier Landing Practices, Mirror Landings, breakups and formation passes over the field.

One of the main static displays will be in the area of the Miramar Hangar, where visitors will see the latest types of attack and fighter aircraft of both the Navy and Air Force. These will include the F11F "Tiger," F8U "Crusader," A4D "Skyhawk," F4D "Skyray," F3H "Demon," FJ3 "Furie," AD "Skyraider" and the Air Force B-57 bomber, a KB-50 in-flight refueling tanker, an F-102 fighter and an F-101 fighter.

A Coast Guard Helicopter Rescue Unit from Elizabeth City, N.C. will stage a helicopter rescue at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Helicopters from the Naval Air Station Oceana, and Fort Eustis will be flying around the field throughout the day.

Hourly flights by different types of jets will be held all day Saturday commencing at 9:30 a.m.

A model airplane contest is scheduled on Saturday at the corner of 5th street and "D" avenue.

STATIC DISPLAYS

Static displays in the Miramar Hangar will consist of the Army's "Nike" surface-to-air guided missile, Navy guided missile, which will include the "Regulus;" a Army Duke, jet engines, crash and salvage fire-fighting equipment, ordnance displays, this includes bombs and rockets, and a display by the Medical and Dental Department.

GUIDED TOURS

A conducted guided tour through the Radar Air Traffic Control Center in the Operations Building will be another highlight of the day. Here, visitors can witness air controlmen tracking aircraft on radar as far as two hundred miles from the station and guide them to the runways at Oceana.

Guided tours around the Master Jet Base will be held all day Saturday and Sunday.

Plan to attend the Armed Forces Day Program at your Naval Air Station in Oceana. Bring your friends and children and spend the day. See the latest in jet aircraft, guided missiles, the most modern device used to land aircraft, and static displays, which gives us our theme "Power For Peace."

Navy's Latest Jet

Holder of the 1956 Thompson Trophy National Speed record, of 1,015 miles per hour, the Chance Vought F8U-1 Crusader, will be one of the many jet aircraft on display on Armed Forces Day at NOS Oceana. Friends and neighbors from the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach and Tidewater area are invited to the Open House which will be held at NAS Oceana and will commence at 9 a.m. on Saturday, May 17th. Golf Ranch Motel Featured In American Motel Magazine

Virginia Beach's Golf Ranch Motel was prominently displayed in the April issue of the American Motel Magazine and signaled out among motels as one that has "capitalized on golf."

Located adjacent to the tenth fairway of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club golf course, the Golf Ranch attracts a great number of golfers as guests, according to the magazine article.

Much credit is due John B. Smith and George R. Guy, owners and developers of the Golf Ranch. Both are avid golfers and the motel theme comes naturally to them. However, the Golf Ranch Motel is credited with being the origin of the "new look" at Virginia Beach.

Smith and Guy took the first step in bringing new motels to Virginia Beach and now the city can boast of several new modern motels.

The Golf Ranch not only is attractive to the eye but it affords its guests a well rounded program of entertainment and is equipped with numerous recreational facilities.

At the present time the Golf Ranch is featuring Bob Bellows, nationally-known singer- pianist, in the evenings in the motel's club room. There is always something to do at the Golf Ranch, according to R. W. Baughman, it's manager.

The Golf Ranch is a member of the Quality Court system and is popular the year round.

County to Organize Girls' Teen Softball League

Oceana — The Princess Anne Recreation Department will hold an organizational meeting Friday evening, May 9 at 8 p.m. in the recreation office located in Oceana, Virginia, to formulate plans for a girls' teen softball league.

Games will be played once a week at night either at Oceana or Kempsville stadiums. Public, private, and commercial organizations desiring to sponsor a team in this league are urged to have a representative at this meeting.

Thalia Lynn Baptist Church Buys Property on Boulevard

The Thalia Lynn Baptist Church presently meeting in the Thalia Elementary School has completed purchase of property for their future church home. The property consists of the 44 lots in Block 9 of Sunnybrook in Princess Anne County.

It is adjacent to Princess Anne High School and fronts on Virginia Beach boulevard. The home presently on the property is to be remodeled into a small auditorium for week day group meetings, church offices, nursery, kitchen, and pastor's study.

Total purchase price of the property $33,500.00. Secured by a committee of the church, Mr. M. M. Bateman, chairman; A. J. Chewning III; V. Alfred Etheridge Jr.; U. A. Sailwasser.

Thalia Lynn Baptist Church was organized June 30, 1957, with 86 members. There are now 440 enrolled in Sunday School. A full southern Baptist program of activities such as training union, brotherhood, woman's missionary union, church music program, is sponsored.

In addition to remodeling the home a beautification program to improve the appearance of the lot will be in progress throughout the summer. The architect department of the Sunday School board of the Southern Baptist convention is being consulted concerning plans for location and type of construction for the educational and church plant.

E Irwin Mosher, former Army chaplain, has been pastor of the church since September, 1957.

County Playground Directors Are Named

Oceana — Jim Lail, recreation director for Princess Anne County announced here today that the directors will be employed to operate and supervise 16 playgrounds.

The playgrounds and the directors that will supervise them are as follows:

Larrymore and Little Creek—William Gilliams and Joan Sharpe; Bayside— Bernie Shields and Edith Shields; Shelton Park and J. B. Dey—Fred Soles and Shirley McLawhorne; Aragona and Thalia —Lewis Breedlove and Marietta Perry; Oceana and Linkhorn Park—Rosemary Lamb and June Jenkins; Seatack—John Skinner and Ines Wilson; County Training School—Judge Goes and Evelyn Smith; Kempsville and Woodstock—Bob Stranahorn and Rebekah Haynes; Seaboard — Peggy Greene; Courthouse and Creeds—Alice Shaffer and Shirley Harrell

MAY DAY PROGRAM

Clark-Staples Wedding Vows Are Exchanged

The marriage of Miss Larna Lee Staples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bray Staples of Belcross, N.C., to Lt. Richard Godfrey Clark, USN, of Norfolk and Brooklyn, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Howard Clark of Brooklyn, N.Y., took place Saturday, April 26, at 5 p.m. in the Sawyer Creek Baptist Church, Belcross.

The ceremony, was performed by the Rev. Maurice Grimsom, assisted by the Rev. A. C. McCall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of embroidered tulle over satin. The bouffant skirt was misty with tulle over embroidery. Her finger-tip veil was arranged from a pearlized tiarra. She carried a cascade of white snapdragons, white butterfly roses, centered with white orchids.

Miss Sally Jeannette Sedgwick was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Carolyn Johnson and Marietta Perry. They wore full waltz length gowns of turquoise nylon chiffon over taffeta, styled with softly draped neckline of aqua that formed a flying panel in the back to the hemline, short sleeves and shirred bodice complimenting the full skirts.

Their matching half hats of nylon braid were trimmed in pearls with circular veils. They carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations and pink aristocrat roses.

Warren Grillsman of Brooklyn was best man. The groomsmen were Lt. (jg) James Hathrock, USN, of Altoona, Pa., Derek Williamson of Flemington, N.J., Lt. (jg) B. M. Ervin of Bristol and Lt. (jg) Cornelius Prior of Hartford, Conn.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Camden Yacht Club. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to the Poconos, Pa. They are residing at 209½ 50th street, Virginia Beach.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. David N. Stormont III announce the birth of their fourth child, second daughter, Katherine Barrett, Sunday, April 27, at the Virginia Beach Hospital. Mrs. Stormont is the former Miss Madeline Welton of Norfolk.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

STORY SERGEANT COMMENDED MAY 2, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—A member of Fort Story's 554th Transportation Company received a letter of commendation from the Commanding General of the Transportation Training Command at Friday's retreat formation of the 10th Transportation Battalion.

Sergeant Jesse W. Knight was given the award for his performance in last summer's arctic resupply mission with his company. Sergeant Knight organized and supervised the maintenance crew that serviced LCM boats and LCU's that were used to bring the supplies from ship to shore. During the time that Sergeant Knight was in charge of the maintenance crew no boat was deadlined.

The commendation letter was signed by Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., and presented to Sergeant Knight by Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy Jr., commanding officer of the 10th battalion.

ARMORED OFFICERS VISIT STORY MAY 6, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—One hundred twenty faculty members and advanced officer students of the Armored School at Fort Knox, Kentucky visited Fort Story Tuesday, May 6.

The students, most of them in the ranks of captain and major, were given a demonstration of the latest Transportation Corps amphibious and logistical vehicles. The contingent, led by Brigadier General James I. King, assistant commandant of the Armored School, were shown the huge BARC (the Army's largest amphibian), the Landing Craft Retriever, Rolligs Fluid Transporter, and other logistical and supply equipment.

Prior to the Fort Story demonstration the visitors were given a brief orientation at Fort Eustis, and a helicopter tour over Eustis port facilities.

Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command, accompanied the group from Fort Eustis.

STORY HOSTS ITALIAN OFFICERS MAY 5, 1958

Fort Story, Va. — Fort Story played host to three officers of the Italian Army Monday, May 5, showing them the Army's latest amphibious and logistical equipment in addition to modern Army amphibious training.

Colonel Alfredo Inferrera, Captain Guiseppe Garafapa, and Captain Domenico Martinelli arrived early in the morning and spent half a day at the Cape Henry Army post.

During the tour the three Italian officers were accompanied by Captain Guido P. Torsani, USA, of Fort Eustis, and Lieutenant Eugene Langillo, USA, of Fort Story.

DENTIST REPORTS TO STORY

Fort Story, Va.—A new Army dentist reported to Fort Story Friday, May 2. First Lt. Henry C. Floyd was assigned to the Cape Henry post from the dental detachment of the U. S. Army Hospital at Fort Eustis.

A native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin and a graduate of the Marquette University Dental Schol. Lieutenant Floyd entered the Army in August 1957. After preliminary Army training at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, he was assigned to Fort Eustis.

STORY COMPANY IN NEWFOUNDLAND MAY 3, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—Fort Story's 554th Transportation Company, on a temporary duty status at Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, since the first week in April, has been getting a "work-out" in its first three weeks of operation, handling over 2,100 measurement-tons and 856 long-tons of supplies to and from U. S. Navy vessels.

The terminal service company, commanded by First Lt. Thomas W. Hughes, was the first of four such units to leave Fort Story for the arctic. Its mission is to provide stevedoring facilities for the hundreds of tons of supplies that pour into the northern ports each summer for the remote radar outposts operated by the Air Force.

According to word received from the 554th by its parent unit, the 14th Transportation Battalion, all of the operations to this date have been carried on from two vessels, the USNS Valdez and the USNS Kelly. The two ships make regular runs to the Harmon port.

The unit left Fort Story April 1 for an eight-month stay at the Newfoundland base.

MAJOR BAKER ASSIGNED TO 10th BATTALION APRIL 28,

Fort Story, Va.—Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion has a new operations officer, Major Edgar A. Baker reported to the Cape Henry Army post over the week end and was assigned to the battalion by Headquarters, 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C."

A veteran of 16 years Army service, Major Baker was last assigned to the U. S. Army Transportation Group on the island of Okinawa. During World War II he served as Assault Commander of the 759th Truck Battalion attached to the First Armored Division in Europe. During the Korean Conflict he served with the 69th Transportation Battalion. He holds the Bronze Star, Silver Star, and Purple Heart.

A native of Florida, Major Baker is a graduate of Florida A & M College in Tallahassee. Prior to entering the Army in 1942 he taught in Orlando and Lake Wales schools in Florida.

CHAPLAIN REPORTS FOR NORTHERN OPERATION APRIL 30, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion is the new organization for Chaplain (First Lieutenant) Haicott M. Turner. The chaplain reported to his new unit Wednesday, April 30.

Chaplain Turner, a native of Richmond, will be further assigned to one of the Fort Story terminal service companies that will take part in the annual resupply mission to Arctic radar outposts.

Chaplain Turner graduated from Augusta Military Academy in Fort Defiance Virginia before attending the University of Virginia. A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, he graduated from University of Virginia in 1954. He was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry upon graduation from Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and immediately entered the Army. His last assignment was as Chaplain of the 1st Training Regiment at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The Fort Story area is not new to Chaplain Turner, as he has spent summers as a life-guard at Virginia Beach.

STORY SOLDIER OF THE MONTH APRIL 30, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—A veteran of 14 years in the United States Army has been chosen Fort Story's Soldier of the Month for May.

The winner of the award is Sergeant Walter Holmes, a section leader with the 565th Terminal Service Company. Holmes entered the Army in April 1944 and was in Europe by December of the same year. Before reporting to Story, Holmes was stationed in St. Nazaire, France with the 168th Terminal Service Company.

Colonel George E. Woods Jr., post commander, presented the award to Holmes in a letter. A parade will be held in his honor this month.

The 42-year-old sergeant will go with his company to the Arctic in the annual supply mission at the end of June.

CIVILIANS AWARDED AT STORY APRIL 28, 1958

Awards were given to civilian personnel at Fort Story by Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command in the post theater Monday(April 28.

Mr. Bernard L. Jennette, lead foreman in the post Ordnance warehouse, was given an award for "20 years of honorable and faithful civilian service in the federal government."

Citations were given to seven employeees who have accumulated 1,000 hours of sick leave. They are Horace A. Abney, Hilton D. Gray, Mrs. Lillie M. Hill, Earnest James, Melvin O. Owens, Joseph R. Rogers and Mr. Jesse W. Vollva.

Cash awards and citations for "superior performance in one or more of their major duties" were given to Ralph L. Gifford, Mrs. Lillian E. Farley, Mrs. Nellie H. Robert, Earnest W. sckson, Mrs. June W. Manly, Edward Bell, John Carrick, Howard Morris, Barney Patterson and Charlie Rawls.

Following the award ceremonies, General Lincoln concluded his talk on the "Civilian Personnel Program." Music for the meeting was rendered by the 394th Army Band of Fort Eustis.

ADVANCE PARTY LEAVES FOR ARCTIC APRIL 28, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—The advance party of Fort Story's 565th Transportation Company, over 50-men strong, left the Cape Henry Army post Tuesday, April 29 morning for Sondrestrom Harbor, Greenland.

The 565th, a terminal service company, will be attached to Operation SUNEC (Support Unit NorthEast Command) for the summer months to off-load the tons of supplies that will be delivered by Naval vessels.

The advance party will travel by bus to McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey where a MATS plane will meet them fo rthe Arctic flight. The party is commanded by Lieutenant Francis A. Privitere. He will be assisted by CWO Rawland P. Crosby and Master Sergeant Pulip Ginoblanogon.

The bulk of the company consisting of the remaining 154 men are slated to depart Fort Story May 25th to join the advance party in Greenland.

The unit, a part of the 10th Transportation Battalion, is under the command of Captain George F. Schmalhofer Jr.

MAUDE FULFORD GOLDEN CIRCLE

The Maude Fulford Golden Circle held their regular meeting Wednesday, April 30 at 1:00 p.m. in the newly constructed club room at Delhaven Gardens. (Delhaven is located on the Lynnhaven River and is at its peak now. It is certainly well worth a visit.) The president, Mrs. F. L. Lunsford, presided.

Members present were: Mrs. L. Anderson, Mrs. George Vellines, Mrs. E. L. Cooper, Mrs. J. B. Fay Sr., Mrs. Fulford, Mrs. Curtis Hall, Mrs. F. L. Lunsford, Mrs. P. L. Mueller, Mrs. Herman Oliver, Mrs. T. B. Petty, Mrs. B. V. Reynolds Sr. and Mrs. John West.

The birthdays of Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Villines were celebrated.

Mrs. Fulford announced that the club cleared $13.50 on it's sale of African violets and begonias.

The Golden Circle is sponsored by the Garden Department of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach.

BAYSIDE LIONS BROOM SALE

Plans are progressing for the forthcoming Lions Broom Sale. This is a project of all Lions clubs. This year the men will sell brooms, doormats, and ironing board covers, which are all made by the blind. The money derived from the sale of these articles is used by the Lions Clubs for their work with the blind, furnishing eye glasses for needy children, and their "sight conversation" program.

The Bayside Lions will be out May 14, 15 and 16 , knocking on doors for this annual project. Best thing to do is to get ready for them. Hide your money in a teapot so you will have it when they knock on your door.!

CHESAPEAKE BEACH DUPLICATE BRIDE CLUB

The winners in the April 30 session of the Chesapeake Beach Duplicate Bridge session were:

First place, Lt. L. B. Robbins and A. W. Cliff, USN; second place, Maj. and Mrs. D. A. Hutchison, USA; third place, Mrs. W. F. Paulson and Mrs. R. J. Webbon; fourth place, Mrs. M. D. Kedvin and Ted Kemp.

The Duplicate Bridge Club meets each Wednesday night at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. Play begins promptly at 7:45 p.m. It is sponsored by the Recreation Department of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach.

Wednesday night, May 14, the Duplicate Bridge Club will not play due to the fact that the Community Center will be used by the Lions Club in their broom sale.

DIAMOND SPRINGS CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWS

Mrs. Leon W. DeShields, president of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the Diamond Springs Christian Church, attended the state Christian Women's Fellowship session at Natural Bridge on April 26 and 27. During the meeting, she assisted in the Sunday morning worship service.

The Rev. and Mrs. John W. Johnson and sons, of Norlina road, have recently returned from a two-weeks vacation. While away, they visited relatives in Ohio and in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

The Men's Fellowship of the Diamond Springs Christian Church served as hosts for the South Tidewater District Christian Men's Fellowship meeting April 25. Leon DeShields, local president, presided. The dinner was served to the men by members of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the church.

The Diamond Springs Christian Church will hold a Vacation Church School workshop on May 7 and 8 at the church. Assisting in the workshop will be Mrs. L.P. Cornett, state chairman of children's work for disciples.

The state convention of the Disciples of Christian Churches will be held at First Christian Church, Salem, May 14-16. Among the speakers for the event will be the Rev. J. Stuart Wake of First Christian Church, Norfolk.

Mr. Alex Earnest, a Norfolk layman, is serving as vice president for the convention. Several members of the Diamond Springs Christian Church expect to attend.

THE SHOPPING CENTER'S open insight, and the ad looks good, so Mildred Williams is doing a little shopping by phone (with her husband Joel on the sidelines). Mrs. Williams saves a lot of time this way; she's able to shop around, compare prices without walking from store to store.

Wednesday evening at the Williams'

In the evening, Joel Williams' house at 629 73rd Street, Warwick, is a pretty busy place. The kids have their homework to do, or friends to call; Mr. Williams, after a busy day as foreman for a concrete paving contractor, is usually in his workshop, working with wood. And Mrs. Williams? Well, she's probably the busiest of the lot.

For Mildred Williams is not only a mother of four and a housewife. She puts in a full day as a secretary for a local moving and storage firm. On top of this, she's also a Councilwoman of The City of Warwick, President of the Warwick Federation of P.T.A.s, member of two other P.T.A.s. and several other civic groups.

All these activities mean a great many phone calls—after working hours. Mrs. Williams tells us that she'd "never be able to get through a single day without the telephone." We don't see how she does it—but we're proud we can help Mrs. Williams do so much for her community.

BABY BEEF SHOW AND SALE HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Robert Hamilton of Norfolk County won the Grand Champion of the Portsmouth Fatstock Show with his 915 pound prime Hereford steer. The Grand Champion was purchased by Southern States Norfolk Service at 55c a pound.

The Reserve Champion of the show was shown by Johnny Joyce of Princess Anne County. The prime Shorthorn was purchased by Colonial Stores for 42c a pound.

Johnny also won the Champion Shorthorn award of the show and Jimmy Barrett showed the Reserve Champion Shorthorn. Jimmy is also from Princess Anne.

Billy Brown won the Princess Anne Champion Angus and Reserve Angus Champion of the show.

Al Basnight won the Princess Anne Hereford champion with his brother taking second place in the fitting and showingship class, Jimmy Bornett, showing his 760 pound Shorthorn won first place.

This class is judged on the basis of how well the animal is fitted for showing and the actual showing by the 4-H Club members. In some respects the 4-H club members is judged here and not the calf.

The placings of the Princess Anne Angus steers in order were Billy Brown, Billy Curns, Everett Smith, Gene Smith, and Tommy Chism.

The Hereford placings were Al Basnight, Richard Basnight, Curtis Shirley, Alan Spence, and Tommy Upton.

In the Shorthorn class were Johnny Joyce, Jimmy Barrett, Bobby Barnes, Eddie Mayo, and Jamie Buffington.

The average price per pound of the sale was 34.14. This is one of the better sales averages we have enjoyed over the past nine years that we have been conducting this Baby Beef Show and Sale. We are grateful to all of the buyers that purchased calves at this sale. We are especially grateful to Southern States Norfolk Service for purchasing the Grand Champion animal and five others. We wish to commend Southern States Norfolk Service for its fine support of this Baby Beef Program because it must be noted that Southern States is not a user of beef.

Other large buyers of calves were Colonial Stores, A & P Company, and Perlin Packing and many individuals bought calves to go into their freezers at home.

PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY GRAIN SORGHUM RECOMMENDATIONS

Varieties

Plainsman and Martin's Combine.

Planting Rates

A pound of grain sorghum contains from 13,000 to 20,000 seeds depending on the variety. This necessitates different rates of seeding which will vary from 4 to 7 pounds per acre. Plants should be spaced 4 to 6 inches apart in the row. Small seed use 4 pounds per acre. Large seed use 7 pounds per acre.

Row Width

Row width can vary from 24 to 42 inches. A grain drill can be used by stopping up holes in the drill to make the desired spacing. Broadcasting is not recommended because of the weed hazard.

Date of Seeding

Plant no sooner than 1 to 2 weeks after corn. Planting period may range from May 16 to June 15. Be careful not to plant too late. It may not mature before frost.

Fertilization

Either of the two methods listed below are satisfactory.

A. 400 to 700 pounds of 10-10-10 at planting.

B. 400 to 700 pounds of 5-10-10 or 4-12-12 plus enough nitrogen sidedressing to bring total nitrogen to 60 to 70 pounds. Sidedress when plants are 25 to 35 days old. Ideal plant food for sorghum is from 40 to 70 pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash.

Chemical Weed Control

Same as for corn.

PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY SOYBEAN RECOMMENDATIONS

Recommended Varieties

Dorman, Early; Ogden, Intermediate; Lee Woods Yellow, Late; and Intermediate Jackson, Late.

Seed Treatment

For low quality seed or when the weather is likely to be cool and damp after planting, treat your seed with 2 ounces of arasan or spergon per bushel.

Date of Planting

Soybean Growers Club showed that May 20 to June 15 gave the highest yields.

Rate of Planting

Lee—2 to 3 pecks per acre.

All other—3 to 5 pecks per acre. 10 stalks per foot of row is most desirable—checks planter on hard ground.

Fertilization

More efficient results from fertilizer are obtained when applied to the preceding crop. In most rotations an additional 200 to 300 pounds of fertilizer should be applied to the crop preceding soybeans. On soils of extremely low fertility 300 to 400 pounds of 0-14-14 or 0-20-20 can be used to good advantage. Fertilize according to a soil sample.

ANTI CANDIDATE ERRORS-DURHAM

DOWNING NAMES CO-CHAIRMEN IN CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN

WILLIAM P. HUNT

FRED W. BATEMAN

Thomas N. Downing, first district candidate for Congress, subject to the Democratic Primary July 12th announces that Fred W. Bateman of Warwick and William P. Hunt of Hampton have been named district co-managers for his campaign.

Downing also says that plans are being made to open a joint Warwick-Newport News headquarters in Warwick on May 17th.

Both Bateman and Hunt are active in civic, economic and political affairs of the Peninsula and Downing says he is very pleased to have their services.

Bateman was born in Rowe, North Carolina in 1918 and is a graduate of Wake Forest College and the University of North Carolina. He is a veteran of World War II having served in the Navy from 1942 to 1946. He attended the Midshipmen's School at the University of Notre Dame and was commissioned an Ensign.

He is now a Lt. Cmdr. in the United States Naval Reserve. He also is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the United States Naval Institute.

Bateman is Lt. Governor of the Chesapeake District of Kiwanis Club and a thirty second degree Mason.

Bateman is a practicing attorney with offices in Warwick. He is a member of the Illinois Bar, Newport News-Warwick Bar, the Virginia State Bar and the American Bar Association. He served as chairman of the bar committee for Armed Forces in 1957. Bateman is a member of the law firm of Newman, Allaun and Bateman of Newport News-Warwick practicing in the state and federal courts of Illinois and Virginia and Supreme Court of United States.

He is secretary of the Warwick Electoral Board. He served as chairman of a special subcommittee on the Warwick Democratic Action Committee to stimulate interest in the last goverintorial election. He was co-chairman of Governor Almond's campaign committee for the city of Warwick. He was active in the recent election of constitutional officers for the consolidated city of Newport News and Warwick. He also served on a special committee named by the Warwick City Council to draft the charter for the new city which was adopted by referendum and approved by the legislature.

William P. Hunt is a prominent business man of Hampton. He is the owner of the Hunt Oil Company of Hampton and one of the trustees of the Dixie Hospital.

He served on numerous boards of directors on the state and national level including Atlantic State Fisheries Commission, Merchants National Bank of Hampton and Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association. He has been active in civic work in the community for many years and is a past president of the Hampton Kiwanis Club. Downing stated that he is sincerely grateful to both Bateman and Hunt for their interest in his campaign.

Men of this high caliber, he said, will be a vast help to me in the arduous and intense campaign ahead. I am honored and pleased to have their support.

Bate said he is delighted to be one of the leaders in the campaign for the election of Thomas N. Downing to Congress from the first district. He added that Downing is well qualified in all respects for the congressional seat which he seeks and if elected will make a good representative for all the people.

Hunt declared that he is both pleased and honored to be co-chairman of the district committee as well as chairman of the Hampton Committee for Downing.

He added that Downing is fully conversant with the problems of the people of the first district and if elected will do everything within his power to help solve them.

Jaycees to Hold Road-e-o Friday At High School

On Friday, May 16, the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual Safe Driving Road-E-O at the high school at 3:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The written portion was given Wednesday afternoon at the high school. Any interested person who desires to be a contestant should see Mr. King at the high school or call Buddy Cole, GA 8-6382.

The written portion may be taken on Friday afternoon by those who were not able to attend the Wednesday session, Mr. Cole stated.

To be eligible, one must have a driver's license, be under 20 years of age prior to August 1, 1958 and has had no moving traffic violation in the past six months.

Two government bonds and a radio will be given as prizes in the local contest. The local winner will compete in the state finals to be held in June and the winner of the state contest will compete in the national contest in Washington, August 11-14.

Beach Getting Widespread Publicity on New Look

Publicity on Virginia Beach was the keynote at the monthly meeting of The Virginia Beach Advertising Board on May 12th presided over by Sidney Banks, chairman.

Laura Lambe, of the agency handling advertising and publicity made a report of the publicity releases and photos sent out during the past month and showed tear sheets of recent metropolitan papers carrying photos and stories on new construction and "new look" at Virginia Beach.

Among those shown were stories in the New York Herald Tribune, the Philadelphia Inquirer, The Baltimore Sunday American, The Montreal Star, The Washington Star, The Richmond Times Dispatch, The Boston Herald and May issue of the Route 13 Traveler Magazine, which carried a cover photo of Virginia Beach as well as a story.

Plans were also formed for a Press House Party on June 2nd and 3rd when the travel editors of fifty some newspapers and magazines are being invited to be the guests of The Virginia Beach Advertising Board, the City of Virginia Beach, the Chamber of Commerce and the Hotel and Motel Association.

The program includes a tour of the entire beach by chartered bus to show these representatives of the press the beauty of the beach, the new construction, the new look on Atlantic avenue, the Convention Center and the drama site.

This Press House Party has been calendared so that these editors may attend the official opening of the Convention Center. Various promotional and organizational groups will sponsor the various functions on the program planned for the visiting newspaper representatives.

'Confederacy' Plans Almost Completed

Paul Green and Samuel Selden, author and director, of The Confederacy have announced from Chapel Hill that final decisions concerning the cast for this summer's production at Virginia Beach have almost been reached.

As the director for the drama, Selden has considered over one thousand applications for the various parts in the play. The most popular part was that of Robert E. Lee for which over 400 applicants specifically applied. As yet this part has not definitely been cast, although the selection has boiled down to several outstanding actors.

The general manager for the drama, John Cauble, has stated that he expects to have concluded all the contract arrangements for the cast by not later than May 20. Although several of te partsh have tentatively assigned, they will be subject to change and even omission until the script is submitted in its final form.

The cast of over 86 characters and the crews will meet for the first rehearsal at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 5. It is hoped that the stage will be far enough along in construction for rehearsals to begin immediately at the Amphitheatre.

The cast, once in rehearsal, will observe the rigorous schedule of the premiere season with rehearsals morning, afternoon, and evening every day.

Director Selden will arrive at Virginia Beach around June 1 to complete the casting of bit parts and soldiers for both armies.

Little Theatre to Present Final Play of Season

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre will present the last production of their season on May 26th and 27th at the Virginia Beach High School. The play, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" is a comedy in three acts which was a hit on the New York stage with Franchot Tone in the leading role.

Action in the play revolves around a situation in which a psychoanalyst accidentally learns about his fiance's past from a patient. From then on hilarious complications arise.

Dolores East and Jack Postell will co-star in the leading role, and important parts will be played by Vivian Almond, Anne Henry, Don Almond, Lon Beckman and George Mullen. Mr. Arthur Masury will direct the play.

McChesney New Captain for Rescue Squad

R. H. "Buddy" McCHESNEY

R. H. "Buddy" McChesney, Virginia Beach city sergeant, is the new captain of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad following an election held Monday night at the squad's new headquarters building.

Other officers elected were:

Cecil Caton, first lieutenant; Wilson Anderson, second lieutenant; Bill Mergler, sergeant; Marvin Hines, secretary; J. T. Crosswhite Jr., treasurer; David Stormont III, public relations head, and W. K. Macdonald, chaplain.

The squad, composed entirely of volunteer workers, was organized seven years ago. It has 38 active members, and is limited to 40. It is in charge of rescue activities at the Beach and throughout Princess Anne County.

Dr. Chandler Commencement Speaker for Beach Seniors

Dr. Alvin Duke Chandler, president of the College of William and Mary, will address the 57th graduating class of Virginia Beach High School at their commencement exercises in the Virginia Beach Convention Center on June 5, 1958.

DR. ALVIN D. CHANDLER

Dr. Chandler was born in Richmond, Virginia, and attended the Richmond Public Schools and the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia, before his appointment at the age of 16 to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland.

Following graduation from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1923, he saw duty with both the Atlantic and Pacific fleets before reporting for a teaching assignment as an instructor of midshipmen in Electrical Engineering and Physics at the U. S. Naval Academy.

In 1941 he was ordered to the office of the Chief of Naval Operation for a short tour of duty and early in 1942 was again ordered to sea.

During World War II he commanded Destroyer Divisions 30, 41 and Squadrons 21, and 56, and served on the staff of the Commander in Chief, U. S. Fleet. For his services in these campaigns he was awarded the Legion of Merit with Gold Star and V; Bronze Star Medal and V.

After more than 28 years of service, he retired from the Navy as of November 30, 1951, with rank of Vice Admiral, USN (Ret'd.), to become president of the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia.

President Chandler, who resides in Williamsburg, Virginia, is married to the former Louise Michiels of Richmond, Virginia.

President Chandler is chairman of the Commission on Educational Functions and Observances for the Virginia 350th Anniversary Commission (1957 Jamestown Festival). He was one of 19 persons appointed by President Eisenhower to the John Marshall Bicentennial Commission for the national celebration of the 200th anniversary of the famous Chief Justice's birth in 1955. The Italian Government honored him in 1954 when it presented him with the "Star of Solidarity," the highest honor that can be conferred on Americans by the Italian government.

To Play at Convention Hall

Virginia Beach High School Band

Spring Concert To Be Held at Convention Hall

At 8:15 Wednesday evening, May 21st, the doors of Virginia Beach's Convention Hall will open for the first public function to be held in the magnificent new structure.

The event will be the annual Spring Concert by the City of Virginia Beach's popular High School Band and the Willoughby T. Cooke Elementary School Band.

Band Director, Walt Griffith, now completing his third year with the City Schools, stated that the concert represents long hours of enthusiastic work on the part of the ninety-two music students and will be a fitting climax to a year of outstanding achievements for the bands.

The program will include such favorites as selections from "The King And I," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Night on Bald Mountain" from Walt Disney's "Fantasia."

Donation tickets of fifty cents each may be purchased at the high school, Willoughby T. Cooke or at the door on Wednesday evening. Proceeds from the Spring Concert will go toward band projects.

Concert Group Membership Drive In Full Swing

The membership drive of the Virginia Beach Concert Association for the 1958-59 season of concerts.

Under the direction of the Rev. Henry G. Morgan who is chairman of the membership committee, the association is writing personal letters, soliciting by telephone, and through newspaper advertisements in an endeavor to sell the membership of the concert group.

Stress of the campaign is on support of the association as a community endeavor.

Virginia Beach has received from artists elsewhere for the high calibre of the talent brought to the Beach each year by the association. Last year Philippe Entremont, a pianist of distinction, headed the list of artists appearing here. Entremont has performed as soloist with all of the outstanding symphony orchestras in the nation.

Another of the performers last season was Marjorie McClung whose concert was met with critical enthusiasm by local concert goers.

The Feldman Chamber Music Group, always one of the attractions most popular here, was the third concert of last season, and by popular demand will return in the 1958-59 season.

Negotiations are under way for the artists to complete the new season. In addition to the Feldman group, there will be a pianist and a vocalist to fill out the schedule three concerts.

Plans also are to bring in an extra attraction, to be announced at a later date.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Saturday, May 17

All boys who want to tryout for a place on one of the 1958 Virginia Beach Babe Ruth League teams should be at the high school baseball field Saturday, May 17th, at 10:00 a.m.

All managers and coaches should attend to help with the practice and to get a lineup on the prospects to replace those who have graduated, moved or are unable to play this year.

The league needs the help of all parents, and others who are interested in the program, to make the season a success. They are urged to attend and register for umpiring, scorekeeping and other league work. If unable to attend, call John Tucker, GA 8-9718, or Miles Chappell, GA 8-4037, and register.

AUDITOR SAYS CITY FINANCES MIS-STATED

Statement at Political Meeting Challenged

A statement charging the "organization" with straddling the city with a $3,500,000 debt attributed to Council Candidate W. W. McClanan in a news release appearing in the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot on May 9 has been challenged by Virginia Beach City Auditor F. M. Durham.

According to City Auditor Durham the city debt figure McClanan is quoted as having used at an anti-administration political meeting held last week is $566,900 more than the city's actual debt. Durham set out the facts this week in a letter to this newspaper.

Durham charges the statement reportedly made by McClanan concerning the city's debt as erroneous. The City Auditor further stated that $2,844,700 of the city debt is made up of long term bonds voted on and approved by the taxpayers. This would leave approximately $180,800 in current, or short term debt borrowing.

The letter from Durham also points out that the records and figures in the office of the auditor of the city's finances are public record and are available to any [illegible]

[illegible] newspaper account of any anti-administration meeting [illegible] who charges the "organization" with deficit spending. City Auditor Durham states in his letter that as a councilman McClanan has voted for some $66.71 in deficit spending during the period from 1952 to 1957.

The administration-backed city council ticket of Frank D. Tarrall Jr., Edward T. "Ted" Caton and John E. Fitzgerald spoke at a meeting on Wednesday night, May 7 in the Community Hall. The meeting was attended by approximately 250 persons and was sponsored by the Young Men's Group for the election of Tarrall, Caton and Fitzgerald.

Tarrall is seeking re-election to the city council in the June 10 election while both Caton and Fitzgerald are seeking council seats for the first time. This administration-backed ticket is being opposed by an anti-[illegible] made up of McClanan, W. C. Everett and James Bridley.

At the Young Men's Group meeting the three constitutional officers for the City of Virginia Beach reiterated their support for the Tarrall-Caton-Fitzgerald ticket. These officers are Treasurer Lewis E. Smith, Commissioner of the Revenue William K. Phillips and City Sergeant R. B. Mowbray, who are unopposed for their respective offices in the July 15 Democratic Primary election.

Post Office Dept. Given National Safety Citation

Postmaster General Arthur D. Summerfield said today he has been advised that the Post Office Department has again — for the fourth consecutive year—been given the National Safety Council's Citation Award "for outstanding contributions" to the nation's traffic safety in 1957.

The Safety Council, in a telegram from Mr. G. C. Stewart, its executive vice president, has just notified the department that it is one of twelve organizations over the nation winning the coveted safety honor in 1957.

The department was informed that this is the first time any organization has won the award four times in a row. Formal presentation ceremonies for the award have not yet been scheduled, and will be announced later.

The Post Office Department's comprehensive safety and traffic accident program was initiated in 1954. Some of the achievements in 1957 which won recognition of the Safety Council, in making this newest presentation, were as follows:

1. An excellent accident and casualty rate in 884,069,495 miles driven in 1957 by postal vehicles, with a total of 15,813 accidents, or 2.13 accidents for every 100,000 miles driven, with a casualty rate of .06 for each 100,000 miles.

2. Traffic safety promotion in 37,000 postal field installations in every major community in the nation.

3. During 1957, 37,500 postal drivers earned individual National Safety Council Safe Driver Awards for 1 to 27 years of safe driving.

Among the parties who attended the Virginia Gold Cup Races at Warrenton, Va., were Frank Allen Jacobs, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Jacobs of Bay Colony who is now a law student at Washington & Lee University; Miss Joanne Lester of New York City; Mrs. Alexander Klotz, Mr. and Mrs. Max Klotz of FredericksBurg, Va., and Mrs. Henry Breas, the wife of Cmdr. Henry Breas formerly of Norfolk, now attached to the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

Virginia Beach Girl Scouts to Hold Camp Fire Rally

The Virginia Beach Girl Scouts will hold an International Camp Fire Rally at Camp Linkhorn on May 15, from 4 p.m. till 7 o'clock.

Each troop has made a flag to represent a country in which there is girl scouting. There will be 21 countries represented. The flags have been made by the troops.

Competitive relay races between the troops will consist of 3 legged race, "25 yard dash," duck race, one footed hop race, two footed hop race, bean bag relay, and a balloon race between Brownie and scout leaders will climax the races.

After nose bag suppers all Girl Scouts who have earned 5 Point Pins, Curved Bar, First Class, Second Class and 5-Year Pins will be recognized.

Brownie Scouts will fly up in a special ceremony being planned by Mrs. Gore and Mrs. Lowcecy. After the awards there will be group singing around the camp fire.

All group activities will be under Senior Girl Scout Troops 250 and 214.

Plans for the rally have been made by Mrs. Sterling Farley, Neighborhood Chairman, publicity by Mrs. W. P. Summers, and Rally Chairman, Mrs. Lewis E. Smith. Mrs. B. S. Utley will lead all of the singing.

Princess Anne Girl Scout Group Holds May Meet

The Princess Anne Girl Scout District Committee held it's May meeting at the home of Mrs. J. D. Gregory of Lake Terrace, with Mrs. Paul Dolgins presiding.

Mrs. Glenn Dill, Juliette Low chairman, presented to the district, on behalf of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, a world flag to be used in Girl Scout activities.

May 19th will be Mosquito Net mending day at Camp Motoaka. All leaders are invited to join in the fun, just bring your lunch and sewing needs. This is a wonderful time to meet leaders from other districts.

All neighborhood chairmen were requested to stress the importance of attending all leaders meetings and to have someone represent their troop if they are unable to attend.

Reports from the neighborhood chairman included crafts for Mother's Day, spring activities such as hikes and cook outs. Some communities reported local rallies a huge success, while other rallies are being planned.

The June meeting will be a cook-out at Camp Linkhorn with each member planning her own menu and way of cooking.

PRINCESS ANNE DAR TO MEET SATURDAY

The Princess Anne County Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Saturday, May 17 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Maury Riganto, Princess Anne. The committee chairmen will give their annual reports.

TORIALLY SPEAKING

Letter States the Facts

A letter this week from City Auditor F. M. Durham throws considerable light on the present financial position of the City of Virginia Beach which may have been thrown out of focus by a statement attributed to W. W. McClanan, a candidate for city council on the anti ticket in the forthcoming election.

According to Durham's letter a newspaper account stated that McClanan had charged "the organization" with a $3,500,000 city debt. According to Durham this figure is a mis-representation of some $555,300 in the city's actual debt. Durham's records reveal that the city's actual debt stands at $2,944,700 and that $2,844,700 of this is long term debt voted upon by the taxpayers.

Durham also points out that the newspaper article quoted McClanan as stating "that the organization has allowed deficit spending." The City Auditor reveals that the records show that Councilman McClanan, himself, has voted deficit spending to the extent of $295,195.71 during the period from 1952 to 1957.

Another interesting item in the Durham letter is the fact that the record shows that Councilman McClanan, during his tenure as a councilman, has voted for borrowing by the City of $5,167,500, considerably more than any other Councilman in the history of the city from its beginning to the present, a period that covers half a century.

Political campaigns are one thing but we believe the voter has a right to the facts and we believe the candidates should stick to the facts. Factual statements should be the rule among candidates seeking to represent the people of their community.

It is serious enough that Councilman McClanan made a public statement in which he overstated the city's debt by $555,300 for this type of statement by anyone results in adverse publicity for our city. However, a more serious point is the fact that McClanan, as a councilman and one who has served longer than any other members of the present city council, did not know the amount of the city's indebtedness or did not take the trouble to inquire of the city auditor or did not seek out the facts before making a public utterance on the matter.

As City Auditor Durham pointed out these facts and figures are of public record and are available to any citizen of this city. It would seem that McClanan, as a councilman, would have a better knowledge of the city's finances than was shown in the reckless statement attributed to him.

We believe that Councilman McClanan's statement smacks of politics with vote-getting the only objective. We definitely believe that issues should be discussed in any political campaign but we do not believe that Councilman McClanan used good judgment in overstating the city's debt and that if he is seeking an issue in this campaign he would do well to look elsewhere. It might be interesting to review his voting record in the past on items approved by city council that were not included in the budget. It has already been pointed out that he voted $295,195.71 in deficit spending during the period from 1952 to 1957.

There are only a few weeks remaining before the councilmanic election on June 10. We repeat that all candidates should deal in facts and present to the voters factual information so that when they cast their vote they will be able to make an intelligent decision in selecting the men who will serve this city on its city council.

The Florence Nightingale Story

We believe it is appropriate this week to re-tell some of the story of Florence Nightingale, the legendary nurse, on the occasion of National Hospital Week that began the past Monday, May 12th, birthdate of Miss Nightingale. The Virginia Beach Hospital has joined with more than 6,000 hopitals throughout the Nation in this observance.

Florence Nightingale was first "revealed" to the public when the British soldiers, returning from Scutari with praise and undying loyalty, made her a legend in her own lifetime. Characteristically, she rejected the Public's adulation and, in the years that followed, she carried on her multiple, energetic, and influential activities so quietly and unobstrusively that most people did not even know she was still alive.

During the years since her death the legend has grown, but unfortunately, many of her most important contributions to society have been obscured by the popular conception of her, in which she had become an overly idealized symbol, instead of a complex and brilliant woman. As Cecil Woodham-Smith has made very clear in her biography of Miss Nightingale, the picture that the world has had of her "does her no justice at all."

Even to nurses themselves—with whom she surely would have preferred the role of a vital, dynamic leader—she has too often become a symbol of the unquestioning, self-sacrificing handmaiden. There can be no doubt whatever that she did give progiously of herself, her time, and her money. The records of her almost superhuman exertions and accomplishments at Scutari, and of her driving, unremiting fight to raise health standards in the British Army are among the eloquent proofs of this. But these same records show just as clearly that unquestioning compliance had no place in her life. "Resignation!" she once exclaimed, "I never understood that word!"

Although a fascinating and important part of the Nightingale story has been missing until now because certain private papers had not been released to biographers, many of us have accepted the legendary figure without learning as much about her work as we could have, even before Mrs. Woodham-Smith gave us her full portrait. Miss Nightingale's own Notes on Nursing, a best seller when it was published in 1859, is a primary source to which we can return with profit time and again. But there are other aspects of her work and her philosophy that we need to know about, if we are to understand and appreciate her genius. There was, for instance, an astonishing scope and diversity in her activities, and to each she brought keen insights and creative thinking which almost always made her suggestions or plans revolutionary and frequently unacceptable. She was not only the acknowledged authority on nursing and nursing education, but she was also an expert on hospitals and sanitation, a skillful statistician, and an influential figure in the political and social world of her day. Although she regretted that administration had robbed her of time to spend in caring for patients, she brought her usual enthusiasm and perception to this part of her task, and with the usual results. One of her most potent assets as an administrator and, later, as an adviser to diplomats and statesmen, was her ability to accept difficult situations realistically but not fatalistically. Usually, for example, she was impatient with waste and inefficiency, yet when she found that only by patience and compromise would she get acceptance of her nurses at Scutari, she bowed to the inevitable, but not meekly, and not without a plan.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

May 12, 1958

The Editor,
Sun-News:

As auditor of this City and one interested in its welfare, I was greatly disturbed by an erroneous statement, concerning the finances of Virginia Beach, made by Councilman W. W. McClanan, Jr. at a political meeting at the Community House last Thursday, as reported in the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot on May 9, 1958.

According to this statement, McClanan charged that the Organization has allowed deficit spending. It is to be noted that the statement by McClanan blames "The Organization." The record shows that he himself voted deficit spending for the period 1952 to 1957 alone to the extent of $295,195.71.

McClanan further charged that the Organization has strapped the City with a $3,500,000 debt. Official records will reveal that he misrepresented the actual debt by an overstatement of $556,300.00. Also, he failed to say that $2,844,-700 of the City's debt is made up of long term bonds, all voted on and approved by the taxpayers.

Records will show that McClanan, during his tenure as a Councilman, has voted for the borrowing by the City of $5,167,-500.00, considerably more than any other Councilman in the history of this municipality, from its beginning in 1906 to date—more than half a century.

The financial information as set forth above is a matter of public record and available to any citizen.

Sincerely yours,
F. M. Durham, Jr.

Boardwalk Art Show Set For July 11 - 14

The Third Annual Boardwalk Art Show, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Art Association, will be held Friday, July 11 through Monday, July 14, 1958. Mrs. J. Douglas Hubard and Miss Ruth Epperson, co-chairmen, announce that hours of the Boardwalk Art Show will be from 1:00 until 9:00 p.m. each day. Headquarters will be established at 24th Street on the grassy square between the street and the Boardwalk. Pictures will be hung along the Boardwalk between 22nd Street and 25th Street, extending northward as necessary.

Registration opens at headquarters on Friday, July 11 from 9 until 11 p.m. and continues throughout the show. A registration fee of $2 will entitle each artist to exhibit as many pieces of art as he can handle. Exhibitors, or their representatives, must be present and responsible for all works of art. All work must be original, and artists in all fields of creative media will be welcome. A 10 per cent commission will be charged on all sales, the proceeds over and beyond expenses going to the Building fund of the Virginia Beach Art Association.

A cash Purchase Award of $150 will be presented to the work of art judged Best in Show by the judges, and substantial cash awards will be given to the judged best in the following categories: Oil, Water Color, Crafts, Graphic Art, Ceramics, and Sculpture. In addition, prizes by Grumbacher will be given to Honorable Mentions in each category. Twenty-five dollars will be awarded the Most Popular work as selected by public vote.

Inquiries may be addressed to the Virginia Beach Art Association, Virginia Beach, Va.

Local Man Graded Superior Band Director in N.C.

Lumberton, N.C. Band displays talent at Duke University contest.

Lumberton sent 21 entries, solo, duet and group entries into the music contests at Duke University, Durham, N.C. They received a total of two ratings of superior, six ratings of excellent, 12 ratings of above average.

Lumberton Junior Band was one of two in the state "winning superior ratings" in the annual State Contest Festival for bands and orchestra, which was held in Greensboro, N.C.

The 60-member musical organization directed by Dale C. Browder is the first Lumberton entry ever to attain such an honor in state contest. Once previously, a superior rating was won in district competition, however.

Fourteen junior bands and five orchestras performed and two of the bands were given top rating and were awarded plaques. Besides Lumberton the band winner was Greensboro's Lindley Junior High. "They played with sincerity and genuiness not heard in many Senior High School Bands," one of the judges, John Hanley, of the University of Florida, said. Herbert Henderson, University of Illinois, said "they were especially good for a junior high band." "Well balanced and a thrilling performance." The third judge, Gilbert Walter of the University of Manryland, said, "The style and musical phrasing is outstanding. Lumberton did a superior job." The director of both bands, junior and senior, is Dale C. Browder, Lumberton, N.C., formerly of Virginia Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robah N. Browder, 16th Street, Virginia Beach.

Linkhorn Park School Carnival To Be May 24th

On Saturday, May 24th at 3 p.m., the Carnival of Linkhorn Park School will open for a gala "one day stand," on the school grounds.

There will be a myriad of amusements to delight all. A merry-go-round, miniature train and auto, pony ride, jeep ride; and for the prize minded there will be a penny pitch, darts, fish pond and others. For mother, the ever popular country store and a horticulture booth are planned.

And shades of dogwood, there's going to be a general auction! There will also be an art booth with on-the-spot sketching and pictures for sale.

By this time, young and old will probably be ready to patronize the snack booths or enjoy a full course hot turkey dinner which will be in progress from 5 to 7 p.m. There will also be movie cartoons for those who would like a chance to relax and enjoy a comedy during what promises to be a fun packed afternoon. The teenagers will have a dance from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.

Admission for all of this is just 10c for adults and children. So bring the family and come to Linkhorn Park School on 21st street extended, Saturday, May 24th, 3 p.m.

Linkhorn Park Garden Club Holds Luncheon-Tour

A progressive luncheon and a tour of homes and gardens in the Linkhorn Park area highlighted the May meeting of the Linkhorn Park Garden Club Friday, May 9.

Juice was served at the home of Mrs. Thomas W. Howard Jr. on Holladay Road, and a brief business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Tom Rose, was held. The gardens of Col. F. G. Epling, Mrs. Guy W. Capps, and Cmdr. Margarete A. Orr were visited before lunch. At Mrs. Wiley C. Harrell's on Cavalier Drive, there was a buffet luncheon of salad and sandwiches. Hostesses with Mrs. Harrell were Mrs. Champ P. Hearne, Mrs. John Bell, and Mrs. Leo Bliley. Next on the tour was the garden of Mrs. W. L. Morrisette, and dessert at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Forbes on Cavalier Drive.

There were flower arrangements by club members in the homes visited. Mrs. W. B. Meredith, program chairman, planned the luncheon and tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald (Buddy) Brooks announce the birth of their second child, first girl, DeChantel Ann born May 2 at the Medical College of Va. Hospital in Richmond.

Mrs. Brooks is the former Miss Peggy Brittian of Rutherfordton, N.C.

St. Pius X Church Spring Festival To Be Held Friday

St. Pius X Catholic Church will hold their first big project of the church Friday, May 16 and Saturday, May 17, on the church property back of the church. It will be a Spring Festival and will of course include all the booths and food that you would expect to find at such an event. The general chairman of this event is Mr. Raymond Carroll and assisting him on the general committee are Mrs. Lucille Propster, Mrs. Jo Tinkman, Mr. John Montgomery, Mrs. Mary Eastman, Russ Garcia and Ray Werkmeister.

This event is being sponsored jointly by the Men's Club, the Woman's Club and the PTA. The money derived from the festival will be used toward the purchase of a house which will be the new sisters home. The sisters will arrive in the late summer to staff the school in September.

St. Pius X is a new parish. The school building and auditorium where Mass is held each Sunday, has only been completed a year and a half. St. Pius is located on Haiprin Drive, off of Little Creek Rd. at Roosevelt Shopping Center.

Among the booths and games will be the country store, in charge of it is Mrs. M. Sellers; white elephant, Mrs. D. Gaylor; fancy work, Mrs. C. McWilliams; cake, Mrs. Branighan and Mrs. A. Steinmeier; post office, Mrs. Raymond Dall; grab bag, Mr. Van Nieuwenhuise.

There will be pony rides for the children, baseball throw, darts, bow and arrows, a youth booth which will feature hand made articles by the children and there will be a painting and sketching event.

Among the good things to eat will be hot dogs, pizza pies and soft drinks.

Oceana School To Present Operetta May 23

Gypsies, Spook Cats, Skeletons, and would be Spies will romp across the stake of the Oceana Elementary School on Friday evening, May 23, a p.m., when the 6th, 7th and 8th Grade Choral groups present the first operetta ever given entirely by the elementary school.

This production, "The White Gypsy" with libretto by Theodosia Paynter, and music by G. A. Grant-Shaefer is based upon Gypsy material gathered from much study of Gypsies and the Gypsy lore and music of Europe, Mexico and America, and from first-hand contact with Gypsy settlements. The score has been enriched by several melodies adopted from Brahms' Hungarian Dances and other choice Gypsy music. "The White Gypsy" is colorful, strongly dramatic, highly humerous and abounding in melodies and characterizations true to Gypsy tradition.

Mrs. Irene A. Korte, vocal music teacher, is the director as well as the accompanist. The dances are under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Myers and will be danced by members of her Seventh Grade Class. Mr. Jim Dunn and his Sixth Grade, and Miss Ethel Hill and her Sixth Grade are working on the set. Altogether some 150 students from the choral groups will participate.

Tickets, fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students, are now on sale at the Oceana School from Mr. Bruce McGuire, Asistant Principal, or may be purchased at the door on the evening of the performance.

OLD DONATION EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Announcement has been made of the dates for the Youth Conference to be held this coming summer. Both the senior and junior groups will meet at Stratford College, Danville, Va. The senior group, for grades 9 through 12, will hold its conference from June 13 through June 21. The junior group will meet from June 22 through June 28. Anyone interested in these meetings may contact Mr. Beverly Tucker at the church.

GIRL SCOUTS

The May meeting of the Princess Anne District Board meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Neighborhood Chairman of the Kempsville area. A World Flag was presented to the district by Mrs. Ethel Dill.

At the Neighborhood meeting on May 12, Mrs. Gregory made the following announcements to the girl scout leaders:

Mosquito net mending day will be held at Camp Matiaks on May 19. Leaders are urged to attend, meeting at Mrs. Gregory's house at 9:30 a.m., equipped with needle, thread, scissors, and none-beg lunch.

During the summer ice skating lessons will be offered to girl scouts in the Norfolk area. The fee will be 75c, including skates and further information may be found in the Scout Scoop publication or by contacting Mrs. Gregory.

Mrs. Gregory further requested that all leaders in the area notify her of the number of scout calendars which will be needed for the fall sale.

Looking to the future, a Senior Scout Round Up will be held in the fall of 1958 but plans should be started now for participation. This round up is open to scouts over 14 years of age, who have completed their five-point program and are working at their senior program. Please contact a scout leader for further information.

Also announced were the dates of the Regional Conference to be held in Washington, D.C. on November 10 through 12, 1958.

Mrs. Gregory showed copies of the booklet "Blooming Wild" which was written by a local scout leader, Bonnie Miller. This booklet, cleverly describing the wild flowers of the area, may be purchased from Mrs. Gregory or Mrs. Miller.

Finally, leaders were reminded to urge the girls to send in their day camp applications for the coming summer season.

GARDEN CLUB RE-ELECTS MRS. FINN

The annual meeting of the Garden Club of Aragona Village was held on May 6 at the home of Mrs. W. W. Franz. Mrs. Bernice McCarthy, chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the coming year, and after further nominations from the floor, the following ladies were elected:

Re-elected for the presidency is Mrs. John J. Finn who in this capacity successfully piloted the club through its first year. Mrs. Peggy Womble and Mrs. Edna Tate were elected first and second vice presidents, respectively; Mrs. Betty Norton was elected recording secretary; Mrs. Philip Kroese, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Steve Davis was elected treasurer.

It was also announced that May 10 was the starting date for the beautification of the entrance to the Village. Mrs. T. Snyder, a member of the club, submitted her drawing which carried the names of all the officers to the Federation of Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Martha Wear and her committee served refreshments.

The next meeting of the Garden Club will be an anniversary dinner held on June 10. Entertainment for the group will include a fashion show.

RECREATION IN THE VILLAGE

Mr. Carl Anlano, chairman of the Baseball Activities Committee has announced the formation of two teams which are entered in the Princess Anne County League. The Junior team is called the Aragona Indians and the Midget team is the Larason Cardinals.

The Indians have played two and won two, and the Cardinals have played one and won one.

Mr. Carl Tignor is organizing Cub baseball for all eligible interested in baseball, regardless of age. Coaches are urgently needed to work with these young boys.

Mr. Anlano also announced the name of the team's softball team as the Terry Satellites which is sponsored in the Norfolk Municipal League.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 370

Under the guidance of Mr. Chet Chastain, acting Scout Master, members of Scout Troop 370 began work on May 10 in helping the Garden Club beautify the Virginia Beach Boulevard entrance to the Village. Armed with spades, cultivators and what-have-you, the boys began preparation of the islands for the planting of annuals. They will work again on May 17 and the final planting will be done on May 19.

Mr. Chastain also announced that the troop is now made up of three patrols, with Jimmy Williamson serving as the new patrol leader.

Under the sponsorship of the troop committee a "Bar-B-Que is being planned for Saturday, May 31 at the Aragona School. This is a fund-raising project, the proceeds of which will go toward the purchasing of troop equipment. Prior to this a Parent Night will be held to make finals plans for the affair. The committee has already secured a band for the occasion and hopes that full support will be given by the community.

SAMUEL TATE HONORED AT SCHOOL

On Wednesday, May 7, at the conclusion of the Science Fair at Princess Anne High School, announcement was made of winners of the departmental competition. Three winners were picked by a panel of judges from the College of William and Mary. Winning first place in the biology division was Sammy Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tate, Raff road. Sam, a sophomore, was honored for his hydroponics exhibit (growing plants in water with chemicals). Co-worker on this project was his brother, Stratton Tate.

CUB PACK 370

Cub Pack will be postponed to Thursday, May 22, 7:30 p.m. at the Aragona Elementary School. Planned for the evening will be the Pinewood Derby. Mr. Carl Tignor is Cub Master.

The first and only Marine to command a U. S. Naval warship was First Lt. John Gamble, who assumed command of the USS Greenwich July 14, 1813.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to Section 15-19 of the 1950 Code of Virginia, that the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, proposes to enact the following described ordinance adopting "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958", at its meeting to be held at 10:00 A.M., on May 26, 1958, in the Board of Supervisor's Room, Princess Anne County, Virginia (copies of the complete Code are available for public inspection at the Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors):

An Ordinance adopting a revision and codification of the Ordinances of the County of Princess Anne County, Virginia, providing for the repeal of certain Ordinances not included therein and containing a descriptive notice of the new provisions in accordance with Section 15-19 of the Code of Virginia, 1950.

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Princess Anne has caused its ordinances of a general and permanent nature to be compiled and revised and has also added certain new regulations, all of which are embodied in a revision and codification known as "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958"; now, therefore

Be it Ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, as follows:

Section 1. That the ordinances as codified in the following chapters, namely Chapters 1 to 90, both inclusive, are ordained as general ordinances and are adopted as "The Code of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, 1958."

Pursuant to Section 15-19 of the Code of Virginia, 1950, this codification consists of the following chapters: 1. General Provisions; 2. Advertising; 3. Alcoholic Beverages; 4. Animals; 5. Bondsmen; 6. Building Code; 7. Coin-Operated Machines; 8. Electricity; 9. Excavations; 10. Ex-Convicts; 11. Food and Food Establishments; 12. Garbage and Refuse; 13. Junk Yards, Automobile Graveyards and Dumps; 14. Motor Vehicles and Traffic; 15. Offenses—Miscellaneous; 16. Plumbing; 17. Sewage Disposal; 18. Tattooing; 19. Taxicabs and Other Vehicles For Hire; 20. Trailers and Trailer Camps.

Also pursuant to Section 15-19 of the Code of Virginia, 1950, the following chapters are broken down into the following new sections:

Chapter 1. General Provisions.
1-1. How Code designated and Cited.
1-2. Rules of construction.
1-3. Provisions considered as continuations of existing ordinances.
1-4. Severability of parts of Code.
1-5. Catchlines of sections.
1-6. General penalty; continuing violations.
1-7. Fines and costs.
Chapter 15. Offenses—Miscellaneous.
15-1. Aiding and abetting violations of ordinances.
15-11. Disturbing the peace.
15-19. Hawkers, peddlers, solicitors, etc.
15-20. Indecent conduct, etc.
15-21. Indecent or lewd books, pictures, plays, demonstrations, etc.

Women Celebrate Home Demonstration Week

Last Thursday, May 8, 68 women ate lunch at the Pine Tree Inn to celebrate National Home Demonstration Week. The program consisted of a talk and slides by Miss Doreen Rose, International Farm Youth Exchange from Australia. The county president, Mrs. P. E. Volkir Sr. presided. In Princess Anne there are between 400 and 500 women who are members of the twenty clubs and groups which work with the program.

The purpose of the Home Demonstration Program is to help women become more effective homemakers and better citizens. This is realized through training meetings, monthly club meetings, special interest groups, tours, and demonstrations. In ninety-four counties and two cities in Virginia there are Home Demonstration Agents who work with the local people in carrying out this program to improvement family living.

In addition to this educational part of the program the women have participated in county activities such as library, beautification of Laskin road, planting of Dogwood trees and they participate in such health activities as X-ray mobile and the various drives for the relief of disease. Last year the women in Princess Anne worked in two main areas of family living—house furnishings, and clothing.

In house furnishings they have learned to make a house furnishings plan, to know the construction of furniture which makes it a good buy, the proper recommendations for good lighting in their homes and the selection of rugs. In the clothing part of the program they will discuss making a wardrobe plan, new fibres and fabrics and how to care for them.

Another feature of the program in Princess Anne this year were many activities coming under the heading of Art in Daily Living. The women had meetings on decorations or their homes for special occasions as Christmas and Easter. They have attended many of the cultureal events taking place in the area. Also many visited the wildflower preserve and the homes opened during Garden Week. They have attended the District meeting in Onancock, Virginia having forty-nine present and they will be represented at the state meeting at VPI in Blacksburg, Virginia July 29.

In addition to the regular work of the organized clubs and groups individuals and other organizations are helped by demonstrations and have received material.

As the living situation is rapidly changing and people must adjust to new materials, new equipment and new ways of doing things, there are increased requests for some information as the program presents. It is constantly growing and with the increase of personnel in county and state women are trying to meet the changing demands.

MATTER WILL BE ON AGENDA AT MAY MEET

Copies of Princess Anne County's new ordinance code book has been received, according to Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab Jr.

The county has already advertised an adoption ordinance which will be proposed for enactment at the board's meeting on May 26, according to Wahab.

Re-enactment of old ordinances, the adoption of new ones and the deletion of outmoded laws will become effective June 26.

The codification, performed by the Michie City Publishing Co. of Charlottesville, in cooperation with Wahab was authorized by the Supervisors several months ago. The project cost in the neighborhood of $6,800.

Princess Anne becomes the second county in the state to have a code of county ordinances. Fairfax County was first, publishing its code in 1954. Arlington County is now in the process of codifying its ordinances.

"The purpose of the codification," the county's Commonwealth's Attorney said today, "is to make more clear those laws in existence, to eliminate 'dead wood'—those laws no longer applicable, and to eliminate the technical interpretation of some words by which offenders have managed to escape the intent of the law."

The bound volume, which will be available at the office of John V. Pentrack, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, for $10 per copy after its adoption, also includes the county's master zoning ordinance, the ordinance controlling subdivisions and the manner under which the Water and Sanitation Authority was created.

It has a complete motor vehicle section which parallels the State Motor Vehicle Code with the exception of load weight provisions, which the county is not equipped to enforce.

This means, that many warrants, formerly written on state forms, will now be written on county warrants with revenues from fines going into the county treasury instead of to the state.

The code contains a number of new ordinances, strengthening the county's law enforcement. Primary among these, and probably of greatest interest to the public, are three:

Section 18-19 governs the conduct of itinerant door-to-door solicitors and is designed, Wahab said, to control unethical practices about which county law enforcement agencies have had a number of complaints.

Section 13-21 is a statute covering indecent and lewd books, pictures, plays, demonstrations, et ceters. It goes beyond the state law to provide a penalty for the mere possession of such articles. Authorities hope that it will be a tool in combating a practice growing among county youths.

Section 18-30 concerns the discharging of weapons.

"This section," Wahab said, "is designed to give the county police a tighter control on the indiscriminate use of air rifles, 22-caliber rifles and other firearms . . .

In 1809, the Marine detachment at New Orleans was the largest in the country. It had a strength of three officers and 100 enlisted

Civic Chorus Rehearsals at Convention Center

The Virginia Beach Civic Chorus will continue its weekly Friday night rehearsals for the rest of this season in the new Civic Center (The Dome) on 19th street and Pacific avenue. BAYSIDE LION CLUB

The Bayside Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday night, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Shore Drive In. The president, R. L. Beale presided.

Vice president, Bill Nagy, activities chairman, reported on plans for the club participation in the annual Broom Sale to be conducted by Tidewater area Lions Clubs on May 14, 15 and 16. Members will meet each evening at Frankie's Restaurant, Chesapeake Beach, for supper before they assemble at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. Each man is assigned to a team and these teams will cover all the Bayside area selling brooms, doormats, ironing board covers and pads. Proceeds from the sale of these products made by the blind, will be used by the club in its various activities for the coming year.

Elwood Craddock, safety chairman, exhibited the winning posters from a recent safety poster contest which was sponsored by the Safety Committee at the three schools in the Bayside areas. The three winners were:

Sue King from Bayside School; Ann Savage, Shelton Park School and Bill Russell, John B. Dey School.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Bill Nagy; first vice president, Eugene Caldwell; second vice president, Gordon Houghson; third vice president, Bill Foltes; secretary, John Absalom; treasurer, Harold Russell; Lion Tamer, May Shields; Tail Twister, Gus Amato; two year directors, O. W. Core and R. J. Vellines; one year director, Oscar Smith and Hank Ostrander.

R. J. Vellines, publicity chairman, received a special Lion's Honor Pin for his work in issuing a bulletin each month on the club activities.

Guest speaker fo the meeting was Lt. Cmdr. William R. Bennett, training officer, USCG Auxiliary Flotilla 37. He was introduced by George Core, who is Flotilla Commander. Lt. Cmdr. Bennett spoke to the club about the history of the Coast Guard and the Coast Guard Auxiliary and told about the work of his organization. The Auxiliary is concerned chiefly with the promotion of safe operation of small craft in the area.

He told the club about the importance of observing the rules of navigation as laid down by the U. S. Coast Guard. Owners of small craft who are interested in the Auxiliary are invited to attend the meetings which are held on the first and third Thursday of each month at the Lynnhaven Colony Church at 8:00 p.m.

Then you need an ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

From paint to upholstery, from pictures to rugs . . . everything in Mrs. Modern's home stays in tip-top condition longer thanks to her all-year air conditioning. Her Electric Heat Pump not only keeps the whole house cool in Summer, warm in Winter . . . it also keeps the air dust-free!

Mrs. M saves hours of cleaning time, too! The filtered air from her Heat Pump cuts dusting and vacuuming to the minimum. It gives her eternal Spring . . . but without the Spring cleaning!

To be Mrs. M . . . meet the Heat Pump! It's the big brother of the dependable, sealed unit in your refrigerator. But the Heat Pump works in either direction. It cools your house in Summer . . . then turns itself around to keep you warm in Winter, without fire, fuel or flue! And without attention from you. Ask VEPCO for the exciting facts about this modern climate miracle for your new home.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

JUMPING CHAPLAIN COMES TO STORY MAY 5, 1958

Fort Story, Va.—An Army Chaplain with 117 parachute jumps with Army Airborne units reported to Fort Story this week on a temporary basis to fill the chaplain's vacancy in the 417th Transportation Company. The unit leaves the Capt. Henry post in July to resupply the Dew-line radar outposts on the eastern shore of Baffin Island, well above the Arctic circle.

Chaplain (Captain) Joseph C. Rowan, a member of the Roman Catholic Redemptorist Order, comes to Story from his permanent assignment with the Airborne Battle Group of the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Upon completion of the northern mission he will return to his unit.

A missionary at Campo Grande, Mato Crosso, Brazil prior to entering the Army, Father Rowan has had the unusual experience of jumping with the Brazillian Army paratroops. From this experience he was awarded the Brazilian parachutist's wings.

A member of the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team during the Korean Conflict, Chaplain Rowan was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for valor.

The 30-year-old chaplain is a native of Rensselaer, New York, and a graduate of Mt. St. Alphonsus College in Europus, New York. He entered the Army in April, 1951.

BEST MESS AT STORY

Mess Steward, Sergeant Lester C Clements of the 344th Transportation Terminal Service Company was awarded Fort Story's "Best Mess Award" for April by Lt. Col. Charlie E. A. Morgan, acting deputy commander, in a ceremony at the 344th Mess Hall.

Winning the award is nothing new to Sgt. Clement, who won the same honor in December last year and also ten times in the past three years.

Clements entered the Army in August, 1946 at Camp Chafee, Ark. He took his basic training at Fort Hood, Texas. Upon completion of basic training he was assigned to various posts and in January, 1946 he was transferred to the First Division of the combat Engineers in Germany. He served in Germany until December, 1948. He was than assigned to Fort Eustis and was sent to Story in 1954.

ARMORED SCHOOL TOURS STORY

One hundred twenty faculty members and advanced officer students of the Armored School at Fort Knox, Kentucky visited Fort Story Tuesday, May 6, getting a first hand view of the new logistical equipment the Transportation Corps is developing to help keep the Army's tanks well supplied with fuel and ammunition in any future conflicts.

The students, captains and senior first lieutenants, were shown the huge BARC (the world's largest amphibian), the Landing Craft Retriever, Rolling Fuel Transporter, and other logistical and supply equipment.

Prior to the Fort Story demonstration the visitors, led by Brigadier General James I. King, Deputy Commandant of the Armored School, were given a brief orientation at Fort Eustis, and a helicopter tour over Eustis port facilities. Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general Command, accompanied the group from Fort Eustis.

NCO MESS ADDS TO BOARD

In a special election at the Fort Story Non-commissioned Officers' Open Mess this week five men were added to the Board of Governors.

The special election was held as required when transfers and ineligibility cut the board to its quorum.

New members of the board are Master Sergeant Vincent J. Davis, Headquarters Company; Robert N. Thompson, Headquarters Detachment, 10th Battalion; Milford R. Bruns, 344th Transportation Company; Jessie E. Kitchens, 344th; Glen E Bennaga, 554th BARC Platoon; and SFC Robert E. Polton, D Battery, 38th AAA Missile Battalion.

The board of governors determines the over-all policy for the operation of the club.

TRAINING TEST SCHEDULED FOR STORY

Fort Story units are preparing for three days in the field and an Army Training Test the 13th, 14th and 15th.

The test, administered by the Transportation School at Fort Eustis, will determine the results of current training, and also the status of operational readiness of the units.

All Fort Story troops will participate in the test except the threee units in preparation for this summer's northern operation and the post complement command.

STORY COMMANDER RETURNS FROM SCHOOL

Fort Story's Commanding Officer, Colonel George E. Woods Jr., returned late Friday from a week-long maintenance course at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The course is designed to give the senior field grade officers in attendance some pointers in field maintenance of new Army equipment.

Colonel Woods, who has commanded Fort Story longer than any other officer in recent years, is a veteran of Engineer and Transportation assignments during World War II and the post war years. He served in Europe after the war. The colonel arrived at Story to take command in July, 1955.

GENERAL LINCOLN INSPECTS STORY UNITS

The Commanding General of Transportation Training Command, Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., conducted a command inspection of three Fort Story units Saturday morning, May 10.

The general and his staff inspected Headquarters Company, 4th TTC "C," and two 10th Transportation Battalion units, the 344th and 347th Transportation Companies.

CAPE HENRY BY-THE-SEA GARDEN CLUB TO GIVE BENEFIT BRIDGE

Thrifty Meals With Pork

Pork is one of the richest natural sources of vitamin B1. It has the same high quality complete protein found in all meats. Whether it be a regal loin roast of pork or homey spareribs, every cut of pork has the same important nutrition. Old-fashioned favorites are those pictured.

Bacon and Corn Sauté

12 bacon slices
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 can (1 pound) whole kernel corn
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Place bacon slices in cold skillet. Cook over low heat, turning occasionally, until desired degree of crispness. Remove bacon; drain on absorbent paper. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the drippings. Add onion and pepper; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Drain corn; add liquid to skillet and boil rapidly until reduced to approximately ¼ cup. Add corn, salt and pepper; top with bacon slices. Heat to serving temperature.

YIELD: 3 servings.

Sausage and Apple Grill

1 pound sausage meat
3 apples, cored and sliced
¼ cup brown sugar

Form sausage into 6 patties. Place in skillet. Brown on both sides, pouring off fat as it accumulates, about 15 minutes. Remove sausage; pour off all but 3 tablespoons drippings. Add apple slices; sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Add sausage; heat to serving temperature.

YIELD: 3 servings.

You can serve - piping hot - hearty pork meals many times over. With so many pork cuts now on the market its easy to prepare a different Pork dish often.

Harvest Pork Chops are surely delicious and you'll get many requests for repeat performances. Its an entree that will warm you up as well as pep you up.

Serving pork - a rich source of protein and minerals, is also an excellent way to procure plenty of thiamine, one of the B vitamins.

The secret success in this recipe lies in long slow cooking. The chops are slowly browned and seasoned - Then sliced apples and prunes are arranged in a frying pan with the chops. The braising liquid in this case is a natural-add the apple cider and slowly the chops and fruit tend and blend flavors until the dish is done, and plump, juicy pork chops accented by transparent apple slices and juicy prunes are ready for the table.

You'll need —

6 rib-loin or shoulder chops (your choice) Have them cut about 1 inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
3 medium apples - sliced
1 cup prunes
1 cup apple cider

Brown the chops on a frying pan - Pour off drippings, season with salt - Core and slice apples arrange apples and prunes in the frying pan, reserving a few slices for garnish. Pour cider over chops. Place chops on top of fruit. Add cider - Cover and simmer slowly for about 45 min to an hour—just be sure they're tender.

Here's a One-Dish Pork Chop Meal. If you need a bright thought for a busy - day meal - I hope this one will strike your fancy. Simmer - 6 medium thick Pork chops — after browning for few minutes season with salt and pepper - Pour 4 cups of cooked noodles in Casserole dish - Dilute 1 can (10-oz.) tomato soup with 1 can water. Blend and pour over noodles. Place pork chops on top of the noodles—Cover and cook in moderate oven (350°) about 1 to 1½ hours — or until tender.

Vegetables are a challenge to any cook's ingenuity - Try this for an exciting treat —

Pineapple Stuffed Sweet Potatoes

4 large or medium sized sweet potatoes
1 nine-oz. can of crushed pineapple (drained)
½ cup of brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup of pecans - chopped
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Salt to taste

Choose potatoes of uniform size and shape. Bake until tender - not too soft - Cut in half-lengthwise then scoop out most of pulp- Spoon some of pineapple syrup in to halves to preserve color of potatoes. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Mash sweet potato pulp and blend in drained pineapple sugar - butter - pecans and nutmeg. Fill each half-with this mixtur. Bake in a medium or 350 degreed for 35 to 40 minutes.

For a green vegetable - you'll enjoy preparing - serving and eating is

Broccoli - Mushroom Casserole

Cook 1½ lb Broccoli until tender but not soft (3-5 min) Drain-well Spread in buttered baking dish , Cover with 2 cups medium thick white sauce to which you have added ½ lb grated cheese, ½ cup sauteed mushrooms 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper CHRYSLER ... about cup) grated cheese and paprika-Bake in a 350° oven about 15-20 min or until golden brown.

By the way, here's a favorite of mine - I bet you'll like it too.

Creole Pork Cutlets

1 lb. pork cutlets
½ cup thinly sliced onions
½ cup chopped celery
1 no-2 can tomatoes
1 tsp. celery salt
½ teaspoon chili powder (optional)

Salt and pepper cutlets - dip in flour and brown in frying pan remove - add onions and celery cook for just a few minutes add celery salt - put pork cutlets back in pan - pour tomatoes over- Cover tightly and simmer over low heat or bake in moderate oven (350°) until tender - about an hour - longer if necessary.

Londen Bridge Church Sets Three Services

The Rev. G. E. Hughes, pastor of London Bridge Baptist Church, announces a new schedule of Sunday services. The first church service will be held at 8:30 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m. The evening service will begin each Sunday at 8:00 p.m. The Sunday School will assemble each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. and the Baptist Training Union at 7:00 p.m.

Three choirs will serve this expanded program under the direction of Mr. William J. Chance.

The public is cordially invited to the services.

JR. CIVITANS HOLD CONVENTION

The week end of May 17th and 18th will long be remembered by Jr. Civitans of the Chesapeake District. This is the date of their big convention, to be held this year in Norfolk. It will be represented by Norview and Va. Beach clubs. Other clubs attending will be Annapolis High, Falls Church, Frederick, Glen Burnie, Hagers Town and St. Mary's High.

A tentative schedule of the events would include:

Lunch Saturday aboard a warship, a guided tour of the Norfolk Naval Base, a banquet and dance Saturday night, and lunch on Sunday.

This promises to be the best convention ever held by the Jr. Civitans of the Chesapeake District.

Love and marriage—one of the thresholds of life. Approaching it are the happy strides of youth. Beyond it, joy for some, sorrow for others.

And how long the world has searched for a formula that would test the quality of love . . . a standard that would assure happiness in marriage.

Until finally, with remarkable wisdom, we've begun to realize that it all depends on the individuals themselves.

But, of course, there are two individuals! How can we provide both with the qualities of character that will enrich their marriage?

The Church believes the answer lies in continuous religious training and wholesome boy and girl fellowship. With deep concern for the individual, the couple, and the community, it is building the character of America's youth . . . safeguarding for tomorrow as well as today the sanctity of marriage, home and family.

Have you a son or daughter? Have they a church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Go to church regularly and read your Bible[illegible].

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

LISTEN TO YOUR COUNTY AGENT 12:30 MON. THRU FRI. ON WBOF; 6:20 THURSDAYS, W.T.A.R.; 12:10 SATURDAY, WTAR

DAIRYMAN MAY LIFT 500 TONS IN YEAR

If you're a dairyman caring for a 25-cow herd, you may be lifting at least 500 tons and walking more than 1,100 miles in a year You may spend 2,500 hours or more doing your work.

Taking a closer look at the tasks of the farmer under the 500-ton load, in a year this man would lift 30 tons of grain, 126 tons of silage, 80 tons of hay, 25 tons of bedding, and 200 tons of manure. Add to this 100 tons of mild produce and you will come up with the more than 500-ton total.

This doesn't count all the other tasks of plowing, planting, and harvesting feed.

Labor costs of producing milk vary very considerably, depending on the efficiency of the manager and his circumstances. These costs average about 26 per cent of the total production costs.

The goal is to try to produce 200,000 pounds of milk per man per year, or 100 pounds of milk every man-hour of labor on the milking herd. Too often, the agent says, farmers try to do something themselves the hard way to save money when they should think the problems through and either invest in equipment or take the time to work out a better way to do each job.

Every dairyman must use careful judgement in deciding whether the investment in a labor-saving device or rearrangement can be justified. For older dairymen, the saving in effort alone may often mean the difference between staying in business or selling out. When there is so much work involved, it pays to make a careful study to find short-cuts to greater efficiency.

SUMMER PASTURE SEEDING NIGH

Permanent pastures need a helper in the hot summer months. Sudan grass or Pearl Millet will fill the vacancy when permanent pastures wane.

Sudan grass or Pearl Millet can help provide adequate grazing during the critical pasture months because these crops grow when permanent pasture is likely to be least productive.

A third to one-half acre of Sudan or Pearl Millet will usually be enough for one animal during the critical period. The productive period of the supplemental pasture can be lengthened by seeding half the acreage early and the rest a month to six weeks later.

Recommended varieties of Sudan grass for Virginia are Sweet Sudan and Piper. Commercial Pearl Millet is the only variety of pearl millet recommended at present. Be sure to get Pearl Millet and not Foxtail Millet. The latter will not recover after grazing.

Although Sudan and Millet are adapted to a wide range of soils, they do best on a deep fertile soil with high water hold capacity. A good corn soil is desirable for these supplemental pasture crops.

Fertilize well. Broadcast and disk in 500 to 800 pounds per acre of a 10-10-10 fertiliser or the equivalent. Prepare a good seedbed just as you would for corn. Sow seed at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre. Drilling usually gives the best results, but the seed may be broadcast and harrowed in.

Soybeans may be seeded with Sudan or Millet. However, soybeans do not recover well after grazing or cutting. If you use a soybean, sow at the rate of one bushel per acre and reduce the seed rate of Sudan or Millet to 15 to 20 pounds. Seed between May 15 and July 1. Either should be ready for grazing 6 to 8 weeks later.

PLAN FEED, LIVESTOCK PROGRAM ACCORDING TO FARM'S CAPACITY

Figure out what feeds you can best produce on your farm, and plan your beef cattle program accordingly.

That's the advice to beef cattle producers from Curtis Mast, animal Husbandman at VPI, who says that probably the biggest mistake a newcomer to the cattle business can make is deciding to grow a certain type of feed and have a certain kind of cattle when his farm is not suitable to the chosen enterprise.

For instance, Mast says, a farm that has very steep land and is incapable of producing corn is not suitable for fat steer production. Even if it had excellent grass land but still couldn't produce enough grain to winter the cattle well, it would not be suitable for production of even grass-fat steer. A cow herd or feeder steer business would suit that situation. On the other hand if the farm had excellent soil and level to rolling topography and could produce large amounts of feed, a fat steer business would be better than a cow or feeder steer business.

Alfalfa, Mast says, is the queen of forages. Alfalfa hay is the most valuable of all hays and particularly so for calves and young stock. Clover hay ranks second, followed by lespedza, for cattle feeding. Mixed hays, combinations of grasses and legumes, are also excellent cattle feeds. The grass hays, such as orchard grass, timothy, and fescue, will do fairly well for cows, but are poor for calves and steers. The small grain straws and corn fodder are near the bottom of the list. These low grade roughages can be used successfully for cow herds, but high quality hays are needed to winter calves and steers.

In the silage category, there is nothing that will quite equal corn silage for beef cattle. It contains more nutrients per ton than any of the other silages and can be produced cheaper per 100 pounds of nutrients than any other kind of cattle feed. Alfalfa silage also is an excellent feed for any type of beef cattle. Grass silage made from ladino clover and orchard grass is not quite as good as alfalfa silage and will vary in value according to moisture contents. Silage made from wilted forage is much higher in feeding value than silage which is cut direct and carries a high percentage of water. Silage made from sweet sorghum is worth 60 to 75 per cent as much as corn silage for cattle. Sorghum silage is good for wintering beef cows, but is rather poor for wintering calves. Sudan grass makes a good cow silage but also is poor for wintering calves. In tests at the Glade Springs experiment station, it was found that silage made from small grain such as barley, wheat, and oats, produces 2/10 of a pound less grain per day on steer calves than did corn silage. However, feeding small grain in the form of silage is still an excellent way to handle the crop if it is intended for beef cattle.

Cattlemen who use any of these roughages and combinations of roughages properly can get along without any other feed for a cow herd. For calves, a grain supplement should be used along with roughage, if maximum profits are to be expected, In a fat steer program, grain must certainly be fed with the roughage. In the production of yearling steers it is necessary to feed a grain supplement with roughages even though the animals are going for feeder purposes.

VEGETABLE GROWERS:
Here's a weed-killing "blanket" that can save $20 to $90 an acre on hand-weeding

We call it Vegadex,® and it works a new way. You only have to spray it on once—at planting time. Vegadex forms an invisible chemical blanket over your soil. Annual grasses—and even some tough weeds like purslane and henbit—sprout, touch the blanket, and die.

Your vegetables—like celery, lettuce and cole crops—grow through unharmed, with few or no weeds to fight them for sunlight, water and plant food. And, Vegadex won't "build up" in your soil.

Vegadex practically eliminates costly hand-weeding. Last year, many vegetable growers saved from $20 to $90 an acre on labor costs by spray-weeding with Vegadex.

Before you plant your next crop, stop by your Monsanto Farm Chemicals Dealer—he'll give you an informative new folder on Vegadex.

HERE'S HOW THE VEGADEX "BLANKET" can kill weeds for you! All celery shown here was planted at the same time. But notice the weed-free rows at left which were band-sprayed once with Vegadex at planting.

Make sure you're spraying right. Ask your Monsanto Dealer about the special offer on the Spray-Rater that accurately measures the amount of spray your rig applies per acre.

Middle Atlantic Growers

VEGADEX KILLS—henbit (dead nettle), purslane, annual bluegrass, bull grass (goose grass), crab grass, foxtails, pigweed, barnyard grass, chickweed, lambsquarter.

VEGADEX IS SAFE FOR—spinach, collards, kale, mustard, turnip greens, hanover salad, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, snap beans, lima beans, soybeans, garden beets, celery, lettuce, sweet corn, field corn.

CONVENTION CENTER PRAISED BY DELEGATES

Lower Tax Rate Possible Next Year Hatchett Says

A real estate tax rate reduction of 25 cents for Virginia Beach is probable next year, City Manager W. Russell Hatchett told City Council near the close of its meeting Monday afternoon.

Hatchett informed council that, although hearing on appeals of new assessments have not been heard, it appears that a $2.75 rate might be possible to meet the proposed budget for fiscal 1958-1959 which starts July 1, 1958.

At the present time the real estate tax rate is $3.00 per $100 of assessed valuation.

City Council also took a further step Monday in its program of beautification by passing an ordinance to prohibit the storing of building materials on vacant lots not licensed as storage areas.

Council received the annual audit for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1957. The audit, prepared by the accounting firm of Brock and Hodges, certified public accountants, revealed that the general fund had a balance in surplus available for appropriation of $36,077.29 as of June 30, 1957.

The building material ordinance requires that a building must be begun within 30 days of "such placing, storing, or keeping" of building materials on a vacant lot.

Council also voted to purchase and erect signs at the resort city limits designating the city as a bird sanctuary in accord with legislation passed at the last session of the General Assembly.

The recommendation of the planning commission to change the name of 8th Street west of Lake Holly to Delaware avenue was approved.

On second reading the council approved the expenditure of some $10,092.78 to purchase tables, chairs and other furniture for the new convention center.

Contracts for the care of indigent patients at hospitals in the area were approved.

Zone Changes Given Approval By Supervisors

The Princess Anne Board of Supervisors approved two requests for zoning changes Monday, denied one, and deferred four others.

The application of W. D. Collins and William S. Edmonds for a change of zoning from residence, multiple district, to limited commercial, of six lots fronting 100 feet on the north side of East Ocean View Avenue extended and 50 feet on the water, was denied.

The supervisors approved a zoning change from limited commercial to general commercial of a parcel of land fronting 163.35 feet on the south side of Virginia Beach boulevard and extending 305 feet on the east side and 264 feet on the west. The property lies some 125 feet east of Highway lane in the Lynnhaven District.

Applicant for the change was C. M. Tynes.

The board approved an application by Lambert L. Thatcher for a use permit to operate a nursery and greenhouse on 6.9 acres of land fronting some 800 feet on the south side of Bayside

Phone Company Holding Open House to Public

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company has announced that it will hold "open house" for the public to view its new dial telephone exchange building on 32nd street on May 27 and 28, according to L. Lloyd Patrick, area manager for the company here.

Hours for the "open house" each day will be between 7 and 9 p.m. According to Patrick the public will view the new dial system in operation and may witness hundreds of calls coming into the exchange through the maze of wires that make up the automatic dial operation.

Special features of the "open house" will be displayed, exhibits and demonstrations of the equipment. The public will view the behind-the-scenes activity and will be conducted on a tour of the building.

Patrick emphasized that families and their friends are invited to visit the new building which has its entrance at 316 Thirty-second street.

Leadership to Stage Meeting Friday Night

The Rev. Abraham Vereide, founder and executive secretary of International Christian Leadership, will address a meeting to be held in Virginia Beach on Friday, May 23, in the Fellowship Hall of Galilee Episcopal Church, it has been announced by Robert A. Adriance, chairman of the Virginia Beach Breakfast Club.

In addition to the Rev. Mr. Vereide, the meeting will also be addressed by Lt. Gen. M. H. Silverthorn and Herbert Avery, directors of the International Christian Leadership.

The Virginia Beach meeting is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m. and is being sponsored by the Virginia Beach Breakfast Club of the International Christian Leadership.

Scanning THE BEACH

By MIKE KATSIAS

The mad cycle known as higher education comes to a halt for another summer season and you make your way quickly back to the confines that are so familiar. You've missed home while you were away at college and so the awkward ritual of renewing surroundings begins all over . . . things have changed!

Down the "Big Avenue" can be seen the evident new look . . . motels—vivid hues of brilliance to delight the fancy of any tourist. Never has the complexion of a resort changed in such a short span of time, one season to be exact. The imprint of these fashionable tourist palaces will add much to the attraction that is Virginia Beach.

Virginia Beach's Convention Center is the talk of the entire East Coast . . . the city fathers can tip their hats for this endeavor. This columnist feels that the Center will add many extra dollars to city merchant's pockets.

The aluminum dome has already become a landmark before the arrival of the summer season!

Stopped by to see old friend Angie Alexander, co-proprietor of Alexander-Beegle's men shop. Angie appeared like same old guy, reminded me that the shop also features such stunning creations for women as walker shorts and madras shorts. The summer styles this season all take a trend toward the light, drip-dry washable wear.

Since this particular newspaper columnist has just returned from the "text book wars." I'd appreciate any interesting material available by readers of the column. One thing good about it, we're not limited to any particular area of news—might carry a story on the lift of a beachcomber next week.

Drove by the high school and saw the kids preparing for another summer of baseball. The citizens of this seaside community ought to take a lot of pride in the youth program of the city and support it more . . . there's no time like the present to start! Nothing can replace the thrill of a younger playing ball for one of the leagues knowing that mom and dad are there to cheer him on win or lose.

A reminder to those who enjoy a good comedy . . . the Little Theatre's final presentation of the season will be the Broadway hit, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" The play will have a two-day run at the Virginia Beach High School May 26-27.

The big news on the local scene is the "Confederacy." Another outdoor drama by Paul Green, it centers around the life of Robert E. Lee with a cast of hundreds. Green has three other plays of outstanding caliber now in production outdoors. They are:

The Founders, The Lost Colony, and The Common Glory. Make sure you make plans now to see this great outdoor achievement which will do much to attract new visitors to the area.

Before closing the initial effort of another summer with the Sun-News, let's mention that Milton Abbott, popular tennis pro, is back to hold sway at the Cavalier Courts. Abbott is one of the most likable men you'll ever meet and does everything possible to increase tennis interest in the area.

Plans are underway for the annual Punch Bowl Tournament and the now famous Cavalier Invitational.

Well, until the old press cranks up for another issue, we'll close with the hope that you'll pick up a copy of the Sun-News and join us again as we go SCANNING THE BEACH.

Visitor's Inspection

Guests from Princess Anne-Virginia Beach area inspect the latest types of Army, Navy and Air Force Aircraft at the ninth annual Armed Forces Day Program which was held at the Naval Air Station, Oceana. An estimated 3,500 visitors saw these planes during the Open House on May 17th.

Little Theatre Presents Play On May 26-27

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre will present its final production of the season on May 26 and 27 at the Virginia Beach High School. The play, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" is a comedy which has to do with a psychoanalyst who accidentally learns of his fiancee's past from one of his patients.

The role of the psychoanalyst will be played by Jack Postell, who will be remembered by local audiences for many excellent performances, especially in the "Solid Gold Cadillac" of last year.

The part of his fiancee will be taken by Dolores East, who is not only new to the Virginia Beach Theatre but a newcomer to any stage. Mrs. East is one of the city's more prominent artists and is active in civic affairs, especially in the Virginia Beach Art Association.

Other members of the cast playing prominent roles are Anne Henry, Vivian Aikman, Jack Garrison, Wade Williams, Lon Backman and George Mullen.

The play calls for three sets, and these are being designed by Neal Thomas and Bill Britton. The play is directed by Mrs. Arthur Masury. Tickets will be on sale at the box office.

Laborer Held By County in Hit, Run Case

A 37-year-old laborer was arrested for the hit and run injury of a sailor Monday night, minutes after he allegedly fled the scene at Virginia Beach boulevard and Washington street.

State Trooper John F. Fogerty said the sailor, Kenneth Richard Ross, 22, of the USS Northampton, suffered a head concussion and abrasions. He was taken to Portsmouth Naval Hospital, where his condition was reported favorable.

Fogerty said the accident occurred about 7 p.m. as Ross headed west on the boulevard on a motorcycle. Fogerty said Joseph C. Hurdle, Negro, of Rt. 1, Virginia Beach, evidently turned left onto the highway and struck Ross head-on.

Fogerty said Hurdle then backed up and fled the scene. An unidentified friend of Ross, following him in another motorcycle, followed Hurdle's car until it came to a deadend street. Virginia Beach police picked up Hurdle shortly thereafter.

Y.W.C.A. Luncheon Set For Dunes Hotel

The Virginia Beach extension of the Y.W.C.A. in Norfolk, will have a luncheon at the Dune's Hotel Virginia Beach, Monday, May 26 at 12:45 o'clock.

All members, guests and prospective members are invited. This luncheon will climax the six-week series of weight control classes.

Mrs. Forest P. White will give a book review, "Don't Eat the Daises."

For reservations call Mrs. W. P. Kellam, GArden 8-4712, or Mrs. H. H. Bendler, GArden 8-1661, or call Y.W.C.A. Norfolk MA 2-6521.

Kellam Named To Take Part In Ceremonies

Lieutenant William P. Kellam of Virginia Beach has been designated by the National Commander of the American Legion to represent that organization in interment ceremonies for unknown military dead May 26. It was announced this week.

Interment in Arlington National Cemetery on May 30 of unknown military personnel from World War II and the Korean Conflict was authorized by Congress in it's last session.

Kellam is scheduled to go aboard the USS Canberra on the morning of May 26 for the selection ceremony off the coast from Virginia Beach. There will be two unknowns of World War II and one not selected for burial in Arlington will be buried at sea in the time-honored tradition.

According to a letter from Admiral Jerauld Wright, USN, Commander in Chief of the Atlantic Fleet Kellam and other representatives will board the USS Canberra at the Naval Base Piers at 8 a.m. on May 26. She will proceed to sea, conduct the Selection Ceremony and return to Norfolk the same day.

Kellam is a past commander of the Princess Anne American Legion post and is past departmental commander for Virginia. Kellam presently is a member of the National Internal Affairs Commission of the American Legion in the Selection Ceremony by National Commander John S. Gleason Jr.

FIRST MEETING IN NEW HALL HUGE SUCCESS

By MIKE KATSIAS

The impact of convention business on this city's economy was visibly in evidence this week with the 3rd annual Virginia AFL-CIO convention in town marking the first convention in the city's new Convention Center.

The AFL-CIO convention brought some 900 delegates to Virginia Beach from all parts of Virginia and while business sessions were going on in the aluminum dome Convention Center, wives and others connected with the convention were visiting shops, drug stores and restaurants all over Virginia Beach.

To get an idea of what a convention means to the Beach and also to get the reaction of delegates to the new Convention Center and Virginia Beach, this Sun-News reporter interviewed conventioneers and merchants during the three-day meeting.

Louis Minter, from Atlantic City, N.J., was one of the first persons to be interviewed. Minter is connected with a nationwide photographic service which handles work for many unions. "It's (the Convention Center) one of the nicest places to take photographs in the entire country. In my opinion, this center is on a par with the new one at Miami Beach. I've seen many cities [illegible] and I have yet to see one [illegible] Through my business at the Center I have patronized the Beach merchants. I took some of my clothes in Miami Beach and therefore purchased $60 worth of new clothes here."

Two delegates from Richmond were also interviewed. They were Stewart B. Childress and Gates McCullen, who are president and vice president of the Richmond Trades Industrial Council, respectively.

"The Convention Hall is one that the city can be proud of and through our visit here we have patronized many Virginia Beach merchants," Childress said. In a critical vein the labor leaders noted that more centralized accomodations for large groups such as theirs would be more desirable.

Reaction to the first convention in the new Convention Center from local merchants and business establishments re-affirmed predictions of what convention business could mean to Virginia Beach.

Ruth Miller, a saleslady for the Russell and Holmes shoe store, said that their business had been very good throughout the convention days and that many delegates had purchased footwear from the store. "Business was almost as good on Monday as it was on Saturday," she added.

Dance Recital Here Friday

On Friday night May 23rd at 8:00 p.m. the annual dance recital of the Martha Carr School of Dancing will be presented at Virginia Beach High School. A feature of this year's show will be a ballet "The Little Princess Who Wouldn't Laugh," adapted from an old fairy tale.

Although the whole student body will take part in the ballet, the main characters will be "The Queen," Betty Grace Smith; "The Princess," Judy Faye Emeler; "Ladies' in Waiting," Ann [illegible], Mary Cabell Ray, Stephanie Sykes; "Fairy Godmother," Cynthia [illegible] and "The Girl," Louise Rainey.

The second act will present a minstrel show "Alabama Jubilee" featuring songs, dances and specialty acts.

Although admission to the recital is primarily by invitation, a limited number of tickets will be available at the door, proceeds from which will go to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Library Fund.

Scott Memorial Stewardship Program Now in Progress

The Annual Christian Stewardship Program of Scott Memorial Methodist Church is now in full progress and is meeting with marked success.

This plan, which is for the purpose of enlisting members of the church to subscribe to the financial support of the church for the conference year 1958-59, is under the direction of Mr. A. Gene Nelson, chairman of the official board, and director of Stewardship for Scott Memorial.

Through Monday night, May 19th a total of approximately $12,000.00 had been subscribed by the visits of the stewards of the church in the homes of church members and on "Loyalty Sunday" May 18th, on the annual budget of $10,340 for current expenses and benevolences. More than $6,000.00 had been subscribed toward the budget of $10,000.00 for building and improvement. This fund would provide for the painting of the church, payment of the balance of the debt for the recent purchase of additional land, and for the first steps in plans for building a new educational wing to the church.

The conference year will close on Sunday, May 25th and the congregation is working faithfully to meet not only its local obligations, but the obligations to the district and conference for the Connectional and Missionary items of its annual budget.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Arthur Young, of Arlington, Va. have been guests recently in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Strieby, pastor of Scott Memorial Methodist Church. Dr. Young is a retired minister of the North Iowa Methodist Conference. The Youngs have been on a motor trip to Florida.

Princess Anne Little League Opens Season

Opening ceremonies of Princess Anne Little League was held Monday night at Carey Field, Lynnhaven with the invocation by the Rev. R. C. Flitton, Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church.

Plaques and trophies were awarded to Comdr. R. F. Hague, president of 1957; Fleet Reserve sponsor of the winning team Pirates of 1957; and Mrs. Charles Kilton in the absence of the winning team manager, Mr. Charles Kelton.

Capt. Konrad, commanding officer, Oceana Air Station and James Darden, county supervisor had a few words to say to the boys and pitched the first balls to Donald Young, a polio child not able to participate in this year's activities.

Mrs. Gerry Davis, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary threw the switch lighting the field for the first night game. The lights will provide two games a night with over 200 boys participating this year.

The first game was played by American Legion sponsored by Post 113 and the Dukes sponsored by L. Z. Toby. Score was 5 to 3 in favor of the Legion with Bobby DeMille pitching a two-hitter game.

James Smith hit a home run in the second inning for the Dukes.

Khedive Temple Shrine Spring Ceremonial May 31

More than 100 candidates will be initiated into the Shrine of North America during Khedive Temple ceremonial to be held in the Convention Hall at Virginia Beach Saturday, May 31st.

Illustrous Potentate Ira L. Hancock Jr., and his Divan will lead a parade of the uniform units of the Temple down Atlantic avenue starting at the Cavalier Hotel at 2:30 p.m. The parade will turn off at 17th street to Pacific avenue, thence to Convention Hall.

All candidates will report at the Hall at 12 noon.

The ceremonial will begin at 3:30 p.m. and will be followed by the traditional feast at 6:30 p.m.

All activities will be held in Convention Hall, including dancing from 9:00 to midnight, Jack O'Neil and his orchestra furnishing the music.

Garden Club of Virginia Meets In Lexington

At the 38th annual meeting of the Garden Club of Virginia in Lexington, Va., May 14 and 15, as guests of the Blue Ridge Garden Club the following officers were elected for the next two-year term: President, Mrs. James Gordon Smith of Greenwood; first vice president, Mrs. Burdette S. Wright of Leesburg; second vice president, Mrs. E. Ashton Sale of Martinsville; Treasurer, Mrs. James Bland Martin of Gloucester; recording secretary, Mrs. George Benoit of Fredericksburg; Directors, Mrs. Vernon M. Geddy of Williamsburg and Mrs. Nathan Bundy of Virginia Beach. The Massie Medal, highest award of the Garden Club of Virginia, was presented to Mrs. W. Wayt Gibbs of Staunton for her "surpassing abilities and contributions in the field of horticulture and for her outstanding services to her state, her community and the Garden Club of Virginia over a period of many years." Mrs. Raymond C. Power of Richmond, chairman of Historic Garden Week, announced that the gross proceeds for this year were $30,715.68, 20 clubs reporting an increase over last year. She presented the Garden Week Chairman for 1958-59, Mrs. George Horace Flowers Jr. of Richmond.

Mrs. Herbert McK. Smith of Staunton, chairman of the Restoration Committee announced that the restoration of the gardens at Woodlawn are practically completed and the club approved the recommendation of her committee that the new restoration project be the garden of the Adam Thoroughgood House in Princess Anne County, initially proposed by the garden clubs of the Tidewater area. A further recommendation of the restoration committee was that the Garden Club of Virginia join with other organizations and individuals who are voicing disapproval of the enlargement of the Capitol in order to provide additional Senate office space. Awards for outstanding achievement in conservation went to the Princess Anne, Winchester-Clarke and Blue Ridge Garden Clubs. The Garden Study Group of Martinsville was elected to become the 43rd member club of the Garden Club of Virginia.

OCEAN PARK WOMAN'S CLUB

The Ocean Park Woman's Club met Wednesday, May 14, at 12:30 p.m. at the Ocean Park Fire Station.

Mrs. A. F. White, program chairman, introduced the speaker, the Rev. Thomas W. Britton, pastor of Shelton Memorial Congregational Church, Portsmouth, who spoke on "Our American Heritage." In his talk he said "Freedom is one of those words everyone uses but very few understands. The most satisfactory explanation of it can be found in the Bible."

The newly elected officers, which were elected at the April meeting, were installed by Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, of the Princess Anne Woman's Club.

Miss Nadine Isaacs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Isaacs of Ocean Park, Bayside, and a student of Princess Anne High School, will be sent by the club to Girls State this summer.

The Picture of the Month was "The Christ" by Johann Hoffman. A description of the artist was given by Mrs. C. J. Hiller, Fine Arts chairman.

Mrs. C. Phillip Tanner played a piano solo. Mrs. L. Dow Ledbetter, president, presided.

Day School Final Exercises Set for May 30

The Country Day School for Girls held its spring dance on Saturday night, May 17, at the Sir Walter Hotel.

Chaperons for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. M. Sutton Carter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bernard Brown and Mr. and Mrs. James L. Bennett. Out-of-town guests were Lt. and Mrs. Harold Lambert Jr. of El Paso, Texas.

Final exercises of the school will be held on Friday evening, May 30, at eight o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. A cantata, "The Childhood of Hiwatha," will be given by the school chorus under the direction of Mr. Bristow Hardin and Mr. Henry G. Morgan. The music will be accompanied by a series of tableaux in which students of the eighth grade will take part.

An Indian dance directed by Mrs. Sarah Sadler Williams will bring the musical program to a close. Presentation of awards for scholarship and citizenship will follow.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

First Convention Has Impact

The first convention to occupy and use Virginia Beach's new Convention Center, the Third Annual Meeting of the Virginia AFL-CIO which was held here this week gave a clear and firm indication of what this facility will mean to the economy of this community in the future.

We are naturally proud of the handsome building that has emerged from the original aluminum dome erected on the city block square between 19th and 20th streets and Pacific and Arctic avenues, but more than that we were pleased and gratified to learn the dollars and cents value of a convention to this city.

Since the AFL-CIO meeting was the first convention to use the new Convention Center the SUN-News conducted a modest survey of delegates and merchants. The purpose was to determine the reaction of delegates to the new Convention Center facility and to Virginia Beach and to determine just what effect a convention of this size might have on local business.

The survey was rewarding, to say the least. It was found that delegates were impressed and delighted with our convention facilities and one delegate expressed the opinion that our Convention Center was equal to the new one in Miami Beach.

From the merchants' point of view the survey was even more gratifying. Without exception the merchants interviewed stated in effect that they realized a big boost in business during the three days of the convention. All were high in their praise of the forward step taken by the city in building the Convention Center and most business people expressed the opinion that it would mean a great deal to Virginia Beach in the years ahead.

Now that we have served our first convention in the new Convention Center we should look ahead. It is the job of every citizen here to help make those attending conventions in our city as welcome as possible and to see that they enjoy their stay in Virginia Beach. The impression carried back home by these convention visitors of Virginia Beach holds the key to the future of this community as a resort and as a convention center. We should strive to make a good impression.

A Good Audit Report

Despite efforts by some to create an unfavorable impression, the audit report of the city's fiscal affairs as of June 30, 1957, as presented to the City Council Monday by Brock and Hodges, certified public accountants, is a good financial report.

The report showed that there existed as of June 30, 1957, a balance in surplus in the general fund of $30,077.29 which was available for appropriation. It was also pointed out at the meeting by City Auditor F. M. Durham, Jr., that the city's bonded indebtedness at the present time stands at approximately $2,900,000 and that of this amount approximately $2,800,000 is in long term bonds that have been voted upon by the taxpayers.

In addition to the audit report City Manager W. Russell Hatchett told members of City Council that, in his opinion, there probably could be a reduction of as much as 25 cents in the city real estate tax rate next year as a result of the new reassessment survey recently completed. The survey places the assessed valuation at more than $58,000,000.

A good audit report of the fiscal operation of the city, the prospect of a lowering of the real estate tax rate, the new construction that has taken place here this year and the opening of the magnificent new Convention Center this week gives a strong feeling of optimism to the future of Virginia Beach. What is needed most here are more "boosters" and fewer "knockers" for the prospect of continued growth and progress here is tremendous. We believe that Virginia Beach is on the threshold of an era of prosperity and development never before experienced by this city.

road, adjacent to the Aragona pumping station.

A request for a change of the name of Teats street to Dogwood lane was referred to the planning commission for recommendation of a new name after it was pointed out that there is already a Dogwood lane in Aragona Village.

A request by residents of 76th street, North Virginia Beach, for drainage assistance along the roads was referred to the State Highway Commission.

The board also directed its executive secretary, Richard J. Webbon, to advertise for bids for the operation of the Sandbridge parking lot.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Refresher courses in business skills, taught by volunteer teachers are helping bring mentally ill veterans on the road back to normal living.

Such courses are conducted by volunteers from the community for patients at most Veteran Administration mental hospitals, under supervision of staff therapists, the agency said today.

VA cited its hospital at Roanoke, Va., as an example of the program. There, patients are re-learning typing, shorthand, mathematics, accounting, and statistics.

Dr. Joseph B. Bounds, manager of the hospital, said several of the patients in the courses formerly worked as secretaries, typists, or clerks.

After a few weeks in the classes, they begin to regain part of their lost skills, Dr. Bounds said, and more important, comprehend that they can re-learn and hope to resume useful work when they leave the hospital.

As patients gain confidence in the courses, many perform tasks in offices of the hospital, for the therapeutic value of the work, he said.

Dr. Bounds said although the courses have been organized at the Roanoke hospital only six months, one of the patients, a former legal secretary, has returned to her old job in her home state at a salary of $70 per week.

Q—I'm a veteran with a service connected disability. Can I just go to my own doctor for treatment and have him send the bill to VA?

A—No, the first must obtain VA approval, before he may treat your service-connected condition at Government expense.

Q—I understand the new GI loan deadline for World War II veterans is July 25, 1960. Does that mean I can wait until then before I ask a lender for a GI loan?

A—No. The lender must have agreed to make you the loan, and must have requested VA's approval before the deadline date.

With increasing frequency World War I veterans are asking: How can I prove my date of birth? When I was born out in the country there was no doctor, no record had to be made at the court house, and the family Bible has been missing many years. The Social Security people and the VA both say I've got to dig up some acceptable record of my birth before they can pay me any benefits.

World War I records show that many men listed themselves as younger or older for reasons of their own, or just plain didn't know and guessed wrong by as many as one to five or more years.

For the information of those veterans preparing to retire or who are becoming totally disabled and have no birth certificates or family Bible, the birth evidence acceptable in order of preferance by the VA or Social Security is:

1. Affidavit of physician or midwife in attendance at birth, if that person still living.

2. Affidavits of two or more persons who shall state their ages, showing the name, date and place of birth of the person whose age is being established, names of parents and stating the source of their knowledge.

3. Census records, old insurance policies, school, immigration, employment, or old church records.

A delayed birth certificate (one obtained later on in life from the State Bureau) is acceptable if it shows on its face that it has been issued on evidence listed in one of the foregoing paragraphs.

United Lutheran Church Women To Meet Tuesday

The United Lutheran Church Women of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd will hold their quarterly General Meeting on Tuesday, May 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the Haven, the Church Parish House.

Dr. L. S. Mason, a research scientist with the Navy and a member of Good Shepherd, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Mason's subject will be "Decisions in Education."

There will also be election of officers for 1958-59. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at this important meeting.

Kempsville Baptist GAs, RAs Honored

The Girls' Auxiliary and the Royal Ambassadors of Kempsville Baptist Church received recognition for their achievements for the past year at a special evening service May 16, 1958.

The highlight of the service was the crowning of Gene Yancey and Susan Yeager as Queens, and the recognition of Dickie Garriott as an Ambassador.

Those who passed steps and ranks during the past year are as follows:

The Sunbeams took part on the program by singing and serving at attendants for the Queens.

Special music by Mrs. George Held and Mr. Andy McCullar.

First Meeting

Sol Abramson, manager of the Hamburger Haven and the Beach Lounge remarked: "Definitely we have had a substantial increase in business during the week thanks to the convention hall. We have a healthy outlook for the summer season thanks to the opening of the Convention Center."

Other merchants expressed similar optimism and all felt the new Convention Center would be the making of a longer season for Virginia Beach and would add greatly to the community's economy.

QUEEN OF DE PAUL SCHOOL OF NURSING

Miss Helen Degen of Virginia Beach was crowned queen of De Paul School of Nursing at their formal dance May 16th at the Pythian Castle in Norfolk.

The May Dance is one of the social events of the school year and the honor of being chosen Queen is highly treasured by the lucky candidate.

Miss Degen, a member of the Junior Class, was crowned by Dr. Norman N. Hill Jr. of the De Paul Hospital staff.

Mrs. Crockett New President of Lake Joyce Club

The Lake Joyce Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Jernigan on Baum avenue, Chesapeake Beach, on Wednesday, May 14th with Mrs. W. C. Griffin serving as co-hostess. The club voted to send one hundred dollars to the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs, honoring Mrs. W. C. Griffin and Mrs. Robert L. Munn with life memberships.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year were:

President, Mrs. M. K. Crockett Sr.; first vice president, Mrs. W. C. Griffin; second vice president, Mrs. S. M. Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. R. F. Rhodes; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. M. Hockman Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Robert L. Munn; historian, Mrs. R. E. Twiford.

Mrs. J. B. Maddrey won the Barbara Gifford perpetual trophy for the most outstanding arrangement at the May meeting; Mrs. S. M. Parker won the Alta Griffin Sweepstakes award in Artistic arrangements and Mrs. Everett P. Seay the sweepstakes award in horticulture, for the year.

Mrs. Cecil H. Reed, chairman of judges, announced the ribbons won on the day's exhibits as:

Mrs. Maddrey, the gold; Mrs. Jernigan three blues; Mrs. Seay four blues; Mrs. Parker one blue; Mrs. Crockett three blues and Mrs. Twiford one blue, two reds and one yellow.

The annual luncheon meeting will be held at the Shore Drive Inn on Shore Drive, on Wednesday, June 11th, at 1:00 p.m. Members may make reservation by calling Mrs. Griffin at telephone HO 4-0481.

I wish to thank you for the excellent publicity you have given our club during the year. Being publicity chairman for the club was a new experience for me, and I feel that you have helped make my task easier.

TRI-HI-Y HAS RECEPTION

The recently elected officers of Trinity Tri-Hi-Y of Princess Anne School were honored Thursday night at a party at the home of Judie Dorer in Kempsville. The event was preceded by the annual induction ceremony.

Guests of honor were: Lois Frais, president; Ann Lyon, vice president; Jo Anne Hines, secretary; Nadine Isaacs, treasurer; Annette Norris, chaplain and Shirley Foskett, reporter. Outgoing officers who acted as hostesses were Jeanette Elmore, Judie Dorer, Deanna Jones, Lois Frais, Carolyn Charles and Linda Spence.

U.S. Navy Commander Robert E. Peary became the first living person in world history to reach the top of the world when he planted the "Stars and Stripes" there April 6, 1909.

Interpreting the Unemployment Figures

No economic facts are watched more carefully, both within and without the Government than those on employment and unemployment. Evidence of this is provided by the fact that the figures for April were issued almost two weeks ahead of the normal release date. The official explanation of this, given by Secretary of Commerce Weeks, was that "the estimates were available at an unusually early date." It is suspected, however, that another consideration was that the total of unemployment showed a decline for the first time since last November. Specifically the total dropped from 5.2 million to 5.1 million. Employment rose 600,000 during the month.

These moves—the increase in total employment and the decrease in unemployment—are customary for the period between mid-March and mid-April. The real question, therefore, is whether the changes were as large as they should have been for purely seasonal reasons. And back of that is the still more fundamental question: How accurate are the figures?

Looking first at the accuracy of the figures, there are two points that need to be made. First, the total is obtained by interviewing some 35,000 families in about 330 centers. This sample is carefully selected and the answers are scientifically weighted. Because of this it is maintained that the figure on unemployment does not have an error, either plus or minus, of more than 120,000. This means that a change of a few thousand should not be considered as significant.

Second, and this is important from the viewpoint of the total, a change in the definition of who is unemployed was made the first of last year. Up to that time anyone who was laid-off, but had word that he would be recalled within thirty days, was counted as employed. Starting in January, 1957, such individuals were counted as unemployed.

This change in the definition of unemployment necessarily adds to the total. No matter how good business is there are always some workers who are in the status of being temporarily laid-off. How many of these there are depends partly upon the general level of business and partly upon whether the trend of business is up or down. Currently it is believed that the total is about 250,000 larger than it would be under the old definition.

The meaning of this, from the viewpoint of interpreting the figures, is that the total of today, and actually since January of last year, is not comparable with earlier data. One needs to be extremely careful, therefore, in saying that we have more or less unemployment than we did in the two earlier post-war recessions.

Now as to the question of whether the changes in April were as large as purely seasonal factors would indicate, it may be said that the decline of unemployment was substantially less than the normal seasonal. The month of highest unemployment is normally June, because of students getting out of college and looking for work. January is the second highest month of the year. There normally is a slight decline in February, a somewhat larger drop in March, and a quite sharp decline — close to 10 per cent — in April. Last year the decline in unemployment in April was 192,000 and the year before it was 270,000. This year the drop was 78,000.

Another interesting question is: How much unemployment is normal? There is no agreement on this. Some students maintain that this so-called frictional unemployment should total not more than 3 per cent of the civilian labor force; others insist that the correct figure is 5 per cent. The April figure is some 7½ per cent of our current labor force, and no one maintains that is either good or desirable.

Taking the picture as a whole, therefore, and making every reasonable allowance for the change in the definition of unemployment, this April report is not too encouraging. Certainly it cannot be interpreted as indicating that the employment trend has reversed.

Niblack System Opening Beach Salon Today

The Niblack System will open their new salon at 2704 Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach, on Thursday, May 22. The public is invited to come in and inspect the equipment and acquaint themselves with the process of this nationally known reducing system.

The equipment used by Niblack System was designed about 25 years ago by Dr. H. D. Niblack of Denver, Colo. It comprises four different types of machines designed to concentrate massage on any area of the body. It is used to sculpture muscle as readily as to roll away deposits of fat.

Dr. Niblack's invention was to employ the machines for benefit of his patients, primarily for strengthening tissue, soothing nerves and stimulating circulation. He found, however, that women were not content to limit themselves to health benefits, when they could change the basic shape of things. Dr. Niblack was not interested in leaving his practice for the beauty field, so he let the system grow like topsy until he retired about three years ago. At the time he disposed of his interests there were about 45 salons operating. There are now 102, as advertised in Harper's and Vogue, with prospects of others opening soon in Canada, India, and the Caribbean isles.

In the Tidewater area, a salon was opened in Norfolk about 18 months ago. It is expected to be complimentary to the salon now opening in Virginia Beach. Regular prices will prevail for series of treatments.

On opening day there will be registration prizes. The Virginia Beach salon is located at 2704 Atlantic Avenue. The salon is under the direction of Mrs. Curtis H. VanDolsem.

Annual Luncheon Held by Cardinal Garden Club

The Cardinal Garden Club of Birdneck held their annual luncheon Tuesday, May 13th at the Princess Anne Country Club.

New officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. W. W. Johnson of the Birdneck Garden Club.

Mrs. D. J. Dee Jr. was presented a gift of appreciation as our outgoing president.

Mrs. John Anedrson was named the Cardinal Garden Club Woman of the Year.

Members of the club recently beautified a triangle in Birdneck.

The U.S. Navy Fuel Depot at Rota, Spain is port terminus of a 485-mile multi-product petroleum pipeline through the Spanish interior feeding fuels to four U.S. Air Force bomber bases now under construction.

New S&H 'Book of Ideas' Being Distributed in Area

NORFOLK, VA., May 22 — Mr. Scully, Norfolk Branch Manager for the Sperry and Hutchinson Company today announced distribution here of the new S & H catalog, the largest single publication printing order in business history. The printing order by S & H, which has been distributing catalogs for 62 years, is 36 million copies.

For the first time in the history of the trading stamp industry, Mr. Scully said, magazine-types articles giving useful homemaking ideas are included. Because of this innovation the 1958 S & H catalog has been named the "Book of Idea."

The articles were written by such notables as actress Arlene Francis, George Mardikian, the San Francisco restaurateur, and Edith Braswell Evans, editor-in-chief of Living for Young Homemakers. The introduction to the Book of Ideas was written by Dorothy Roe Lewis, Woman's Editor of the Associated Press.

The first article in the stamp catalog is "Let Imagination be the First Course" by Edith Braswell Evans. Miss Evans offers important tips to the party giver, ranging from advice on selecting guests to hints on effective, yet simple, table settings.

Next on the list of articles is "Start a New Life with Color" by Arlene Francis. Miss Francis tells how to make color work to the best effect in the home.

George Mardikian, in an article entitled "The Sound of Music," advises that regional dishes are best. Proper toys for children are discussed in an article by Dr. T. R. Van Dellen of the New York News syndicate.

For the man around the house, Roger C. Whitman, syndicated author of "First Aid for the Ailing House," tells how to take care of carpentry tools.

Mr. Scully pointed to the following graphic statistics regarding the catalog: 7,000,000 pounds of paper were used; laid end to end a string of catalogs would be 4,000 miles long; stacked one on top of the other the catalogs would be 150,000 feet high (100 times higher than the Empire State Building); 70,000 pounds of stiching wire stretching 1,300 miles were used in the binding operations; if the total amount of paper used were converted to a 32 inch wide strip, its length would be in excess of 80,000 miles; 190 railroad cars (a train more than two miles long) will be needed to transport the catalog to its more than 70,000 destinations.

Three of the largest printing concerns in the nation are producing the Book of Ideas. They are: Curtis Publications, publishers of the Saturday Evening Post and Ladies' Home Journal; Fawcett-Dearing of Louisville, Kentucky; and the Pacific Press, printers and publishers of the West Coast editions of Life, Time, Newsweek and Sunset.

The S & H catalog, traditionally called the "Distinguished Merchandise" catalog, has undergone a series of transformations in its 62-year history, Mr. Scully said. The latest and most marked change took place with the present 1958 edition with the conversion of part of the catalog to magazine format.

Carol Gay Roser To Head Tri-Hi-Y

Carol Gay Rosser has been elected president of Deffers Tri-Hi-Y of the Virginia Beach High School for the 1958-1959 term.

Other officers elected to serve with her are:

Betty Smith, vice president; Betty Cadieux, secretary; Virginia Petty, treasurer; Donna Huey, reporter and Jane Horner, chaplain.

Miss Rosser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Rosser of 1200 Baltic avenue. She is at present secretary of Deffers Tri-Hi-Y, a member of the High School Band and has recently been appointed to the annual staff for the 1958-1959 term. She attends the Virginia Beach Methodist Church.

Business Up-turn Seen by Clark

Signs of a business up-turn will be increasingly evident as the year progresses, Wallace Clark, president of Virginia Beach Gas Corp. said after he returned from the annual convention of the national Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association in Chicago.

Mr. Clark, who was one of approximately 4,000 dealers and suppliers of LP-Gas at the Chicago meeting, said he heard Ernest T. Baughman, economist for the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank, make this prediction.

He also heard Dr. Norman N. Royall Jr. of the University of Kansas City forecast increasing leisure time for the American people. They will find their work week shortened by the new technologies that are both taking the toil out of work and adding to the available jobs for a growing population.

These forecasts, Mr. Royall said, point to an abundant future for all American businessmen.

For today's farm and home buyers Mr. Clark said he saw whole new lines of work-saving gas appliances. He and other dealers in butane-propane gases also learned the latest ways to improve service to their 10 million customers.

For the homemaker Mr. Clark saw new lines of gas refrigerators, which are just now coming on the market and will give trouble-free service via their no-moving-parts feature. For the farmer there are cost-cutting features in crop dryers and irrigation equipment. There is also a lot of interest, Mr. Clark said, in using LP-Gas as a fuel for tractor, lift truck, automotive and stationary engines.

Mr. Clark was accompanied to the national trade association's 27th annual meeting by Mrs. Clark, assistant secretary-treasurer of the corp.

Beach National Little League To Open Season

Summer Play School To Be Conducted At Everett School for Children Ages 3-8

Take thirty-five children between three and eight, give them plenty of constructive play, good music and mid-morning snacks all under the supervision of experienced teachers and what do you have? Thirty-five happy kids certainly.

"And just as many happy mothers," we told Mrs. Kitty Blosser shamelessly. Mrs. Blosser with Mrs. Joy Ross will conduct a summer play school in the play yard and kindergarten rooms of the Everett School from June fifteenth to August fifteenth. Mrs. Blosser admits it takes a mighty energetic young mother to keep pace with children of that age in the summertime.

She says that she can go through a morning with seventeen or eighteen youngsters and be less tired than the mother of one or two who is put to it to find answers to the eternal question, "Mommy, what is there to do-oo?"

It's knowing all the answers that makes the difference of course. All the answers to what makes for happy children anyhow. Both teachers believe in translating adult events into terms a child can appreciate and both can maintain discipline while entering into the children's fun. When the Everett School, where they teach kindergarten from September to June, won the R. Lee Page Trophy this year, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Blosser had their charges making thumb-size "silver" cups; when the picture of Mrs. Blosser's kindergarten was taken at Halloween it showed her as a laughing, rather believable Robin Hood. Mrs. Ross is one of those rare creatures who lowers her voice when all around her are raising theirs. The children have to be quiet or they'll miss what she's saying and they've found it's usually worth hearing.

But let's get back to the mothers. We told Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Blosser we were convinced Virginia Beach youngsters would have a wonderful summer in their hands. But our sympathies were with the frankly selfish mother who had just a little money and didn't know how to spend it. "I have the choice of a week in New York or having Johnny in play school this summer," she said. "And I think play school will do me more good."

MISS WINSLOW

Miss Gloria Virginia Winslow of Princess Anne, a junior majoring in psychology at Mary Washington College, has been appointed a member of the YWCA cabinet.

First Lieutenant John Trevett, who reported for duty in November, 1775, is believed to have been the first Marine officer.

Princess Anne B&PW Club Hears Speakers

Mr. William Dekker, president of the Hotel Motel Association of Virginia Beach, and Mr. Richard Keeley, manager of the Convention Center, were guest speakers at the last meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Princess Anne. At this meeting, which was held a the Dunes Hotel on May 12, Mr. Keeley explained to the Business and Professional Women the purpose and the management of the new Convention Center which is housed in the Dome located at Pacific avenue and 19th street.

The following members served as delegates to the State Convention of Business and Professional Women held May 16, 17 and 18, at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, Virginia:

Mrs. Mark White, Mrs. M. P. Strickler, Miss Ruth Newell, Mrs. Graham Dalton, Mrs. Emily Babmon, Mrs. Julia V. Rust, Mrs. Edwin Kane, and Mrs. W. H. Mabry.

The Cavalier Hotel in Virginia Beach has been chosen as the location for the fall planning conference of the State Business and Professional Women's Clubs. This conference will be held September 19, 20 and 21.

The Princess Anne Business and Professional Women's Clubs has donated $200.00 to the library fund of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. This money was raised through the sale of chances on a custom made hat, designed by Mrs. Marion Urban, with material donated by Mrs. Edwin Kane. Mrs. Fletcher Gerlock was winner of the hat.

Young People To Be Confirmed

Nine young people of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd will be confirmed on Pentecost, Sunday, May 25, at the 11:00 a.m. Worship Service.

Those who successfully completed the required study of the doctrines of the church are:

Misses Cheryl Eshard, Ann Hood, Sharon Jones, Judy Laramie, Karen Larsen, Anne Mason, Judy Nilsen, Mr. Billy Pinkham and Mr. Carl Taylor Jr.

Upon their confirmation, these young people will become adult members of the Lutheran Church. They will celebrate their first Holy Communion on the following Sunday, June 1.

Cancer Group Board Hears Progress Report

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society held a general board meeting at which time a six months progress report was given. Members of the board expressed their joint approval of all activities being carried on by the unit.

The Princess Anne Unit was honored to have Mr. William Perkins, the new president of the Virginia Division, and Mr. Bernard Woodall, executive director of the Virginia Division, attend this meeting. They both complimented the unit on the excellent interpretation of the overall cancer program.

On Wednesday, May 14th, Mrs. Wyndham Brown, executive secretary, and Mrs. Paul Dolgins, secretary of the Princess Anne Unit and a member of the Virginia Division lay service committee, attended a meeting of this committee at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Richmond. At this time plans were discussed to revise the service handbook and create a new public information kit. Several new projects were outlined for the dressings program.

Farmers Cautioned On Child Labor During School

Farm youngsters under 16 years of age are expected to be in school during school hours in this community, Acting Regional Director Pat Meloan of the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division in Nashville, Tenn., says that the child labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act (commonly known as the Wage and Hour Law) generally prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture during the hours when the schools are in session. So children under 16 cannot legally be employed for farm work during local school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce. However, a farmer can work his own children on his own farm.

Farmers are responsible under the Federal Law if they hire under-age children to do farm work during school hours, and the law applies equally to local resident children or to migrant children.

Meloan says "School Hours" means those hours when school is actually in session for the school district where the child under 16 is currently living.

"The law," he said, "sets no minimum age for employing minors on farms before or after school hours or during school holidays or vacations.

Employers (farmers) can be subjected to civil and criminal action for violations of the Act.

The first official step of the Continental Congress to provide Marines was taken Nov. 10, 1775.

Dr. Selden Heads Group In Staging Outdoor Drama

The Tidewater Historic Drama Association has announced the production staff of "The Confederacy." This outdoor symphonic drama will open its first season July 1st in its own amphitheatre, now under construction at Virginia Beach.

Heading the list as director of the production is Dr. Sam Selden, director of The Playmakers at the University of North Carolina. Dr. Selden is best known for his work as director and consultin, director of many historical symphonic dramas written and produced by Paul Green, author of "The Confederacy."

Assisting Dr. Selden in the double capacity of assistant director and stage manager is John W. Caldwell of Louisville, Ky. In addition to being director of both The Playhouse and The Little Theatre Company in Louisville, Mr. Caldwell has had extensive experience in acting, production, and directing of plays throughout the United States. He comes to "The Confederacy" completely qualified to take over the arduous and complicated duties required of this position.

The announcement of the name of Edward H. Devaney as assistant to the stage manager rings a familiar bell with Norfolk and Virginia Beach playgoers. Mr. Devaney, raised and educated in Norfolk, is currently the instructor of directing at the School of Radio Technique in New York City. However, he is best known in Tidewater Virginia for his fine work as director for the Theatre-In-The-Round in Virginia Beach for the past few seasons. Mr. and Mrs. Devaney, with their small children, make their home at 727 Westover Ave., Norfolk.

To devotees of symphonic drama the name of Herman Middleton is a familiar one. Now head of the department of drama as well as director of The Theatre at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina in Greensboro, Mr. Middleton brings a wealth of experience with him as technical director of "The Confederacy." Mr. Middleton will be ably assisted by Ronald Morton and Charles Horton, both of the faculty of Campbell College. Mrs. Susan Horton, wife of the latter, will also serve on "The Confederacy" staff in the capacity of assistant organist.

Lighting is in the capable hands of James Byrd, technical director and instructor in speech and drama at the University of Maryland. Mr. Byrd will be assisted in the lighting department by Ross Davies of College Park, Md., and Ames Schroeder of 303 Bridges Ave., Portsmouth. Schroeder is now a student at Duke University, Durham, N.C.

Local residents need no introduction to the musical director, Willard Robb, 909 Rockbridge Ave., Norfolk. Long prominent in music circles in the Norfolk area, Mr. Robb is associate professor of music at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk. He also serves as minister of music at the Larchmont Methodist Church in Norfolk. Mr. Robb's theatrical experience includes production and direction of musical festivals throughout the midwest as well as the composition of two operas, "The Harvest Song" and "The Twilight Saint." Assisting Mr. Robb as organist for "The Confederacy" will be Clayton Pitts Jr. of Portsmouth. Now a student at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, this young local musician brings to the production a real wealth of talent, experience and enthusiasm.

Another prominent local name on the production staff of "The Confederacy" is that of George Whitehurst, 420 West Bute St., Norfolk, the costume director. This winner of the New York Fashion Award has been costume designer for the Norfolk Little Theatre for the past three years. Formerly associated with such well-known people of the theatre as Victor Borge, Marlene Dietrich, Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy, Mr. Whitehurst brings valuable experience and artistic ability to his new post.

Mrs. Gertrude Ennis Uhler, 114 Afton Ave., Norfolk, has been appointed choreographer. Well-known locally as a teacher many of whose pupils have gone far in the world of the dance, Mrs. Uhler's wide experience in dancing and directing particularly equips her for this important post.

Completing the list is James A. Johnson Jr., prominent Virginia Beach resident and principal of the Virginia Beach High School. Mr. Johnson's great executive and administrative ability make him particularly qualified to serve in key post of house manager.

This staff is expected to be assembled very shortly in preparation for the exciting season of symphonic drama to be presented at Virginia Beach this summer.

Virginia Beach Girl Scout Rally

Approximately 350 Girl Scouts, Brownies, leaders and interested adults attended the Virginia Beach Girl Scout International Camp Fire Rally held at Camp Linkhorn.

The rally opened with greeting songs sung by the entire group. This was followed by a most colorful Flag Ceremony with 16 countries represented. The 17 flags from the other countries were hand made by the Scouts and mounted on six-foot poles.

Amid a beautiful setting of tall pines and sand shrubs, with the flag bearers holding their flags and the color guards standing at attention, Mrs. Abner Steuerlein of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, Post No. 7166, presented a World Flag to the Princess Anne District Girl Scouts. This flag was received by Mrs. Glenn Dill, Juliette Low Chairman, on behalf of the entire district. Scout Connie Medas then sang the Girl Scout Invocation just before the flags retired.

A Brownie Fly-up Ceremony was given by Mrs. L. B. Gore and Mrs. S. E. Terrill with Mrs. E. B. Loweecey receiving the Fly-ups for Intermediate Scouting. The 42 Brownies Flying Up were Sharon Baull, Nancy Day, Gail Edge, Kay Engsberg, Dorinda Hoarty, Anne Jones, Emily Krants, Loren Lawlor, Mary Linda Payne, Ann Simpson, Christine Waterfield, Laurie Fox, Trudy Williams, Christine Brown, Ann Runk, Konette Ritter, Dawn Burton, Kathy Barco, Laura Johnson, Treasa Hughes, Laurie Loweecey, Jackie White, Kay Gore, Kathy Esposito, Cathy Meredith, Alice Killen, Vicky Cay, Joan Downing, Linda de Leon, Iris Soffee, Georgianna Miles, Gayanne Fox, Lisa Ann Freeman, Nancy Strasberg, Jane Silverman, Celia Fazan, Helen Evans, Jane Upson, Nancy Rydell, Mary Stewart Coffman, Sarah Stormont and Donna Buxton.

Relay races were next on the program, scored as follows: Three-legged race, Brownie Troop 241, Intermediate Troop 200; 25-yd. Dash, Brownie Troop 290, Intermediate Troop 464; One Foot Hop Brownie Troop 212, Intermediate Troop 230; Bunny Hop, Brownie Troop 222, Intermediate Troop 211; Duck Waddle, Brownie Troop 227, Intermediate Troop 211; Stick Relay, Brownie Troop 488, Intermediate Troop 211.

Brownie Leaders and Scout Leaders assisted by Seniors put up a terrific battle in the balloon ace. This race was judged a tie, giving all troops an extra point. Points were also given for neatness of the Nose-bag supper line and 100 per cent attendance. Highest scorers for the rally were Brownie Troop 212 and Intermediate Troop 211.

After a nosebag supper, the Scouts gathered around a huge campfire while a Scout from each troop added a piece of wood for the country her troop was representing.

Mrs. Sterling Farley, neighborhood chairman, introduced the distinguished guests and all Girl Scouts earning Five Point Pins, Curved Bars, 10-year pins, 5-year pins, First Class or Second Class were recognized. Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Paul Dolgins, district chairman, and Miss Lois McIlwain district director, greeted each Scout with the Girl Scout hand shake.

After group singing of favorite Girl Scout songs, taps was blown by Clara Katelas, Joan Schroeder and Virginia Ray. A tired but happy group of Girl Scouts then shouted their good nights as they left the camp site.

Appreciations of thanks for a most successful out door rally are extended to all leaders, their assistants, all hard working Senior Scouts, Mrs. Lewis E. Smith, rally chairman, Mrs. Sterling Farley, neighborhood chairman, Mrs. E. B. (Five Chief) Bayne, Red Cross "Nurse", Mrs. B. S. Utley Jr., for teaching and leading songs, Mrs. Stewart Conrad, Day Camp chairman and Mrs. Walter Summers, publicity.

Since 1921, the Marine Corps has observed November 10 as its birthday.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles . . . for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

I believe, just about every week in the year has been set up as a "Special week" and did you know May 22-31 is National Pickle Week? Well! it is and I want to share with you some very special recipes, Ruth Stoehr of H. J. Heinz Company sent me. She sent me something else too - some of their new candied Krink-L- Chips. Yummy - yum - are they good? Bet you'll love them too - Why don't you salute National Pickle Week and try some of these pickle treats?

Cheesy Bean Broil

1 can pound) beans
6 sandwich Buns
6 slices process American cheese (cut into strips)

Drain beans. Slice sandwich buns, toast under broiler. Spoon approximately ½ cup beans onto each bun; criss cross with cheese strips. Broil till beans are hot and cheese bubbles. Makes six sandwiches. I'd suggest you serve some of those new Heinz Krink-L-Chips with your sandwiches - and see what a hit they made—

Bacon N'Egg Sandwich

4-6 slices bacon
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Cook bacon until crisp, drain and crumble. Combine mayonnaise mustard and parsley. Stir in eggs and bacon. Chill to blend flavors makes 1¼ cups. Make sandwiches using the mixture on bread of your choice.

Now for some wonderful salad suggestions for those warm days that will soon be here.

Almond Chicken Salad

3 cups cubed, cooked chicken
⅔ cup candied Dill pickle strips
½ cup blanched slivered toasted Almonds (these can be bought already slivered in cans at your favorite market)
½ cup seedless white grapes
½ to ¾ cup Mayonnaise or salad dressing
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vinegar (I like Heinz)

Combine first 4 ingredients Blend mayonnaise, salt and vinegar. Mix lightly with chicken mixture. Chill. Spoon into lettuce cups garnish with water cress - and Krink-L-Chips. Makes 4-6 servings

Don't you just love a salad as light-as-a-cloud on a hot summer's day? Well - here is the recipe for one.

Tropical Treasure Salad

1 package (3 ounces) lemon gelatine
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1 can (0 ounce) crushed pineapple
½ cup minced Heins Sweet Pickles
½ cup chopped pecans
½ cup evaporated milk, whipped

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water; add cold water. Chill gelatine until slightly thickened. Fold in pineapple, pickles, nuts and whipped milk. Turn into 1½ quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce or endive. Garnish with chopped maraschino cherries. Makes 6-8 servings.

To whip milk-Pour undiluted evaporated milk into ice tray of refrigerator. Chill until ice crystals form around edges. Beat at high speed until stiff. If you prefer - you may use ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

Sweet and spicy candied dills and a dash of mustard pick up the flavor of cooked beef and Swiss cheese for a sandwich spread that is truly different.

Beef-Swiss Cheese Sandwich

1 cup cubed – cooked beef
¼ cup process Swiss cheese
8 candied Dill strips or ½ cup chopped sweet pickles
½ to ⅔ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 teaspoon mustard

Coursely grind beef, cheese and pickle together. Blend in Mayonnaise and mustard. Chill - Makes 2½ cups.

Its the right time to very early salute National Pickle Week Right Now — and then celebrate all year by having pickles - pickles, pickles on the pantry shelf - all the time- Sweet, sour, candied, dills - chips, strips - gerkins, sliced, relish, and mixed pickles, just every kind, will add a great deal to the pleasure of feeding your family. Bye Now—

French Salon To Meet May 25th

The May meeting of the French Salon of the Woman's Club will be held on Sunday, May 25th at the clubhouse, 524 Fairfax avenue at 3 o'clock.

Capt. Pierre L. C. Ichie, capitaine de vaisseau, and chief of the French delegation to the Supreme Allied Command, Atlantic, will speak, in French on the subject "An Humble But Illustrious Savante, Madame Curie."

Captain Ishle, who was with the Free French forces in England during the war, is officer in the French Legion of Honor, and has been decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross by the British. He has seen service in North Africa and in Indo-China also. The French Salon is open to all interested in French culture and the conversational use of the French language. Students of French in the high school and colleges are especially invited. An informal reception will follow the program.

The Frech Salon is sponsored by the Woman's Club, by Miss Cherry Nottingham and by Pierre Schmitz, French Consul in Norfolk. Mrs. Bertha Fanning Taylor is chairman and founder. French people residing temporarily in the community are especially welcomed. The May meeting is the last meeting of the season.

Deep Creek High Senior Wins Art Contest

Linwood Spratley Jr., a senior at Deep Creek High School, was honored Monday as the winner of an art contest sponsored by the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Norfolk.

The contest, conducted in cooperation with the Norfolk and Princess Anne county high schools, was designed to create interest in the Naval Air Reserve program and to provide a color scheme for NARTU's FTU "Cutlass" display aircraft.

Spratley's winning entry, selected from over one hundred entries was painted in water colors with a red, white and blue theme. Mrs. Edith G. Franklin is the art teacher at Deep Creek High School.

During ceremonies at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit young Spratley was awarded a $25 savings bond and a model of the FTU painted with the winning paint scheme. Immediately after the presentation he was given an indoctrination flight around the Tidewater area.

Linwood Jr., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Spratley Sr. of RFD No. 3, Portsmouth.

ARAGONA P-TA WILL MEET

The final meeting for the year 1957-58 of the Aragona Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Tuesday, May 27 at the Aragona Elementary School. An open house will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at which time parents may visit in the classrooms. During the following business meeting the nominating committee will report and after allowing sufficient time for nominations from the floor, election for the coming year will be held.

Also at this meeting district forms will be filled out by all parents present.

Mrs. Michael McCarthy, program chairman plans to secure information from these to help direct planning the organization's program for the next year.

At a recent meeting of the executive board it was decided to present two awards for parent attendance. One will be given in the three primary grades and the other will be awarded to grades from 4 through 8. The board also will recommend the purchase of two sets of Encyclopedias for the use of teh school.

Following the business meeting a social hour will be held; refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jens Hansen and her hospitality committee.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 279

Mr. James Vaughan, chairman of the troop committee, announces that plans are well under way for the Bar-B-Que which will be held on Saturday, May 31 at the Aragona School.

Supper will be served from 4:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. and the tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. This affair is sponsored by the adult committee for the troop and will serve as a fund raising project to present the troop with badly needed troop equipment.

Music will be furnished by the Tony Sacha School of Music. Also that evening a court of honor will be held to accept new scouts into the troop and to make awards.

At the regular meeting of the troop on Monday evening Commander Sista Moravville showed the boys a movie on Guided Missiles. The boys were also informed of the Seaboard District Camporee which will be held on May 30 through the 26th at the site of Broad Creek Village on the Virginia Beach boulevard. This three day camp-out will serve as a field test for various scouting skills and will afford the adult leaders an opportunity to determine what progress the boys are making under present scouting programs. Camping will be according to patrols and there will be many inter-patrol contests for prizes. Inspection will be held and skills will be judged and rewarded.

Parents are invited to visit the camp site on Saturday, May 24th from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Religious services will be held on Sunday before the scouts break camp and return home. Since the camp site is so convenient to the Village, almost complete troop participation is expected from Troop 279.

YOUNG PEOPLE PRESENT GIFT TO CHURCH

The members of the Senior Youth Fellowship of Christ Presbyterian Church proudly presented a red Bamberg book mark for use in the pulpit to Mr. Yorke Starr, pastor of the church. This Fellowship meets every Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the church located on Aragona boulevard at Bayside road.

EXPLORER SCOUTS WILL ELECT

At the regular meeting of Explorer Post 279 on Tuesday, May 13 a nominating committee was appointed and directed to present a slate of officers at the next meeting. This will be on Tuesday, May 27 and election will be held for the coming year.

On Tuesday, June 10 the charter for the post will be presented and plans are underway for the ceremony.

Newcomers welcomed to the post are Scott and Gary MacLeod, sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. MacLeod Jr., 1305 Aragona boulevard. Mr. MacLeod is now serving as chairman of the committee, succeeding Commander Lee Nordbye.

The members of the post would like to express their gratitude and appreciation to both Commander Nordbye and Major William Bell, former advisor, for their assistance in starting the post in the Village. The present Explorer Advisor is Mr. Donald Thomlison, 1332 Holliday road.

THE CARROLL COMPANY

Business, Employment and Investment Consultants

MAY 22, 1958

An Open Letter To The People of Virginia Beach:

I am establishing a type of business which I believe will prove helpful and beneficial to those who confer with me. Because of nearly 30 years of background and experience in various types of employment, enterprises and knowledge of various types of current investments, I am prepared to give clients exceptionally good advice.

Here is a brief resume of my business history: IT

I started my career as a newspaper reporter and also engaged in newspaper circulation work. After 5 years as a salesman and buyer, I was promoted and made General Manager of a large furniture and appliance store, where I was chief executive successfully for 7 years. During this period my store employed an average of 25 employees with a normal change-over, and many of them were placed in better paying positions through my help and guidance. When the real estate business started booming in Washington, I entered into it with other lucky ones (at that time). First I was a salesman and appraiser, later sales manager, and finally an owner and broker, employing 8 salesmen and saleslades. While I operated my own business, I was also an investor in homes and 2nd trust mortgages. During this period, I "dabbled" from time to time in stocks and bonds, but not to any great extent.

What I am offering my clients is advice based on an extensive general education, in addition to the many years of experience mentioned above. But, most important, is my established policy of charging my client only a small fee for the time consumed in studying the problem involved, and extending the advice and help needed. Since my business is to constantly investigate current investment markets to choose the wiser and safer opportunities, I will advise only what is believed to be the maximum protection against possible loss.

Regarding employment, I am not an agency to find jobs, but a consultation may develop an idea for another type of job which the client is better suited for.

Specifically, our company is in business to give advice only. If it is found during interview that a client needs a broker, he or she will be referred to one of the many brokerage firms in this area with a good reputation.

In closing, this is a cordial invitation to phone GArden 8-4164 for a consultation at a mutually convenient time.

Sincerely yours,
THE CARROLL COMPANY
J. Carroll Annenberg, owner & founder

FORT STORY TELLINGS

STORY TRAINING TEST ENDS

Fort Story, Va. — A two-day Army Training Test was completed Thursday, May 15 at Fort Story.

Eight units participated in the war games which consisted of an assault on the Fort Story Beach Tuesday utilizing the DUKW amphibious vehicle.

When the units hit the beach they were met by the aggressor force. With the aggressor overcome, the forces moved to high ground to set up field offices and a defense perimeter.

After the assault phase the second part of the operation, a logistical problem, fell into place. The MV "Hickory Knoll," a Transportation Cargo Vessel, was unloaded by Terminal Service companies, and brought to a cargo dump for final placement via DUKW.

When the cargo had been removed from the "Hickory Knoll" at 1:00 a.m. Thursday the logistical portion of the problem was declared completed.

The purpose of Army Training Tests is to determine the readiness of the individual soldier and his unit.

ARMED FORCES DAY

Amphibious equipment from Fort Story was featured in the Armed Forces Day exhibits last week end as Transportation Corps personnel joined in a world-wide salute to our Nation's men and women in uniform.

Guests at the Armed Forces Day open house at Fort Eustis and the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, had an opportunity to see the world's largest amphibian, the BARC (Barge, Amphibious Resupply, Cargo) as well as the DUKW, the Army's famous amphibious truck.

DUKW's were also exhibited at Oceana Naval Air Station; Fort Lee, Virginia; Richmond Quartermaster Depot, Richmond, Virginia; Newport News, Virginia and Fort Eustis.

Fort Story personnel participated in helicopter demonstration at Fort Story, and the Oceana Naval Air Station.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP OUT

Members of the Tidewater Council, Boy Scouts of America, ba in a three-day "campores" Friday, May 23 on a site at the intersection of Virginia Beach boulevard and Ingleside road.

During the "campores" contests will be held and awards given. The Health and Safety Committee will conduct a "Good Turn Safety Poster" contest. Other contests will be conducted in the fields of string burning, compass, knot tying, first aid, nature and others.

Awards will be given to different units for outstanding displays. The council has urged the Scouts to invite their friends and relatives to visit the camp-site on Saturday from 1.00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. to view the displays.

An award will be given to the unit having the most adults registered to see the "camporee."

NORFOLK NDTA MEETS AT STORY

Members of the Norfolk Chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association held their annual Armed Forces Day meeting Saturday, May 17 evening at Fort Story.

The principal speaker at the meeting session was Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., Commanding General of the U. S. Army Transportation Training Command at Fort Eustis. He was introduced by the local chapter president, Colonel George E. Woods Jr., Commanding Officer of Fort Story.

The day's events began with a demonstration of Army helicopters at Fort Story's parade field. The business session, held after refreshments and dinner, heard the recommendations of the nominating committee for the next year's officers of the chapter.

Saturday was designated National Defense Transportation Day by Presidential proclamation.

STORY TROOPS PARADE IN PORTSMOUTH

More than 180 officers and men from Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion participated in Portsmouth's Torchlight Parade Friday evening, May 16.

The troops, under the command of Captain Henry G. Allard of the 155th Transportation Company, were members of the Headquarters Detachment of the 10th Battalion, the 555th Transportation Company, and 155th.

Also featured in the parade was a DUKW, the Army's famous amphibious truck.

WASHINGTON PROMOTED TO COLONEL

The commanding officer of one of Fort Story's northern-bound units, John H. Washington of the 417th Transportation Company, was promoted Thursday, May 15 from the rank of Major to Lieutenant Colonel.

A native of Missouri, the new colonel attended high school in Kansas City before attending Illinois State Normal University. He entered the Army in April, 1941.

After returning from the northern operation in the fall, Colonel Washington will return to his permanent assignment at Hampton Roads Army Terminal in Norfolk. His wife, Marion, is living in their quarters at the Army Terminal.

To make weather keep its place . . .

you need an ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP

Mrs. Modern thinks weather's place is out of doors. And that is where it stays all year . . . thanks to complete climate control by her Electric Heat Pump.

Her home's "all set" for heat or cold . . . or anything in between! She never has to reset the thermostat. Whatever the weather, the Heat Pump adjusts to it . . . and keeps the whole house flooded with fresh, dust-free air, always in the Springtime comfort zone.

To be Mrs. M . . . meet the Heat Pump! It's the big brother of the dependable, sealed unit in your refrigerator. But the Heat Pump works in either direction. It cools your house in Summer . . . then turns itself around to keep you warm in Winter, without fire, fuel or flue! And without attention from you. Ask vepco for the exciting facts about this modern climate miracle for your new home.

"KNOWN BUT TO GOD"
Thousands flock every year from all corners of our nation to stand in hushed reverence before the tomb of the soldier "known but to God."
To all others, he is labeled "Unknown." And in this fact alone, there is tremendous significance. No man knows who this boy really was—but God knows!
God knows you, too, as he knows every man, every woman, every child in the world. That means that no matter who you are, no matter what you do, you can never be really "unknown."
You might ask yourself, "Do I know Him?" If the answer is negative, remember that your first step in finding Him is the step that takes you through the door of His house on earth.
Start going to church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

2 4-H CLUBS SINGLED OUT AT ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

Members of 21 Princess Anne County 4-H Clubs gathered at Courthouse School Thursday night for the annual 4-H Achievement Program.

Two clubs were singled out for awards as the most outstanding clubs during 1957-58.

The Courthouse 4-H Club was judged the outstanding junior club, and the Kempsville-Bayside Community 4-H Club was the senior winner.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the H. W. Catlin Awards to the four 4-H'ers judged as the outstanding individual members during the past year.

Mrs. Grace Harrell of Bayside, a member of the selection committee, presented these to Bobby Vaughan of Back Bay; Lois Furlough of Blackwater; Annette Murden of Back Bay; and Johnny Joyce, Princess Anne.

The awards are named for H. W. Catlin who retired as Princess Anne County agent in 1953 after 35 years service.

Scholarship to 4-H Club summer camp and the 4-H Short Course at VPI were awarded to winners in the achievement competitions.

Winners in the order of their prizes were: Garden: Betty Ann Lee, George Lee, Edward Jennings; Field Crops: Eddy Vaughan, Bobby Vaughan tie; Meat Animal: Johnny Joyce, Larry Johnson, Billy Brown, Bobby Barnes; Entomology: Richard Grimstead, Sue Smith tie, George; Home Grounds Beautification: Betty Ann Lee, Lois Furlough, James Hill, Randall Coakley, Johnny Smith, George Lee; Farm & Home Electric: Bruce Clark, Phyllis Rogers, Leonard Perkins, Richard Grimstead; Secretary's: Mary Cates, Marion Blackwell; Safety: Lois Furough, Randall Coakley, Judy Blanton; Leadership: Lois Furlough; Room Improvement, Jeanne Wilkerson; Food Preparation Demonstration (Jr.) Josette Hawks, George Lee, Linda Gomes; Food Preparation Achievement: Ginger Oliver, Martha Brubaker, Linda Ward; Clothing Achievement: Doris Humphries, Betty Ann Lee; So You'd Like to Sew: Marlene Blackwell, Elisabeth Spaulding, Ruth Ann Oliver; Dress Revue: Betty Ann Lee, Martha Brubaker; Bread Demonstration: Martha Brubaker; Laundry: Geraldine Lupton, Patricia Whithurst, Betty Ann Lee; Public Speaking Contest: Alicia Holt, Bruce Lark, Lois Furlough, Wayne Flora; Public Speaking Achievement: Carolyn Charles; Share-the-Fun Program: Eddie Cooper and Jimmy Hill, Marlene Blackwell, Payl Craig, Laura Davis Paul Black and Betsy Black, Carol Lee; Birdlife: James Frye, Barbara Owens, Michael Persinger.

Five of the 4-H clubs had exhibits protraying some of the activities that they had carried out during 1957-58. The Kempsville-Bayside Community Club won a Blue Ribbon award and $5.00 for their Safety exhibit. The Creeds Junior 4-H Club and the Courthouse Junior 4-H Club won a Red Award and the Princess Anne High School and the John B. Dey School won White Awards.

Several of the clubs exhibited scrapbooks. The Kempsville-Bayside Community Club again won the scrapbook contest and received a $5.00 award for their entry.

COUNTY WOOL POOL WILL BE HELD JUNE 4.

Mr. Alvah Jones of the Farmers Fertilizer & Seed Corporation at Princess Anne, Virginia is now the purchasing agent for the United Wool Growers Association. Mr. Jones will handle the Wool Pool in the same manner as it was held last year by our office. He will have all of the necessary forms to fill out for consignment and application for incentive payment.

The pool will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. he advance price for clear tied wool will be 35c per pound and for clear untied wool the advance price is 33c per pound. All other wool will bring an advance price of 20c per pound.

This advance price is the first of three payments that farmers will receive under the consignment program of the United Wool Growers, Association. The second payment will be the difference in price that the wool growers sell your wool for and what they have already paid you. The third payment will be the incentive payment through the ASC Office.

ODOR EXPERTS CONFUSE SHEEP

Odor experts have, unknowingly, stepped in to confuse the maternal instincts of mother sheep, and thereby save the lives of modern lambs. Frequently ewes that have given birth to twins will neglect the lamb born first and give all their attention to the later arrival.

George A. Allen, Jr., sheep specialist at VPI, tells the tale of a sheepman who noticed this maternal misbehavior and discovered an unual way to prevent it. He took a can of the new space freshner that destroys odors and sprayed it on the neglectad lamb, and also on the mother's nose. Immediately the mother gave equal attention to each offspring.

Subsequent trials showed that the trick also works when two ewes have lambs—one with twins and the other with a single that dies. In this case, one of the twins is sprayed and given over to the lambless mother, who promptly accepts it. By the time the deodorizing effect of the spray has disappeared, a lasting family relationship has been established.

There's more, seems, to sheep raising than meets the eye. It also meets the nose.

MISMANAGEMENT IMPORTANT CAUSE OF MASTITIS

Poor Milking methods, including mismanagement of milking machines, are the greatest single cause of mastitis, according to scientists at VPI.

They say that actually mastitis is not a single disease but really the result of many conditions. The world "Mastitis" merely means an inflammation of the udder, and may refer to all injuries and inflammation of that organ.

At least 70% of all the mastitis in Virginia is man-made. And if dairymen will follow recommended managed-milking practicies, milk production and profits will go up.

Some people have said that certain feeds or feeding practices will cause mastitis. Not so, the scientists say. They cite University of Illinois work for instance, which clearly showed that heavy corn feeding does not cause mastitis. The Illinois workers also found no relation between amount of protein in the ration and abnormalities of the udder or of the milk. Both heavy corn feeding and high protein feeds have been blamed in mastitis cases.

Agrifables

By H. H. BRANNEN

A grown man years ago made a curious living trying to find out how dead people lived. Traipsing around South American jungles, avoiding disagreeable head-hunters (the primitive counter-part of today's rock and garbage throwers) he discovered well preserved graves of an ancient civilization. At rest were mummies who had been carefully provisioned with peanuts for their journey into the hereafter. This makes it tough to speculate whether these old boozers with the goobers didn't trust paradise to have any peanuts or they were figuring on a place where peanuts could easily be parched.

In colonial days parched peanuts were hawked in pleasanter surroundings from street corners of Virginia coastal towns. The growing of this crop in our country apparently started in Tidewater, Virginia and during the War between the States, Southern and Northern armies sashayed back and forth across hapless Virginia peanut fields. When the bugle sounded for chow, the company entrenched in a peanut patch were in luck. This was the first time many northern soldiers had ever tasted this enchanting southern goody and the popularity of the peanut lingered long after the conflict. Just shows a good pitch can come out of a rough wind-up.

A good half of the peanuts now used for food purposes go into peanut butter. Oddly enough here again the peanut benefited from hard luck. About 1890, peanut butter was first prepared as a special food for sick folks. To let you in on a secret, pound for pound, peanut butter has more protein, minerals, vitamins and calories than beefsteak. No wonder hogs look happy in a peanut field.

Peanut salting, the second largest peanut consuming industry in our country, got rolling on the railroad. Around the end of the last century newsbutchers on railroad trains sold salted peanuts to traveling salesmen. Thus, the farmer can at least bless the traveling salesman's name, or at least those with such discriminating tastes.

But peanuts, delicious and nutritious, are a problem since you can grow an awful lot in long southern growing seasons in light textured soils. Perhaps if we raised enough elephants, but then —it looks easier to store a few extra peanuts than contend with a hungry herd of surplus elephants.

Moral? Peanuts, a biteful; to monkeys, delightful; in surplus, frightful.

Deadline July 1 for Applications for Wheat Allotments

Applications for 1959 wheat acreage allotments must be filed by July 1, 1958 ASC reports.

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain in any of the years 1956, 1957 and 1958 and for which a 1958 wheat acreage allotment was not established, may apply for a 1959 wheat acreage allotment according to Mr. W. P. Hunger, chairman of the Princess Anne Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The owner or operator of such a farm must apply in writing to his ASC county committee by July 1, 1958, Mr. Hunger stated. Otherwise, a 1959 wheat acreage allotment will not be established for the farm.

Mr. Hunger further explained that 1956 wheat acreage on a farm which did not have a 1958 wheat acreage allotment does not qualify as wheat history acreage for the purpose of establishing acreage allotments.

A 1959 old farm wheat acreage allotment will not be established for a farm without wheat history in 1956 and 1957 and on which wheat was planted for grain in 1958 without a 1958 wheat acreage allotment unless an application is filed by July 1, 1958. Blank forms are available at the ASC county office for use in filing requests for allotments.

VEGETABLE GROWERS:

Here's a weed-killing "blanket" that can save $20 to $90 an acre on hand-weeding

We call it Vegadex,® and it works a new way. You only have to spray it on once—at planting time. Vegadex forms an invisible chemical blanket over your soil. Annual grasses—and even some tough weeds like purslane and henbit—sprout, touch the blanket, and die.

Your vegetables—like celery, lettuce and cole crops—grow through unharmed, with few or no weeds to fight them for sunlight, water and plant food. And, Vegadex won't "build up" in your soil.

Vegadex practically eliminates costly hand-weeding. Last year, many vegetable growers saved from $20 to $90 an acre on labor costs by spray-weeding with Vegadex.

Before you plant your next crop, stop by your Monsanto Farm Chemicals Dealer—he'll give you an informative new folder on Vegadex.

HERE'S HOW THE VEGADEX "BLANKET" can kill weeds for you! All celery shown here was planted at the same time, but notice the weed-free rows at left which were band-sprayed once with Vegadex at planting.

Make sure you're spraying right. Ask your Monsanto Dealer about the special offer on the Spray-Rate that accurately measures the amount of spray your rig applies per acre.

Middle Atlantic Growers

VEGADEX KILLS—henbit (blue weed), purslane, annual bluegrass, bull grass (goose grass), crab grass, foxtails, pigweed, barnyard grass, chickweed, lambsquarter.

VEGADEX IS SAFE FOR—spinach, collards, kale, mustard, turnip greens, hanover salad, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, snap beans, lima beans, soybeans, garden beets, celery, lettuce, sweet corn, field corn.

Convention Center Open House Press Party Monday, Tuesday

Virginia Beach's new Convention Center will hold "Open House" for the public next Monday night according to Richard Keeley, the city convention director.

Hours for the "Open House" at the Convention Center will be from 6 until 10 p.m. The general public is invited to tour the new convention building and to view the outstanding facilities to be found there.

While Monday night's "Open House" is generally regarded for the public in the area a newspaper group has been invited here on Monday and Tuesday for a Virginia Beach House Party.

The House Party invitations has gone out to resort and travel editors of many of the nation's leading newspapers. The invitation has been extended by the Virginia Beach Advertising Board, the Chamber of Commerce, the City of Virginia Beach and the Hotel and Motel Association.

Program for the House Party, which is designed to salute the new construction here, the Convention Center and the Premiere season of "The Confederacy," calls for a golf tournament for the visiting newsmen on Monday afternoon and a cocktail party Monday night.

On Tuesday morning the newsmen will be taken on a tour of Virginia Beach and be shown all of the new construction plus a drive by the Convention Center and the site of "The Confederacy." The group is scheduled to lunch at the Oceana Naval Air Station and attend a cocktail party at the Convention Center from 6 to 8 p.m. The House Party is scheduled to conclude with a barbecue at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club Tuesday night.

Green Readies Outdoor Drama On Visit Here

The first whisper of the full-bodied musical arrangements for "The Confederacy" sounded forth in Norfolk Tuesday on the mighty Conn organ as Paul Green, master craftsman of the symphonic drama, conferred, arranged, tested and rearranged the score with musical director, Willard Robb and organist, Clayton Pitts.

In all of Mr. Green's previous outdoor dramas the music and action of the chorus have been highly successful in setting the mood of the play, helping to achieve its climaxes and transitions and generally welding the dramatic movement together. Music for "The Confederacy" will be no exception, as it carries on the Green tradition from the first swells of the major-mooded overture, through light-hearted ballroom scenes to the roaring action of the battlefield.

In capturing the spirit of Civil War times, the playwrite has carefully chosen music that will best adapt itself to the drama story. In the absence of a "top 30" listing for the 1861 to 1865 years, he has dug deeply into history and come up triumphant with songs known to have been most frequently on the lips of soldiers and civilians of that period.

"Lorena," perhaps the most whisky sung and popular ballad of the days is first heard in the melancholy and nostalgic lyrics, wends its way through "The Confederacy."

In like manner strains from "The Yellow Rose of Texas," "Just Before the Battle, Mother" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me," together with the war-weary theme of "Tenting Tonight" and somber-tempered "The Conquered Banner" will weave sounds from the homes, the streets and the battlefields of a century ago into Paul Green's modern tribute to the men and women who lived during America's bloodiest war and to the Confederacy's man of the hour, General Robert E. Lee.

It is expected that the musical arrangements will be completed and ready to start rehearsal the first week in June.

'Slow Down and Live' Advice to Holiday Crowd

Richmond, Va.—With a warning against traffic dangers of the long Memorial Day week end, Colonel C. W. Woodson Jr., Superintendent of State Police and chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, announced the opening of the national "Slow Down and Live" campaign in which Virginia will again participate.

The campaign is aimed against speeding and other "in a hurry" violations and runs from Memorial Day through Labor Day. Last year, the nation showed a decrease of 2.5 per cent in deaths for the period while Virginia's deaths soared to a 19 per cent increase.

In spite of this record, Virginia saw only one death during the holiday, which fell last year in mid-week. Three-day Memorial Day week ends in 1957, 1956 and 1955 took 18, 6 and 9 deaths respectively.

"The week end dangers," Colonel Woodson said, "are similar to those of any other holiday or vacation week end. People hurry to get there and back. They drive when exhausted or sleepy. The drinking driver is more prevalent. Traffic is heavy and congested." He further pointed out that the average driver will rise early, hurry to his destination, engage in tiring activities to which he is not accustomed and wait until the last minute before starting home. During the time, he is prone to do a little drinking.

"Even if a driver does not come within any of these categories," he continued, "he should realize that the roads will carry an abnormal load of those who do. Everyone should drive defensively with the realization that one does not have to be at fault himself to die in traffic."

As a final warning, Colonel Woodson advised that cars be thoroughly checked mechanically, that they not be overloaded or so loaded that there is interference with the driver's vision, and that children not be permitted to distract the driver's attention. "Modern holiday traffic calls for 100 per cent concentration," he concluded.

Moose Dance Set For This Saturday

The Virginia Beach Moose Lodge will hold a dance on Saturday, May 31, at the Moose Home, it has been announced.

It was also announced that the public is invited to the dance.

COUNTY CONSTRUCTION PASSES MILLION MARK

Estimated construction costs in Princess Anne County in the past month have again passed the $1,000,000 mark.

Edward M. Williams, county building inspector, reported to the Board of Supervisors Monday that 150 building permits, for construction valued at $1,527,557, had been issued in the period from April 28 to May 28. The county received $5,866 in fees.

The latest report brought the totals for the year to 726 permits for building with an estimated cost of $6,282,845. The county's fees totaled $20,204.

Educators Plan Mathematics Program Here

Members of the mathematics department of the Virginia Beach city schools are shown above with Elmer Tarrall, assistant superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Margaret R. Jeter, assistant principal of the Virginia Beach High School, and James A. Johnson, Jr., principal of the Virginia Beach High School. The group conferred recently on next year's mathematics program in the city schools. Pictured above, left to right, are Col. W. M. Mack, Mrs. Jeter, Tarrall, Robert P. Courtland and Isaac P. Davis and Johnson. Mac., Courtland and Davis are members of the mathematics department and each is the holder of a master's degree making the math department of the Virginia Bach City Schools unique in that every faculty member of the department holds a master's degree. In fact all six persons in the picture hold master's degree. Davis is from Chowan College.

Legion Holding Memorial Day Service Friday

Memorial Day services will be held at the American Legion Memorial Park on Friday, May 30, starting at 1 p.m., it has been announced by a spokesman for Princess Anne Post 113.

The Memorial Day address will be given by Captain L. W. Smythe, USN, commander of the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek.

Post Commander Pete Poindexter will open the services with a welcome address. Commander Poindexter will introduce Virginia Beach Mayor Frank Dusch, who will in turn introduce Capt. Smythe.

A feature of the program will be a Nike display and a salute by the firing squad from nearby Fort Story. The ladies auxiliary will make the wreath presentation.

The services are open to members of the American Legion, their families and guests. It was announced that refreshments will be served.

Group Will Meet To Form Vet Club

A group of interested Virginia Beach citizens will hold a meeting in the new Convention Center on Wednesday night, June 4, for the purpose of organizing a barracks for veterans of World War I.

National officers of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. will be present at the meeting, it was announced. The meeting is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

Final Little Theatre Play Acclaimed As One of Best

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre presented its final play of the current season Monday and Tuesday nights in the Virginia Beach High School and enthusiastic audiences had their peales for the presentation of "Oh, Men! Oh, Women."

Particular praise was showered on Wade Williams, who played a lead role as Arthur Turner. Williams gave a sterling performance in this role although he had been pressed into the part with only two days to learn his lines.

Lon Backman played the role of a patient of the psychoanalyst to the hilt, reveling in the part of a man in the throes of "love, physical that is."

Jack Postell, as the man whose couch was the focal point of much of the play; his fiancee, Dolores East, whose secrets were revealed by patients on the couch, and George Mullen, as an 84-year-old dean of psychoanalysis, were happily cast.

Anne Henry was the wife of Williams in the play. She handled the part of a neurotic, complaining wife forever reaching for the doctor's box of paper handkerchiefs with real feeling for the ridiculous.

Vivian Allman played the straight role of the doctor's secretary and Jack Garrison very obviously enjoyed his small role as the steward on the honeymoon ship on which the doctor and his fiancee finally sailed for a honeymoon cruise.

Neal Thomas's sets were decorative, effective and beautiful and so built that the three entirely different scenes required were set up with a minimum of effort. He used stark modern furniture against pale walls in all the sets, rearranging and adding or subtracting colors to change the character of the backgrounds.

The Little Theatre is continuing its campaign to raise funds for its own building. Two portable television sets were awarded as a feature of the fund drive.

Shriners Here This Weekend

Khedive Temple Shrine Spring Ceremonial to be held at Virginia Beach Saturday, May 31st.

A parade of the uniform units led by Illustrious Potentate Ira L. Hancock, Jr. will step off at 2:30 p.m. from the Cavalier Hotel.

In addition to the Illustrous Potentate and his Divan there will be the band, Arab Patrol, Chanters, Drum and Bugle Corps, Oriental Band, hill-billies, Provost Guard, Ritualistic Divan, Medical Staff and Director's Staff.

Line of march is along Atlantic avenue to 17th street, thence to Pacific avenue, to Convention Hall, where all activities will take place.

The ceremonial will establish a series of "Firsts" for Convention Hall. It will be the first meeting of a fraternal group for initiation purposes, starting at 3:30. The traditional feast at 6:30 p.m. will be the first time a large group has been served a meal there and the dancing from 9:00 p.m. until midnight will be the first activity of that kind.

A considerable number of distinguished Shriners from over the state as well as from Washington, D.C. and Maryland will attend the ceremonial.

Summer Play Program Gets Started June 11

The Virginia Beach summer recreation program will get under way with a get-acquainted party to be held at the Virginia Beach High School Gym at 2:00 p.m. on June 11. All school-age children and their parents are invited to attend.

The summer program is open to all school age children, and the program will be for a period of eleven weeks.

There will be fun for everyone, and the daily activities will consist of active games, quiet games, reading, bead craft, copper craft, clay craft, weaving, nail and wood burning, mosiacs and a variety of other activities.

Two playgrounds will be open during the summer, one at the W. T. Cooke School and the other at the Virginia Beach High School. Both playgrounds will be supervised by capable and experienced instructors. Coach Claude King will be in charge of the Virginia Beach High School area. Coach Robert Coulthard will be at the W. T. Cooke School. Mrs. Oran Avett will be in charge of the Arts and Crafts. She has many years experience in this field, and the children will receive the full benefit of her wide experiences.

The play areas will be open five days a week. The morning hours are from 9 to 12 o'clock, and the afternoon hours are from 1:30 to 4:30.

Half Million In Road Funds For P.A. County

A total of $507,965 in state and federal funds has been allocated for the maintenance, maintenance replacement and construction of secondary highways in Princess Anne County next year.

D. B. Hope, resident engineer of the Virginia Department of Highways, reported to the county's Board of Supervisors Monday that there are now 491.92 miles of secondary highways in the county.

The tentative budget, approved by the state department, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, provides $190,728 for maintenance; $38,945 for maintenance replace-

STATE EXPECTS WORK TO BEGIN AFTER SEPT. 1

The Pacific avenue improvement project is nearing bid stage and the project could be advertised for bids in July with work to actually begin about September 1, according to a representative of the Virginia State Department of Highways.

This information was released Tuesday by Virginia Beach City Manager W. Russell Hatchett, who was informed of these facts in a letter from W. F. Smith, urban engineer for the State Department of Highways.

Improvement of Pacific avenue has been in the planning stage for some time and was delayed several months ago due to a change in the system of one-way streets for both Atlantic avenue and Pacific avenue.

The improvement planned for Pacific avenue will extend from Seventeenth street to the Cavalier Hotel where Pacific avenue will fuse into Atlantic avenue. The cost of the project will be borne by the federal and state governments along with the City of Virginia Beach.

Local funds for the Pacific avenue work were approved in a bond issue here. The funds resulting from the sale of these bonds has been kept on deposit in the bank for this specific project.

According to Smith's letter to Hatchett he states "with the right of way certified and the final plans completed in July, 1958, with bids received in August and work begun around September 1."

Hatchett indicated that the Pacific avenue improvement project should proceed on schedule and that he expects actual work to begin shortly after September 1, just after the close of the heavy summer tourist season.

Downing Lists First TV Talk Monday Night

Warwick (Special)—Thomas M. Downing, first district candidate for Congress in the Democratic Primary on July 16, will fire his first television barrage at R. J. Robeson Jr., the incumbent, on Monday night, June 2nd. Downing will appear on WTAR-TV at Norfolk at 7 p.m.

William P. Hunt and Fred Bateman, district co-chairmen for Downing, say that he will outline the basic principles on which he stands and also call attention to a number of glaring defects in the eight-year record of the incumbent. Among these is Robeson's vote against liberalizing Social Security benefits in 1956.

The co-chairmen also announce that a joint district Warwick and Newport News headquarters for Downing will be opened in a few days in Warwick.

Both of them report that Downing is out in front in the race and predict his nomination by a comfortable margin—provided his supporters continue to wage an active campaign.

As Hunt put it, "his prospects appear excellent now, but a political battle is never won until the votes are in and counted."

Cavalier Beach Club Announces List of Bands to Play for Season

Virginia Beach, Va.—The line-up of bands for the 1958 season at The Cavalier Beach Club was released today by Sidney Banks, Cavalier president.

Sparking the summer's entertainment will be a South American Revue during the engagement of Dean Hudson and his Orchestra on July 25th through August 7th.

The revue will be under the direction of Jack Nagle and come direct from Miami. Nelle Costell formerly with the Lecuona Cuban Boys will star in the musical extravaganza.

Another headliner attraction is the engagement of Lester Lanin Orchestra August 8th through the 14th with Lester Lanin appearing in person. Lester Lanin's style was featured in Life Magazine as America's top society music.

Anita De Castro and her Orchestra will open the Beach Club on May 30th and be featured until July 3rd when Russ Carlyle and his Orchestra will take over the bandstand until July 17th.

The remaining bands scheduled are Ray Eberle and his Orchestra, July 18th thru the 24th of July; Johnny Long and his Orchestra from August 15th through August 21st and Art Mooney and his Orchestra from August 22nd through Labor Day.

As in previous seasons dancing will be nightly except Sundays and tea dancing every afternoon except Mondays during July and August. In the month of June tea dancing will be confined to Saturdays and Sundays only.

Opening of Beach and Cabana Club Marked with Improvements

The opening of the Cavalier Beach & Cabana Club May 30 is marked by many additions and improvements, according to Sidney Banks, president of The Cavalier.

Banks stated a large Florida type fresh water pool, being constructed on the north side of The Beach Club is scheduled for early June completion. Its installation will give The Cavalier three swimming pools with the outdoor pool at The Yacht and Country Club and the indoor pool at the main building.

Another innovation will be an outside charcoal grill and a German Beer Garden on the south side of The Beach Club. Further expanding the facilities will be a disappearing stage to be used for a floor show and special entertainment scheduled during the season.

The schedule of orchestras for The Beach Club is sparked with a revue and the personal appearance of Lester Lanin with his orchestra which is considered the top society band today. Banks went on to say that he considers the line up of bands to be a fine balance of popular new orchestras and old favorites with the added attraction of special entertainment calendared.

A complete redecoration of The Beach Club is part of the improvement program for the 1958 season.

Virginia Beach Host to Resort Press Party

The resort and travel editors of fifty seven newspapers and magazines have been invited to a Press House Party at Virginia Beach, June 2nd and 3rd.

The press party which was originated by The Advertising Committee of Virginia Beach is being sponsored by The Advertising Board, The Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, The City of Virginia Beach, The Hotel and Motel Association, The Retail Merchants Association, Piedmont and Capital Airlines.

The purpose of the party is to have the press see first hand the transformation at Virginia Beach with its new construction, the new Convention Center and to acquaint them with the drama for this summer.

The program planned for the two-day visit starts Monday with a cocktail party and informal buffet at The Cavalier at 6:00 p.m. with the Chamber of Commerce as hosts. All chamber members are invited to meet the visitors. The cost to all local persons attending is $5.00 which includes cocktail party and buffet. Reservations must be made by noon Friday at The Chamber.

Tuesday at 10:00 a.m. the Virginia Beach Hotel and Motel Association will be host for a bus tour of the entire beach with Russell Hatchett as tour host. All places will be identified on the tour and many inspection stops will be made. The bus will continue to the Officers' Club at the jet base for luncheon with Mayor Frank Dusch and the Navy as hosts.

Tuesday evening all the press guests will attend the celebrative party of the Convention Center with the City of Virginia Beach as hosts.

The two-day Press House Party will terminate Tuesday evening with an outdoor barbecue and boat ride at The Cavalier Yacht and Country Club where the visitors will be the guests of The Retail Merchants and the Yachting Division of The Cavalier Yacht and Country Club.

Approximately twenty representatives of metropolitain papers, travel and consumer publications and their wives are expected.

Birdneck Point Civic League Semi-Annual Meet

The Birdneck Point Civic League held its semi-annual meeting Monday night at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club with a vast majority of the area's 188 families represented.

President Frank W. Cox, who presided, reported on the club's activities since the last annual meeting. One of the main functions has been the improvement and beautification of the entrance to Birdneck Point. This project is continuing, he reported, and it is hoped that ultimately two colonial design columns may be placed at the entrance.

Cox reported that Sidney Banks, of the Cavalier Hotel Corporation, has offered to bear the expense of the colonial-type columns.

A Beach Home For AS LITTLE AS $8500

It's true! Not for 30 years has there been a price tag like this on a modern home, just steps from the ocean at fabulous Virginia Beach! Cooperative ownership is the secret of this phenomena. You have every privilege of outright ownership — you can buy, sell, rent, improve, or will your home to your heirs. But Beach Colony's unique plan takes all the care and worry out of home ownership.

Your lawn is mowed and watered, your home painted and repaired—there's nothing for you to do but enjoy resort living—under Beach Colony's unique plan.

Take your choice of two bedrooms, or three. Each unit has ceramic tile bath, large living room, dining room, ample closet space, hardwood floors and Frigidaire electric range and refrigerator included.

In most cases . . . renting at the beach costs approximately $100.00 per month. Living at BEACH COLONY including ALL utilities except electricity will cost approximately $71.26. You save better than $356.00 per year and its paid for in 16 years. Any way you figure it . . . this makes sense . . . with no parking problems to plague you and no crowding at the beach on 71st and 72nd Street.

Beach Colony's cooperative plan is the perfect answer for couples nearing retirement, for permanent residence in a fine, growing resort, or for a summer home.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

The Future Presents a Bright Picture

Definite word this week concerning the start of the Pacific avenue improvement project here and the bonded debt figures of the City of Virginia Beach at the present time along with thousands of dollars of new construction makes for a very strong position for this community as we reach another Memorial Day weekend and what promises to be a banner tourist resort season.

Optimism abounds in Virginia Beach today and not without foundation. In addition to the street improvement program, the city's bonded indebtedness and the new construction we have opened a magnificent convention center and will shortly, on July 1, welcome the opening of the historic outdoor drama, "The Confederacy". Add to this the good news of the revised plans for the bridge-tunnel across Chesapeake Bay and the future of Virginia Beach becomes even brighter.

Many are of the opinion, and we certainly are among this group, that the growth and development we have witnessed in the past few years here will be drawfed by what will take place in the next five to ten years.

The financial statement of the City of Virginia Beach concerning its outstanding indebtedness as shown in an advertisement in this newspaper this week reveals that the city has a debt of $2,954,000 as of May 8, 1958 and that of this amount $336,000 was on deposit in unspent funds earmarked for specific purposes. The ad shows that this would leave a net debt of $2,588,000.

This is, indeed, quite a different financial picture than the one that has been projected into the current councilmanic election campaign by an anti-administration candidate, who has been reported as having stated that "the city has been straddled with a $3,500,000 debt."

According to the figures contained in the political advertisement this week the city's outstanding indebtedness as of May 8, 1958, was $2,954,000. This was the date that a newspaper article stated the anti-administration candidate placed the debt at $3,500,000. However, the anti-administration candidate, since the newspaper article, has stated that he was speaking of the debt last June 30, 1957, almost a year ago.

If this candidate was referring to last June 30th then the citizens of the City of Virginia Beach can feel a sense of pride in that its city has been able to reduce this debt by more than one-half million dollars in less than one year. We don't believe any other community of comparable size can match this record of debt reduction.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor
Virginia Beach Sun-News,
Virginia Beach, Virginia.
Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Virginia Beach Lions Club, I should like to thank all those persons who participated in a worthwhile community program by making a purchase of one or more of the products in our recent Broom Sale.

I am happy to report that our sales totaled in excess of $2,100.00, the profits from which will be used by the club to further its work with the blind, in sight conservation and other worthwhile community projects.

To help us reach as many as possible, if you readers know of any underprivileged person, child or adult, who is blind or needs sight assistance, we would appreciate your contacting a member of the Virginia Beach Lions Club so that we may offer aid to that person.

Again we thank you for your generous participation without which the Lions Club could not continue its program.

ment, and $144,951 for construction, Hope said.

No new roads are planned, according to the engineer. The construction will involve the complete rebuilding of many sections of existing roads.

In other action the county board:

(1) Awarded a contract for the operation of the county-owned parking lot at Sandbridge to C.B. Litchfield of Creeds. Litchfield's bid of $326.50 for the period from May 30 to Sept. 1, was the highest of two received.

(2) Approved the purchase of 10 bird sanctuary signs to be erected in areas of the county designated as sanctuaries by an act of the last legislature. Fifty per cent of the cost of the signs will be borne by the residents of the area in which they are erected.

Workshop Held

The Resident's Council of the Tidewater District held its workshop at the First Methodist Church recently.

It was a session for leadership and instruction for new presidents, new chairmen and club members.

Mrs. R. H. Owen district welfare chairman and Mrs. Paul B. Maestas taught welfare and veteran affairs. Mrs. Foster Gilbert, fine arts chairman with the assistance of Mrs. John R. Anderson, art chairman instructed the members in music, art and drama.

Mrs. Thomas H. Caffrey newly elected president attended the meeting.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The 1958 Galilee Episcopal Church Vacation Bible School will begin at 9:00 A.M. on Monday, June 16th for two weeks. Children from 4 years of age through 6th grade will have the opportunity to attend.

The theme will be "We Worship The Lord". The school will be under the co-directorship of Mrs. A. B. Cooke and Mrs. Scott Burns.

The Vacation Bible School activities include worship, study, handicraft and recreation. Christian Education is stressed through all means during the thirty hours course.

Parents may register their children at Galilee Church office. Dial GA 8-3573 or with either of the directors.

Crash Probe Is Continuing

A police investigation of the Lynnhorn Bay collision in which three persons were injured will continue despite the fact that the Coast Guard has launched a similar investigation.

Princess Anne Police Chief J. E. Moore said today that his department will continue to probe circumstances surrounding the crash of 16 and 18 foot motorboats Saturday night shortly after 9 o'clock.

Meanwhile Sallie Lee Cooke and Carter B. S. Furr, both of Norfolk, remain in De Paul Hospital where they were taken for treatment. A third person was treated at Virginia Beach Hospital and released. Miss Cook's condition was listed as "good' and Furr's as "fair" by hospital attaches today.

Chief Moore said that Detective R. J. Hindky, who is investigating the accident case, had an appointment today with Cyrus Cotton of Bay Colony, identified as the owner of one of the boats. C. M. Baylor of 80th St., Virginia Beach, owner of the other boat involved, was questioned by the Coast Guard Monday.

Both the Coast Guard and the county police say they will interview all those involved.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Pincus, Thursday, May 15 at Norfolk General Hospital. Mrs. Pincus is the former Miss Barbara Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlton Hudson of Norfolk.

Arriving for the Memorial Day holiday week end, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dill are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lehmon and children, Judith, Joanne and Donford of Falls Church, Va.

OBITUARIES

EZRA T. POOLE

Virginia Beach—Ezra Thomas Poole, 80, husband of Mrs. Beulah Keith Poole, died Tuesday at 4 p.m. at his home in London Bridge.

He was a native of Wake County, N.C., the son of J. H. and Mrs. Mildred Rogers Poole. He had been a resident of Norfolk and Princess Anne County the last 21 years. He was a retired farmer.

He was a member of Free Will Baptist Church, Norfolk, and the J.O.U.A.M. of Tarboro, N.C.

Surviving besides his wife are five sons, A. H. Poole of Weldon, N.C.; H. G. Poole of Fayetteville, N.C.; H. E. Poole of Virginia Beach; R. S. Poole of Norfolk, and Donald M. Poole of Lynnhaven; two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Pierce of Kinston, N.C., and Mrs. John Griggs of Lynnhaven; 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) at the Maestas Funeral Home, Virginia Beach by the Rev. Fred A. Ewenbark, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, Norfolk. Burial will be in Rosewood Memorial Park, Princess Anne County.

Agrifables

Do you think kids ever grow up? Don't you believe it. They grow up and down. Starting about the middle somewhere, the top part of our bodies grows upward and the lower part, legs, grow downward. Of course, when we get about thirtyish, the part around the middle starts growing sideways.

Perhaps you're wondering what stimulated this astute observation. Well, years and years ago, when farmers placed their seed in the ground, they packed them in tight as a wet necktie with their feet. The sole of the foot was called the "planta" from which the word plant later came. While we could tell the old time farmer a thing or two about this practice, no doubt he innocently wondered why all of his plants didn't come up out of the ground.

Today, with modern machinery and stimulating fertilizers, fields are properly prepared and sown with seed whose growth is taken with a natural unquestioning faith that this is the way seeds always operate. A farmer surveying a field planted to crops anxiously watches the little shoots that spring out and upward from the soil. But, while this upward growth is occurring, roots are shooting downward, seeking through the soil food and water to help make life. Elementary? Not quite. We take this double growth in plants, both up and down, for granted, for there is no mix-up normally in this scheme of growth. Nonetheless, there is a good reason that governs this scheme.

What makes shoots grow up and the roots down is currently the subject of intensive scientific research. There appears to be a sensory system in plants, explained one way as chemical in nature, by which plants "feel" gravity. This sensory system can be disturbed through certain chemical agents, which release in some unaccountable fashion a flow of electrons in the plant which sets off a chain reaction leading to a difference in growth. Roots then begin runnings in random directions, taking little heed of gravitational guidance.

So what? Just this! Science is once again tracking a trail promising and startling to the farmer in what he will plant and how it will grow. New methods of weed control, growth control come to light; new answers to drought; healthier quicker growing plants are possibilities.

Moral? Curiosity in the commonplace sometimes leads us into enchanting kingdoms.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Harry F. Carper, Jr., Director of The Virginia Division of War Veterans' Claims, a State agency which assists veterans and survivors to obtain their lawful benefits, announces the following information of interest from his office in Roanoke.

In processing claims of veterans for various benefits I frequently interview ex-servicemen who believe that disabilities they had prior to service were aggravated by their active duty.

The Veterans Benefits Act of 1957, effective January 1, 1958, designed to simplify and make more uniform under one act the laws relating to veterans benefits administered by the Veterans Administration, defines "aggravation" for VA compensation purpose as follows:

"A preexisting injury or disease will be considered to have been aggravated by active military, naval, or air service where there is an increase in disability during active service, unless there is a specific finding that the increase in disability is due to natural progress of the disease."

To illustrate: Since mild bronchitis is a disease common to many men when entering service and usually is a slowly progressing disease, service connection is not granted by the VA unless medical treatment records and the discharge examination indicate advancement of the trouble over beyond its usual progress. Where the serviceman had frequent respiratory infections brought on by exposure and the rigors of service, there is usually an increase in degree for which service connection is conceded. An old injury, such as a high school football knee, must have been reinjured in service before it can be considered as having been aggravated.

Thomas A. Moore Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Ave., will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs. Moore visits the Community House, 18th & Arctic. from 11 AM to 3 PM only, on the second and fourth Thursdays each month.

On April 4, 1776, the U.S. Navy made its first capture of an enemy ship when the USS Columbus captured the British tender Hawk, while returning from a raid on New Providence, in the Bahamas.

On April 22, 1921, two Marine Corps pilots arrived in Washington, D.C., after a 4,842-mile round trip flight to Santo Domingo, the longest unguarded overwater flight to date.

'Poopy Suit' At CG Station

The aviators of Fighter Squadron FORTY ONE recently held a "Poopy Suit Party" at the Naval Coast Guard Station, Atlantic boulevard, Virginia Beach. The pilots of the F3H "Demon" squadron based at Oceana took advantage of the 50° temperature of the water to check their survival gear prior to embarking on the U.S.S. Intrepid for operations over the cold water of the Atlantic.

The "Poopy Suit," is a heavy item of apparel that encases the wearer completely, including boots and mittens. The fifteen pound rubber-nylon suit was developed to protect pilots landing in frigid waters, when the key to survival and rescue depends on the aviators ability to remain conscious.

Fighter Squadron FORTY ONE, under the command of Cmdr. R. E. Warner, Bay Colony drive, participated in the joint Armed Forces Day celebration in New York City on May 17, 1958.

Mildred Partridge Marries William H. Draper

The Cincinnati Fleet Chapel was the setting Saturday at 4 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Mildred Bain Partridge, daughter of Mrs. Hughie Brantley Partridge of Norfolk, and William Bain Partridge of Princess Anne, to Maj. William Holden Draper, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold William Draper of Holland, Mich.

The ceremony was performed by Capt. Joseph Floyd Dreith, (ChC) USN.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bombazine appliqued with Alencon lace and a full length veil arranged from a lace crown. She carried a French Colonial nosegay of white roses and lily of the valley outlined with white velvet leaves.

Miss Patricia Day Partridge of Norfolk, was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Harold Draper, of Washington, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Miss Nancy Loyd of Norfolk was junior bridesmaid. All the attendants wore ballerina length gowns of pale pink taffeta and matching crowns with nose veils. They carried French Colonial nosegays of matching pink carnations, centered with deep red roses.

Cmdr. Ben Ward Blee, USN, was best man for Major Draper and the groomsmen were Lt. Cmdr. Henri Robert Reitsma, Royal Netherlands Navy; Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm James Bonner, Royal Navy; Lt. Cmdr. Keith Thomas Weaver, USN; Lt. Robert William Hanby Jr., USN; Capt. Max Alan Merritt, USMC; Capt. Gerald Henry Turley, USMC, and Lt. Ralph Wilson Hooper, USN.

After the ceremony a reception was given at Saciant Flag Mess. Later Major and Mrs. Draper left for a wedding trip to Tides Inn, Irvington, and upon their return they will reside at 1500 West Little Creek road.

Major Draper is aide and flag lieutenant to Admr. Jerauld Wright, Commander in Chief Atlantic Fleet and Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Darden and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beasley have returned home after spending some time at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Va. where they attended the Southern Seniors Golf Tournament.

Hitchings-Tate Wedding Plans Are Announced

Miss Loretta Ann Hitchings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hitchings, whose marriage to Harry Randolph Tate, of Demarest, N.J. will take place on Saturday, June 14th at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church has chosen as her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Patricia Roye Hitchings. Bridesmaids will be Miss Mary Lee Tate, of Demarest, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Sara Sue Daly of Ridley Park, Pa.; Miss Mary Virginia Garrett of Oceana; Misses Evelyn Lorraine Cox and Mary Elaine Allsbrook of Birdneck Point; Miss Virginia Ann Flanagan of Princess Anne.

Mr. Tate has chosen for his best man, Benjamin H. Woodbridge Jr. of New York City. The groomsmen will be Richard Whitlock of Englewood, N.J., cousin of the groom; Walter L. Gresham Jr. of Oceana; Arthur Odabash of Hollyridge, N.C.; Robert Hughes, Jeffrey Bowers and Donald Tucker of Washington, D.C.; Samuel Mazella, Arlington, Va. and J. D. Rothenberger of Harrington Park, N.J.

Invitations Out For Whitehurst-Maddin Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Reginald Whitehurst have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Baldwin Whitehurst, to First Lt. Matthew Gardner Buckner Maddin, USAF, on Saturday, June 14, at 4:30 p.m. at Christ and St. Luke Episcopal Church, and for the reception which will follow at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is for the complainant to enforce its lien for taxes and to sell for the payment of delinquent taxes all those pieces or parcels of land described in the Bill of Complaint heretofore filed in this suit including the following described property, to-wit:

1. All those certain pieces, parcels or lots of land, lying, being and situate in Princess Anne County, Virginia, known, numbered and designated as Lots Nineteen (19) to Twenty-two (22), inclusive, in Block Thirty-six (36), on a certain plat of Rosemont Park, made by G. M. Stephens, Engineer, and recorded in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County, Virginia, in Map Book 7, at page 56, reference to which plat is hereby made for a more particular description of the said property.
2. All those certain pieces, parcels, or lots of land, lying, being and situate in Princess Anne County, Virginia, known, numbered and designated as Lots Six (6) to Eleven (11), inclusive, in Block Thirty-six (36), on a certain plat of Rosemont Park, made by G. M. Stephens, Engineer, and recorded in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County, Virginia, in Map Book 7, at page 56, reference to which plat is hereby made for a more particular description of the said property.

An affidavit having been made that the defendant, Caroline Kelly, 1840 Kenyon Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., is not a resident of the State of Virginia, her last known post office address being given above; and that as to the defendant, J. B. Rooke, Suffolk, Virginia, a return has been filed by the City Sergeant of the City of Suffolk, Virginia, that the subpoena in chancery with Bill of Complaint attached has been in his hands for service for twenty-one days and that he has been unable to make service on the said defendant; that there are or may be parties interested in the subject matter of this suit whose names are unknown and who may be more fully described as the assigns, successors in title, and lien creditors of Caroline Kelly and J. B. Rooke; or, if they be dead, then their surviving consorts, heirs, and devisees; the consorts, assigns, successors in title, and lien creditors of any heirs or devisees; and all other parties who may have an interest in the subject matter of this suit whose names are unknown and who are made parties defendant by the general description "Parties Unknown".

It is ordered that the said Caroline Kelly and J. B. Rooke and "Parties Unknown" do appear within ten days after due publication hereof and do what is necessary to protect their interests. It is further ordered that this notice be published in the Virginia Beach Sun-News, a newspaper having a general circulation in the County of Princess Anne, once a week for two successive weeks.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of the above styled suit, is to sell, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, for the satisfaction of the liens thereon, the following property, to-wit:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, known as part of the Fox Hall tract of land situated, lying and being in the Seaboard Magisterial District (near Dosiens Bridge) in the County and State aforesaid, containing two (2) acres more or less and bounded and described as follows: on the North by the land of John N. Simmons, on the East by the land of William E. and George D. Simmons, on the South by the said William E. and George D. Simmons lane and on the West by a ditch known as Oscar L. Malbons lead ditch.

It being the property conveyed to Robert Owens by the deed of William E. Simmons, et als dated September 28, 1926 and recorded in the Clerk's Office aforesaid in Deed Book 68, page 152.

It appearing from the averments of the Bill of Complaint filed herein and by Affidavit duly filed; That the last known Post Office address of Robert Owens is Route 1, Princess Anne, Virginia; that an Affidavit has been made and filed, that due diligence has been used by and on behalf of the Complainant to ascertain in what County or Corporation the said Robert Owens now resides, without effect; that the defendants in this suit may have been married and if so the names of their respective consorts are unknown and their last known post office addresses are unknown. That some of them may have died leaving heirs, devisees or personal representatives. If so, the names of said heirs, devisees or personal representatives are unknown. That there are or might be persons other than those named in the bill of complaint interested in the real estate to be disposed of in this suit whose names and last known post office addresses are unknown.

It is, therefore, ORDERED that the above persons, if living, and if dead, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, and if married, their respective consorts, and all persons other than those herein named, who are or might be interested in the real estate to be disposed of in this suit whose names are unknown, do appear within ten days after due publication of this notice and do what is necessary to protect their interests.

It is further ORDERED that the foregoing portion of this order be published once a week for two (2) successive weeks in the Virginia Beach Sun-News, a newspaper published in the City of Virginia Beach, Virginia.

JANIC'S TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING ON MONDAY

Drive-In Church Opens Sunday

The Drive-In Church Services for Virginia Beach, Oceana and vicinity, will open for the 1958 session on Sunday, June 1, with a worship service at 8:30 a.m. The services are conducted at the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre, located on Laskin road, Route 58 at Hilltop. This is approximately two miles from Virginia Beach on 31st street extended.

The minister of the "Drive-In Church" is the Rev. F. M. Brisby, pastor of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, Oceana, Virginia. This will be the fourth season that this service has been conducted by the present minister. The unique out-door service was instituted earlier by the Rev. Wm. N. Raney.

The service of worship is conducted on a non-sectarian basis and people of all religious faiths are welcome to share in the worship of God.

A special invitation is extended to people who are taking vacation in this area, as well as to people who wish to have an early out-door worship experience before going away for the day. If you are taking a vacation from work and responsibility we invite you to worship with us and not "Take Vacation from God."

Cape Henry Garden Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Maurice W. Nordlinger and Mrs. Pauline Battley have been re-elected president and first vice president, respectively of the Cape Henry by the Sea Garden Club.

Also installed at the May meeting were Mrs. Joseph Watson, second vice president; Mrs. James J. Standing re-elected, recording secretary, Mrs. R. DeMarco; corresponding secretary and Mrs. Delmar J. Dee Sr. treasurer.

The meeting was held at Fort Story Officers' Club, Colonial Room at 1 p.m. Monday.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Gustav Schneider, director and past president Tidewater District Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs. Mrs. Schneider conducted the installation.

The President Mrs. Nordlinger was presented a rosewood gavel. Mrs. C. Ackiss bird chairman, reported 13 bird sanctuaries maintained by members.

Mrs. Dee reported that funds at two card parties (one at Fort Story and the other at the Sportswood Arm Hotel) made possible the purchase of an RCA 21-inch television set for the children's Mental Ward at Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg, Va.

She reported that clothing, jewelry, magazines and several thousand Xmas cards had been taken to Eastern State Hospital.

The table arrangements and corsages were made by Mrs. D. J. Dee Sr. and Mrs. C. Ackiss.

Guests were: Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. Garret Smith and Mrs. S. Potts.

MOOSE LODGE AND LADIES' AUXILIARY PARADE IN PORTSMOUTH

The Virginia Beach Moose Lodge 1682 and Ladies' Auxiliary 1231 took part in the parade last Friday night in Portsmouth for the opening drive for MS. The governor Almer Bull, Gr. graduate Ruby Wright, Trus. Katherine James, Chaplain Bernice Mosby, guide Ruth Wilson, Fass Governor Kermet James. The car was furnished through the courtesy of Meekins Pontiac, 17th and Baltic.

CAPE HENRY BY-THE-SEA GARDEN CLUB

The members of the Cape Henry by-the-Sea Garden Club would like to extend their deep appreciation and thanks to each and every person who in any way contributed donations toward the two card parties (one at Fort Story Officers' Club, the other at the Sportswood Arms Hotel) to raise money for a TV for the children's Mental Ward, at Eastern State Hospital, Williamsburg, Va.

The RCA 21-in. TV has been delivered and is now being enjoyed by these little ill patients.

YWCA Meeting Well Attended

An enthusiastic group of 80 Y.W.C.A. interested women met at the Dunes Motor Hotel Monday, May 26th for luncheon and discussion of the Virginia Beach extension of the Norfolk "Y" program.

Present from Norfolk were Miss Charlotte Russell, executive director of the Y.W.C.A.; Miss Dora Schofield, president of the board of directors; Mrs. Carl Barron, director of health and recreation, and Mrs. Mary Lee Lowe, chairman of the health and recreation committee.

Mrs. Forest P. White presented a clever review of the hilarious best seller book, "Don't Eat the Daisies" by Jean Kerr.

Seventy-eight new members registered, 28 of whom were enrolled by Mrs. H. W. Brown.

Open New Restaurant

Careless Packing Cause of Lost Articles in Mails

Americans lose an endless array of articles because of careless packaging or improper addressing of parcel post, despite emphasis by the Postal Service in recent years on the promotion of good mailing practices, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield noted today.

Reports from major post offices of the country show that an average large city—for example, Columbus, Ohio, or Washington, D.C.—must handle about a thousand lost articles each month that come loose from improperly packaged parcel post. Many other items become lost because of grossly inadequate or improper addressing and failure to give legible return addresses, or any return address at all.

The value of individual items lost may range from a few pennies to hundreds of dollars.

The Washington City Post Office, typical of many in large cities, reports articles found loose or lost through improper addressing include such items as men's watches, women's ear rings, medicines and vitamin pills, clothing, ancient records, obstetrical tools, in fact, almost anything that can be sent through the mails.

Washington postal officials note, for example, that many lost items recently have been garden supplies, such as hoses, spades, seeds and so forth. Persons looking for garden bargains bought much of this material at a recent parcel post auction at the Washington office.

LOCAL RESIDENT RECEIVES PROMOTION

David Kunkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kunkler was promoted to Senior Accountant in the Robertson Public Accountant firm which includes the six south eastern states.

His main office is in Atlanta.

David is a graduate of Oceana High School, Lenoir Rhyne College and received his masters degree from Florida State University.

RESTAURANT NOW OPEN ADDS TO 'NEW LOOK'

In keeping with Virginia Beach's magnificent "New Loook," a new and ultra-modern restaurant, Janic's, opens formally Monday with ceremonies depicting the event scheduled to be held this morning. The restaurant is open for business today.

Janic's is located on Atlantic avenue between 32nd and 33rd streets and is a splendid addition to the Beach's fine group of restaurants which is keeping pace with the new motel and hotel construction.

The new restaurant is owned and operated by two veteran Virginia Beach restaurateurs, who have joined together in bringing the modern restaurant to the Beach. The men are J. C. "Jack" Jackson and Nick Asteris. Both have had a wide experience in the restaurant field.

Both Asteris and Jackson have operated restaurants in Virginia Beach for the past several years. Asteris has operated the Broadway Restaurant here for many years and Jackson has operated Jack's Steak House. Both businesses have been located on Atlantic avenue in the heart of the city's business district.

Janic's policy is personal service and good food and both Jackson and Asteris pledge to their customers to live up to their reputation through the years.

The new restaurant is located on the west side of Atlantic avenue almost opposite from the new La Playa Motel. It affords ample parking facilities to its customers and is beautifully planned in the latest motif of restaurants.

One of the key features of Janic's is its attractive neon located on Atlantic avenue. The sign is unique for the Beach and is well worth a special trip to view at night.

The restaurant building had as its general contractor, Oscar F. Plumlee. Both "Jack" Jackson and Nick Asteris invite their many friends to visit them in the new Janic's restaurant, which now takes its place among the showplaces of the Beach in the Beach's ever changing "new look."

SERVING THE BEST IN FOODS — CAREFULLY PREPARED

We have attempted, in the building of our new Restaurant, to give to Virginia Beach an establishment in keeping with the consistantly fast growth and progress that has been so marked in the past few years. A growth that we have been a part of and want to continue with.

We, J. C. Jackson and Nick Asteris, planted our roots in Virginia Beach many years ago. Our faith has given us dividends. We are now embarking on the opening of a new, modern Restaurant that we want to be "IN STEP WITH the VIRGINIA BEACH NEW LOOK."

We also believe that there is nothing that can take the place of Personal Attention and Good Service. For years we have prided ourselves on providing both — and of equal importance, the serving of the finest of foods, carefully prepared.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

NORFOLK NOMINATES CARLIN

Fort Story, Va.—The Norfolk Chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association held its Armed Forces Day meeting at Fort Story Saturday, May 17 evening.

The nominating committee returned its report for Chapter officers for the coming year. Mr. Robert E. Curtis, Norfolk manager of National Air Lines received the committee's nomination for president; Lt. Col. L. R. Harkness of Hampton Roads Army Terminal, first vice president; Commander Richard C. Hammond of the Naval Supply Center, second vice president; Mr. F. Wilson Bobbs of U. S. Steamship Lines, second vice president; and Mr D. M. Callahan of J. A. Jones Construction Company, secretary-treasurer.

In addition to those nominated by the committee floor nominations will be heard at the summer election meeting.

The main address of the evening was given by Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command. He was introduced by Colonel George E. Woods Jr. commanding officer of Fort Story and president of the Norfolk Chapter.

A dance was held at the Fort Story Officers' Mess after the meeting.

BEST MESS WON AND RETIRED

A plaque was given to the Mess Hall of the 565th Transportation Company at Fort Story this week for having the best mess hall for 1957. But, the plaque will be retired before it can even hang on a wall because the mess hall closed the same day as the presentation.

The 565th is one of the four Story units going on northern operations and the unit leaves Thursday, May 22.

Sergeant First Class Wilson Wilkins, mess steward had only one comment after he was given the plaque by Colonel George E. Woods Jr., Post Commander, and that was, "I guess we'll have to wrap it up for the summer."

Four companies at Story had won the monthly mess award four times during 1957 so a special inspection was held to determine the ultimate winner. The 565th was declared bearer of the crown after a close contest. They will retain the plaque until a winner is announced for 1958 next year.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD CAMPOREE

Members of the Tidewater Council, Boy Scouts of America began a three-day camporee at the intersection of Virginia Beach boulevard and Ingleside road on Friday, May 23.

Scouts competed in contests ranging from rope burning to safety posters. Awards were given to patrols, consisting of different groups of scouts.

The main contest was a National Good Turn Safety Poster contest which was conducted by the Health and Safety Committee. Themes for the posters were taken from three choices, Safety in the Home, Outdoor Safety and Traffic Safety.

Religious services were held Sunday morning for Catholic, Jewish and Portestant scouts on the campsite.

STORY SERGEANT RETIRES

Announcement was made here of the retirement of Master Sergeant James S. Havard after more than 23 years of active service.

Havard Post Safety Non-Commissioned Officer for Story retires Friday, May 31. He will retire to Macon, Georgia with his wife.

Entering the Army in 1934, Havard served in Europe during World War II with the 30th Infantry Division and in Korea with the 154th Terminal Services Company. An announcement from the Commanding General of the Transportation Training Command praised Havard saying, "His professional accomplishments, outstanding leadership, and devotion to duty have been an inspiration to those who have served with him."

Among the decorations collected by the 45-year-old Master Sergeant are the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Korean Presidential Citation.

RESERVES ARRIVE AT STORY

Members of eight Transportation Corps reserve uits began arriving at Fort Story Sunday, May 25 to spend their two weeks of active duty training for the year.

A total of 408 personnel were expected when the one Transportation Terminal Command, two Transportation Battalions, and five companies are fully accounted for. Thirteen reserve WAC's were among the group.

Fort Story is providing logistical support and bivouac areas for the units. The support will be directed by Lt. Col. Robert M. Wygant, Project Officer for the reserve training.

STORY MEN HUNT AND FISH IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Members of Fort Story's 854th Transportation Company, now on temporary duty at Port Harmon, Newfoundland, are getting a taste of northern hunting and fishing on week ends.

Each week end a group from the terminal service organization goes to Camp 33, a hunting and fishing site 33 miles of Harmon. Results of the anglers and hunting efforts have not as yet reached Fort Story.

The 854th, under the command of 1st Lt. Thomas W. Hughes, was the first Fort Story unit to depart the Cape Henry post on this summer's arctic resupply mission. Reports reaching the company's parent unit, the 14th Transportation Battalion, indicate considerable activity on the part of the organization in loading and off-loading supplies destined for the radar sites in the DEW-Line.

STORY COMPANY LEAVES FOR GREENLAND

The 565th Transportation Company, a terminal service unit, departed the Tidewater area Friday for a temporary duty assignment at Sondrestrom, Greenland.

The Fort Story company sailed aboard the USNS "Lindenwald" from Hampton Roads Army Terminal at 11:00 a.m. The "Lindenwald," an MSTS vessel, took part in last year's resupply operation.

The company, under the command of Captain George F. Schmalhofer Jr., will remain at the arctic port for the summer and fall months handling cargo destined for radar stations and Air Force bases.

Fort Story officially sent off the unit Wednesday in a brief ceremony at the post theater. Speaking at the briefing were Colonel George E. Woods Jr., Commanding Officer of Fort Story, and Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy Jr., Commanding Officer of the 10th Transportation Battalion.

Officers in addition to Captain Schmalhofer departing Friday were Captain Otis E. Donby, Lt. Howard D. Sipler, and CWO Hugh W. Bramlitt. Master Sergeant Averill B. Brigman is First Sergeant of the organization.

An advance party of two officers and 50 enlisted men are already at the Greenland port.

In "Woodland Fantasy"

These youngsters, all pupils of the Happy Hours School in Oceana, presented a delightful "Woodland Fantasy" on Wednesday of this week. The children, as shown, were dressed as fairies, frogs, trees, buttterflies, rabbits, flowers and birds.

'Woodland Fantasy' Presented by Happy Hours School Children

On Wednesday, May 28, at 10:30 a.m. the children of Happy Hours School gave a most delightful program on the lawn at their school for their parents and friends. Children of the nursery through the third grade took part in the "Woodland Fantasy." Songs and dances depicted by the children dressed as fairies, frogs, trees, butterflies, rabbits, flowers and birds made the background for the story of a Prince looking for his Princess. With the help of Robin Hood and his men she was found and the story ended happily as all good fairy tales should. This program is an annual event at Happy Hours and is thoroughly enjoyed by all who see and take part in it.

Regular school term will end on Friday, 30th. The Nursery will remain open throughout the summer, Monday through Friday from 6:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. so that working mothers can be accommodated as well as those that wish to leave their children by the hour or day.

The U.S. Navy Fuel Depot, now in operation at the fast-growing air-sea base being developed at Rota, Spain, is capable of caching 50 million gallons of petroleum products ranging from jet aircraft to steam warships fuels.

A light weight movie camera to track air-dropped weapons at high speeds and altitudes was developed at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Spring, Md. The 25 pound camera, with pistol-grip triggers, is shoulder mounted.

Du Pont Opens Warehouse

Wilmington, Del. — Warehouse facilities for better fertilizer service to farmers in the Norfolk, Va. area have been established by the Du Pont Company.

Dealers supplying farmers can now get quick delivery on their area fertilizer on a year-round basis from authorized Du Pont distributors. The new service point, at which a one-ton minimum purchase quantity has been set, is the Elizabeth River Terminal Warehouse, Money Point, Norfolk, Va.

Heretofore, this high nitrogen Du Pont fertilizer had to be shipped from the manufacturing plant at Belle, W. Va. One of the most concentrated solid nitrogen fertilizers commercially available, it is marketed under the name of "ImGreen" fertilizer compound. Containing 45 per cent nitrogen, it can be used in foliage sprays, irrigation water, and as a top or side-dressing material for all plants including fruits, vegetables and other agricultural crops.

Elects Officers Optometry Council

The Tidewater Council of Optometry elected officers for the coming year at a meeting Monday night in the conference room of the G. L. Hall Optical Co.

The elected officers are Dr. Howard Kahn of Virginia Beach, president; Dr. Edward Millan of Norfolk, vice president; Dr. Robert Gale of Newport News, secretary and Dr. George C. Hill of Portsmouth, treasurer. Dr. Samuel Hendin of Hampton, Dr. Bernard Morewitz of Newport News, and Dr. Ernest Gatten of Franklin were elected to the executive committee.

Plans were approved for an Atlantic Seaboard Optometric Educational Conference to be held in the fall. Authorities on various phases of optometry will be invited to speak.

Mrs. Frederick Rieder Chosen First Citizen By Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held their final meeting of the club year in the Chesapeake Beach Community Center at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening instead of the usual afternoon meeting with the associate members as hostesses.

Highlighting the evening's activities was the annual election of the Club's First Citizen, and this year, Mrs. Frederick Rieder was enthusiastically chosen. "For her interest in the civic good of Chesapeake Beach, for her untiring work in helping to build as well as pay for the Community Center of Chesapeake Beach, and for her unflagging zeal in all her club activities," Mrs. Rieder was presented the silver award for First Citizen by the Public Affairs Chairman, Mrs. L. E. Ledington.

Louise, as she is known to her club members and friends, was born in Germany. She arrived in this country, a bride of nineteen. The Rieders have lived at Chesapeake Beach since 1946. A member of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club for eight years, Mrs. Rieder has served in the capacity of treasurer for the past seven. Her club activities have known no limit.

She has worked with unbiased vigor through each administration under which she has served. She has been active on all charity drives sponsored by the Woman's Club, and her work has been outstanding in polio. She was general chairman of the 1957 Festival staged annually by the Woman's Club. This Festival has been generally considered the most successful financially.

During the drive for the Community Center note payment last year, Mrs. Rieder worked tirelessly. At it's successful close, Louise accepted the job as chairman of a Community Dinner. This she accomplished with no cost to the Woman's Club or to the residents of the Beach. She sold more tickets to the dinner than any other person, and was on hand to cook and serve the dinner.

Through the Woman's Club, Louise Rieder has been an avid worker for the Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross.

She has wrapped packages for the service men at Christmas, worked in the Social Welfare Service, and helped organize club workers for the Bloodmobile for the past eight years.

In addition to her work in the Woman's Club, Louise serves as secretary to the Building Committee of the Community Center. This committee is composed of six men and three women, representing the three organizations which sponsor the Community Center. It has many times been her duty to see that the building is kept in a good state of repair. She personally supervised the completion of the Community Center kitchen, and painted the cabinets and walls in this room with the help of two other women.

Mrs. Rieder attends the Haygood Methodist Church where her efficient services are also well known, especially in her Sunday School with the Friendship Class.

The Rieders reside on Lake Bradford drive where Louise's flower gardens are among the most beautiful in the county. She is famous for her gifts of flowers to the sick and to her many friends. To help her church and the Community Center, Louise raises shrubs for sale.

Mrs. Rieder's husband is a retired building contractor and realtor. They have two children, a son and a daughter, and five grandchildren.

The Woman's Club also honored their Club Mother, Mrs. George T Vellines, affectionately known to the members as "Mammay." A gift was presented to Mrs. Vellines by Mrs. W. H. Gaylord, club chaplain.

Mrs. Walter Downs announced a Typhoid Clinic would be held on June 9, 16 and 23. The clinic will be sponsored by the Woman's Club in the Community Center.

The club voted to purchase a second Ping-Pong table for the Youth Recreational Program with Mrs. R. J. Webbon, chairman.

AFTERNOON TEA

The home of Mrs. J. W. Meekins in Alanton, was the scene of an afternoon tea from two until four on May 20, with the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach as hostess. The affair was given in honor of the new officers of the club and Mrs. Frederick Rieder, who was recently honored by being selected as the club First Citizen for 1958.

Officers honored included: Mrs. Harry W. Fulford, president; Mrs. Gordon Oliver, vice president; Mrs. Ernest G. Moorer, secretary; Mrs. Frederick Rieder, treasurer and Mrs. William Morris, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. W. B. Meekins, presided at the punch bowl on the porch, while Mrs. Ernest S. Moorer, and Mrs. Fred T. Lunsford officiated at the tea table. Mrs. W. H. Gaylord and Mrs. T. B. Petty served as hostesses.

Special guests included officers and chairmen of the Tidewater District of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. A. Woodard club institute chairman for the State Federation, and club presidents and their members from the Princess Anne Woman's Club, Cape Henry Woman's Club, Park Club, Kempsville Woman's Club, Princess Anne Junior Club, Cavalier Junior Club, Bayside Junior Club, Little Creek Woman's Club, South Norfolk Club, Cradock Woman's Club, Norfolk Woman's Club, Suburban Woman's Club and the Portsmouth Woman's Club.

VIRGINIA BOOSTS NATIONWIDE TREE FARMING PROGRAM

Washington—Private timberland owners of Virginia have just given the American Tree Farm System a 16,792-acre boost, sending the nationwide voluntary program of growing timber as a crop to an all-time high of 46,190,587 acres.

The Virginia Tree Farm Committee headed by A. L. Wenrich, a forester for Continental Can Co., Hopewell, certified a record 72 Tree Farms ranging in size from eight to 1,441 acres at its spring meeting in Charlottesville.

The new tree farmers swelled the nation's roster of certified Tree Farms to 11,622 and gave considerable impetus to the industry-sponsored effort to help small landowners realize steady income from their woodlots.

Certificates of Tree Farm status, together with signs to erect on their woodlands, was presented formally in dedication ceremonies for Pulp and Paper Day, which was celebrated April 15, at the Chesapeake Corporation of Virginia's mill, West Point, Va.

Due largely to the Tree Farm movement, the country is now growing timber faster than it is being removed from the forest and killed by fire, insects and disease. It is bolstering the nation's economy with more than $6 Billion a year in plant pay-rolls alone.

MS Society Seeks Names of Unregistered

What is "MS"?

According to Dr. Frederick G. Woodson, Norfolk neurologist and medical advisory board chairman for the Tidewater Multiple Sclerosis Society, "More and more people are asking that question." "MS" or Multiple Sclerosis, which means "Many Scars," is far from an uncommon disease. But until recently it was receiving far less attention than it deserves. MS affects the myelin sheathing of nerves of the central nervous system. The myelin sheath acts somewhat like the insulation on a telephone wire. The nervous system is something like a telephone system—over it there travel messages which give the go-ahead to muscles and body organs to perform their functions. When patches of the myelin sheathing are destroyed, and scars form as they do in MS, the messages fail to get through. Various symptoms occur. The victim may see things doubled or blurred. He may stagger, suffer extreme weakness or numbness. He may have speech difficulties. And he may become paralyzed as the disease progresses."

Dr. Woodson also said that no cure is known for MS, but many cases are interrupted by remissions — periods when symptoms partially or entirely disappear. Remissions are one of the mysterious things about the disease. Another mystery is what causes MS. So far scientific research, sponsored by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, is seeking answers to these mysteries.

The Tidewater Chapter is interested in learning the names of patients not yet registered with the Society (free of charge.) Forms or applications for patient services may be obtained by writing Multiple Sclerosis, P. O. Box 701 in Norfolk or by telephoning MAdison 2-3687.

PING-PONG SHUFFLEBOARD

Chesapeake Beach Community Center will be opened on Saturday mornings from 10:00 a.m. until noon for the young people in the community who wish to play Ping-Pong, shuffleboard or other games.

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach has recently purchased another Ping-Pong table for the center.

OCEAN PARK CIVIC LEAGUE

The Ocean Park Civic League will meet Thursday night, May 29, at 8:00 p.m. in the Civic Center, Stratford road.

This meeting has been moved ahead from the regular scheduled time, June 5, in order that preparations for the official opening and dedication of the new bridge at Lynnhaven Inlet, can be made.

R. O. Holloman, president of the league urges that all members be present at this meeting because of important matters that will be discussed and committees will be formed for special duties for the June ceremony.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB

The Bayside Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday night, May 21 at Shore Drive Inn. President R. L. Beale, presided.

Vice-president, William D. Nagg, reported that the "Brook Sale" was a huge success, thanks to the co-operation of the club members and the generous response of the residents of the Bayside area. The club's sale of blind-made products totaled $3,396.12. The club should net about $1,400 from this sale.

The money will be used in the coming year in serving the various needs of the community through club activities.

C. B. Ostrander, convention chairman, was commended by president R. L. Beale for raising over $200.00 for the convention fund.

Guest speaker, Friedrich Herlan, Fulbright Exchange teacher from Lorrach, Germany, was introduced by J. H. Barnes. Mr. Merlan, who is teaching French at Princess Anne High School spoke briefly on the rapid improvement of conditions in West Germany since the end of World War II.

He said "in Germany, as in other European countries, the system of education is quite different from the American system. Each child begins school at the age of 6. The children who are to pursue a trade or commercial career must attend an elementary school for 8 years, after which they must attend a vocational school two days a week for three years, while learning their trades. The gifted student, or about 20 per cent, attend high school from age 10 through 19. Each student is required to take all subjects." According to Mr. Herlan the teachers in Germany are on a very high social level.

ARAGONA TALENT PRESENTS REVUE

Sponsored by the Civic League of Aragona Village, "Ye Old Cotton Picking Revue" will be presented on Tuesday, June 3, 8:00 p.m at the Aragona Elementary School.

Forty talented residents of the community will participate in the three-act production which is original material written by Mr. Leonard Friedman. Mr. Friedman, director, is experienced in both the field of acting and production and is a former member of the Portsmouth Little Theater Group. He is assisted by Mrs. Virginia Karaskas who is also director of choreography. Mrs. Chris Wright is serving as chairman of costumes and Mrs. Lillian Doucette is in charge of properties.

Music makers for the show are Phil Krome, Charlie Machacek and Jim Beune.

A real "down south" story runs through a series of comedy and variety acts. Included in the cast are:

This is the first dramatic effort on the part of the residents of Aragona Village but it has already sparked plans for the formation of a Little Theater Group in the Village.

The public is cordially invited; tickets will be 25c for adults and 10c for children. There will also be a nursery for the very young.

CIVIC LEAGUE ENJOYS GALA PARTY

A most successful banquet and dance was enjoyed on Saturday, May 17 by fifty-five members of the Civic League of Aragona Village. This was the first social event to be held for league members only and it is hoped that the event will become an annual affair.

The party was held at the Shore Drive Inn, beginning at seven with cocktails, and after a most enjoyable dinner, dancing was the main attraction of the evening.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sommer from Charlottesville, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wallett from New Jersey.

Door prizes, gift certificates from the House of Winder, were won by Mrs. C. A. Adcock, Mrs. R. E. Spires, Mrs. Richard Jeffries and Mrs. J. Holden. Mrs. Holden was also the winner of a lovely bouquet of flowers. Most exciting was the winner of the Progressive Jack Pot which had accrued to $20.00 by Mrs. Joe McDaniels of 1013 Kenneth road.

On behalf of the members of the league, Mrs. Timothy Moran thanked Mr. Ernest Sommer, president, for his interest in and effort for the league and presented him with a beautiful silver carving set.

Mr. Sommer reminded the members of the June activity which will be a talent show "Ye Old Cotton Picking Revue" to be held on Tuesday, June 3, 8:00 p.m. at the Aragona Elementary School. This will be both a fun and fund raising project and the public is cordially invited.

M-S DRIVE CONDUCTED IN VILLAGE

Neill, Shirley Katrobos, Ruth Fraser, Juanita Greer, Ethel Hicks, Alberta McIntyre, Sarah Lewis, Stevee Davis, Jane Hansen, Chris Wright, Lucille Tignor, Alice Finn, Dorothy Franz, Peggy Womble, Martha Showmaker, Betty Norton, Joane Rowley, Bernice McCarthy and Martha Wear.

PINEWOOD DERBY HUGE SUCCESS

And they were off . . . at the May meeting of Cub Pack 379! The much awaited event of a Pinewood Derby (a midget car race) was held on Thursday, May 22 at the Aragona School. Thirty-two cars were entered in the event and each of the cars had been constructed by a Cub Scout, with the aid of his father. These midget racers were made to specifications and were raced on a pre-constructed race track. There were nine winners in three classes and each will receive a trophy.

In Class A—First place went to Skipper Cossman; second to Bill Bricker and third to Donald Peccia.

Winners in Class B were—First, Ronny Pinp, second, Ronny Laskowski and third, Bill Perle. The Class C winners were—First, Jimmy Baumeister, second, Fred Lunt and third, Stan Plowuchs.

Serving as officials were Cmdr. Blake Moranville and Mr. William Bricker. The judges for the evening were Mr. Mayo and Mrs. Beale.

Mr. Carl Tignor, Cub Master, presented the following awards:

Jimmy Keyser received a Wolf Badge and a gold and silver arrow point; Mike Pruitt received a two-year service pin; Stephen Cloutier received a one-yer service pin and Carl Tignor Jr., was awarded a Bear Badge.

Refreshments were served to conclude a most exciting and successful Pack meeting!

ARAGONA EIGHTH GRADE TO CELEBRATE GRADUATION

An exciting evening is planned for the members of the graduation class of the Aragona Elementary School on Friday, May 30. Private preparations have been underway for some time by the parents of Mrs. James Parrish and Mrs. Waldine Smith's eighth grade. Invitations have been mailed and issued to members of the school's seventh grades for a banquet, graduation ceremony and dance to help in the celebration!

A king, queen, prince and princess will be chosen by popular vote and will receive their crowns during the evening from the principal, Mr. Eliot Land.

ST. GREGORY'S WOMEN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the St. Gregory's Women's Club will be held on Tuesday, June 3, 8:00 p.m. at the Aragona Elementary School. Guest speaker will be Rt. Rev. Frederick Stent a local attorney who will speak on "The Responsibility of [illegible] in the Catholic Family." A cordial invitation is extended to anyone in the community interested in the club and its purpose.

He starts worrying ten years early

. . . to keep low-cost power at your finger tips!

You'd never spot this VEPCO neighbor of yours as a citizen of 1968! But on the job, he worries full time about how much electricity you'll need ten years hence . . . and how to supply it at lowest cost.

Should he plan VEPCO's future generating stations around coal . . . oil . . . natural gas? And what about atomic energy?

Right now, he and the engineers of three other power companies are planning the development and construction of an experimental atomic generating station to find out what it can do for you.

Does such planning pay off? Well, compared to 20 years ago, electricity now serves you in twice as many ways. Yet VEPCO is ready with plenty of power for this bigger job.

What's more, the average cost of home kilowatts is down by almost half . . . in the very period when living costs have nearly doubled!

Yes, it takes human ingenuity . . . human vision . . . to keep the power at your fingertips. That's why your real power line is people . . . over 3,000 VEPCO people, proud to help you LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY, today and tomorrow!

ALL-AMERICAN STRAWBERRY SHORT CAKE

What's more American than a heaping serving of strawberries over flaky, tender shortcake and topped with ribbon frills of whip cream?

Join in because strawberry festival time is beginning. It's a favorite dessert wherever it goes especially if the shortcake is homemade.

Strawberry Shortcake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
4 to 6 tablespoon lard
½ to ⅔ cup milk
Melted butter or margarine
Strawberries, sweetened to taste
Whipped cream, if desired

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, nutmeg, and sugar. Add orange rind. Cut in lard until mixture has the crumb of small peas. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly-floured board and knead gently for ½ minute. Pat or roll ½-inch thick and cut with a cooky cutter, dipped in flour. Brush tops with melted butter or margarine and place one on top of the other. Place on baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Separate and fill with strawberries. Replace tops and spoon additional strawberries over shortcake. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

Enjoy fresh strawberries — they're so good—Bye now.

Salute To Memorial Day

Whether you are planning a picnic, an after-the-parade snack, or a Memorial Day dinner at home — here are some ideas that will prove particularly pleasing to any homemaker:

Parade Tea

3 ounces tea or equivalent tea bags
1 quart boiling water
1 cup Light Corn Syrup
2 quarts water
1 cup lemon juice, fresh, bottled, or 1 can frozen
1 cup orange juice, fresh, bottled, or 1 can frozen
Lemon or orange slices to garnish
Ice for glasses, cracked or cubes

Pour boiling water over tea. Let it steep about 5 minutes. Strain. Cool. Stir in Light Corn Syrup. Add water, lemon juice and orange juice. Mix well. Chill if desired. Fill glasses about one-half full of ice. Pour cold tea into glasses. Garnish with lemon or orange. Makes 24 servings, ¼ cup each.

Patriot's Parfait

2 cups milk (not canned)
1 pkg. raspberry rennet powder
Whipped cream
Fresh blueberries

Set out 4 or 5 parfait glasses. Warm milk slowly to lukewarm, not hot (110°F.). Test a drop from spoon on inside of wrist, as you would test milk in baby's bottle. Then remove from heat at once. Empty package contents into milk—stir until dissolved, not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid. Let set undisturbed 10 minutes until firm. Then chill. When ready to serve, arrange blueberries around edge of rennet desert. Fill center with whipped cream.

Coconut and Cinnamon Sticks

20 slices ¼-inch-thick bread
1 can (15-ounce) sweetened condensed milk
Cinnamon and shredded coconut

Remove crusts from bread and cut each slice into three strips. Dip half in sweetened condensed milk, roll in coconut, and place on buttered cooky sheet. Brown in slow oven or in broiler until coconut begins to color. Turn once or twice.

Add ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ cup water to rest of sweetened condensed milk and beat with rotary egg beater to mix. Dip the remaining bread sticks in this mixture. Place on buttered cooky sheet and broil until golden brown, turning once or twice. Sprinkle with ¼ teaspoon cinnamon mixed with 1 tablespoon sugar and broil one minute longer.

Switch to Rambler
Be money ahead every mile!

Rambler's first in sales gains—up 70% over last year—because it's first in economy (official NASCAR economy record, less than a penny a mile for gasoline, by a Rambler 6 with overdrive), highest in resale value, smartest in style. Only Rambler gives you the best of both: American big car room and comfort, plus European small car handling ease and economy.

It's fair in a tug of war! At least, that's what the children think. And, as I watch them playing, I realize how relatively simple life is when you're a child. Then, a tug of war is something purely physical. Later, it is more apt to be mental—a matter of personal decision.

Some of the most important moments of our life present us with mental tugs of war. There, we need a lot more than a rope to hang onto. We need courage and faith, a high sense of moral values, and the ability to distinguish between right and wrong.

These are the kind of things the Church teaches. That is why my children attend church regularly. One day, I know, they will be facing another kind of a tug of war. Their church training will help them make the proper choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and his country. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SCURF CONTROL

Scurf has become one of the more serious grade defects of sweet potatoes in Princess Anne County. This disease causes a rusty brown discoloration of the outer layers of the underground parts of the sweet potato. The presence of the scurfy areas mars the appearance of the harvested potatoes and often prevents their sale, or at least lowers the market value.

One of our chief measures in the past has been the production of clean seed for sprout production through the use of vine or sprout cuttings. This method is still recommended for the production of scurf free seed.

A second method for scurf control for the commercial field plantings was demonstrated in trials this past year at the Painter Experiment Station on the Shore. Normal procedure was followed in pulling the sprouts. After the sprouts were pulled, the lower half of the root system was removed by clipping with a pair of hedge shears. By this procedure most of the scurf that had developed onto the sprouts was mechanically removed. The remaining roots of the clipped sprouts were dipped momentarily into a solution of ferbam (one (1) pound to each five (5) gallons of water). The plants were permitted to drain for a few minutes and then transplanted. Ferbam is sold under various trade names, some of which are Fermate, Carbamate, Karbam Black, Ferradow, Orchard Brand Ferbam, etc. It is best to first make this material into a thick paste by adding a small amount of water and stirring until completely wet. The paste is then diluted to the required strength. Stir the mixture quite frequently during the dipping process as it tends to settle out rapidly.

Growers who carefully follow the above procedue and practice proper field rotation shiuld be able to avoid heavy losses from this disease.

WOOL POOL

June 4 from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m. has been set for the date for time of the 1958 Wool Pool. The pool will be at Alvah Jones' "Farmers Fertiliser and Seed Corporation" near Princess Anne Courthouse.

Mr. Jones has just been made an agent for the United Wool Growers Association, and will be able to pay you for the wool as it is delivered. The advance price for clear-tied wool is 35c per pound. Clear-untied is 33c and burry wool is 20c per pound. This advance price is the first of three payments that farmers will receive for their wool.

Prices for wool this year are a bit lower than in 1957. Boston prices were 15 to 20 cents lower than a year earlier, reflecting the decline of world demand for wool.

Mr. Jones is not an independent wool buyer. He is only representing the United Wool Growers Association. This will be a great convenience for our sheep producers.

SECOND LAM BSALE

The date of the second lamb sale has been changed from June 4 to June 11. This change was necessary in order to have one of the larger lamb buyers present.

The first lamb sale held on May 7 was very successful. You may be interested in some of the prices, grades, and weights.

Prime lambs averaged 92 pounds and sold for $24.50 per hundred. There were no buck lambs in this lot. Choice lambs averaged 84 pounds and sold for $23.30 per hundred. There were no bucks in this lot. Good ewe and castrated lambs averaged 81 pounds and sold for $22.30. Good grade buck lambs averaging 87 pounds brought $22.00. Utility ewe and castrated lambs averaging 73 pounds brought $21.20. Utility buck lambs averaged 68 pounds and brought $20.05.

From the above facts it should be noted that there was not a buck lamb that got in the top two grades. Also you will notice that usually the heavier the lamb the better it will grade. Therefore, leave the small lambs on the ewes until the third sale. At that time it will be wise to sell the remainder of your lamb crop.

I hope that each of you with lambs ready for this second sale will take advantage of this sale by selling your lambs through it.

SILAGE GOOD WAY TO USE EXCESS SPRING FORAGE

Making grass silage is one good way to use excess pasture, alfalfa or alfalfa-grass mixtures, small grains or rye grass, and other hay crops.

Despite the late spring this year, forage crops have developed as rapidly as normal. Weather conditions are usually unfavorable for making hay in the spring when crops should be harvested, and this has certainly been true this year. But silage can be made in weather unsuitable for hay-making, and will provide high quality forage for next winter's feeding.

The stage of growth at which the crops is harvested is important from the quality standpoint. Cut excess pasture as the grass heads are emerging for highest quality. However, cutting between the time the grass heads emerge and the bloom stage will give good results.

Alfalfa-grass mixtures should be cut between the time the grass heads emerge and the bloom stage. The first cutting of alfalfa in pure stands may be made before it blooms. Alfalfa should be cut when it begins to loose its lower leaves. Depending on weather conditions, it may not bloom until late spring.

Harvest small grains, other than rye, for silage when the grain is in the milk stage. Rye should be cut when the first heads are emerging. If you have a mixture of small grains, harvest when the dominant crop is at the correct stage of maturity.

When harvesting alfalfa-grass mixtures or excess pastures at the early stages of growth to take advantage of the high quality, it is desirable to wilt the cut forage for one to three hours depending on the moisture content of the crop and weather conditions before ensiling.

VEGETABLE GROWERS:
Here's a weed-killing "blanket" that can save $20 to $90 an acre on hand-weeding
We call it Vegadex,® and it works a new way. You only have to spray it on once—at planting time. Vegadex forms an invisible chemical blanket over your soil. Annual grasses—and even some tough weeds like purslane and henbit—sprout, touch the blanket, and die.
Your vegetables—like celery, lettuce and cole crops—grow through unharmed, with few or no weeds to fight them for sunlight, water and plant food. And, Vegadex won't "build up" in your soil.
Vegadex practically eliminates costly hand-weeding. Last year, many vegetable growers saved from $20 to $90 an acre on labor costs by spray-weeding with Vegadex.
Before you plant your next crop, stop by your Monsanto Farm Chemicals Dealer—he'll give you an informative new folder on Vegadex.

HERE'S HOW THE VEGADEX "BLANKET" can kill weeds for you! All celery shown here was planted at the same time. But notice the weed-free rows at left which were band-sprayed once with Vegadex at planting.
Make sure you're spraying right. Ask your Monsanto Dealer about the special offer on the Spray-Rater that accurately measures the amount of spray your rig applies per acre.
